Increased Education Funds Could Jolt Nixon's Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's shakily balanced budget, already teetering as a result of salary increases won by postal and other government workers, will be jolted this week by House demands for increased education spending.

An appropriations bill calling for a $319 million increase in Nixon's 1971 education budget will be voted on Tuesday and anywhere from $100 million to $300 million extra is likely to be added on the House floor.

With further increases possible when the bill goes to the Senate, the Democratic-controlled Congress is readying an election-year challenge to Nixon over the level of federal aid to education.

In the wake of the nation's first postal strike, Congress is on the verge of approving a 6 per cent pay hike for all mail workers, military personnel and most other government employes. This is expected to add about $1.2 billion this year to President Nixon's budget calling for expenditures of $197.9 billion. Some predict the added costs will boost Nixon's budget over the $200 billion mark for the first time in history.

Nixon Vetoed Increase

Nixon vetoed a $1 billion boost in education funds for the current fiscal year, but still was forced to accept a sizable increase. Supporters of higher spending are proceeding more cautiously this year and think a veto is unlikely.

The coalition of education organizations that has led the battle for additional money figures its battle has resulted in the Nixon administration and the House Appropriations Committee putting nearly $600 million more into school-aid programs than they intended.

Nixon increased his own 1971 education budget by $270 million three weeks ago to reflect some of the higher levels of the 1970 bill that he finally signed. And the Appropriations Committee, which is dominated by fiscal conservatives, added its $319 million on top of that in hopes of thwarting any higher increases.

Lobbyists At Work

At a meeting last Friday the education lobby decided to push for increases in at least three sections—library services, higher education and the impacted areas program, which provides funds for school districts heavily affected by children of federal employes.

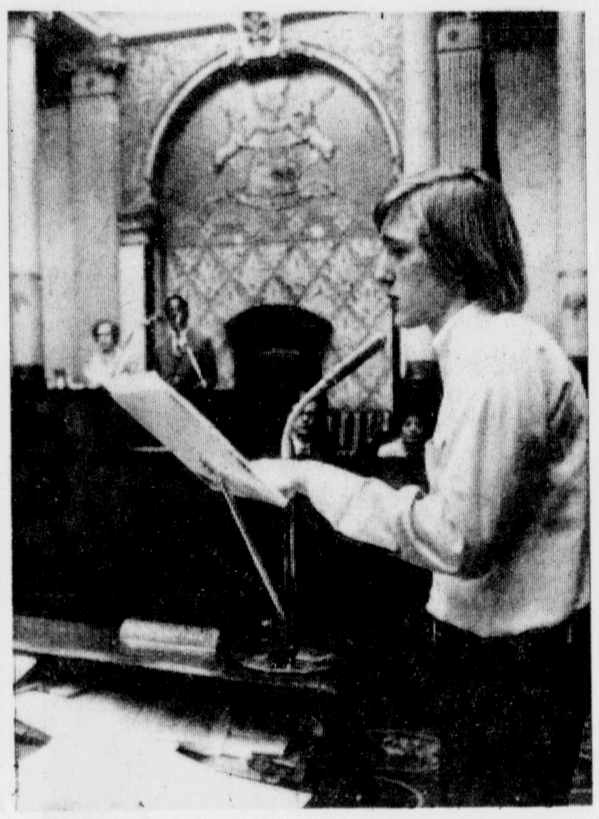

The specific amounts to be sought were not decided, but the biggest increase is certain to be in the impacted areas program, which the past several administrations have tried in vain to cut.

The committee bill provides only $425 million for the program—the amount Nixon has said he will spend if the program is reformed along lines he has recommended.

Success Doubtful

But the reform bill has little or no chance of success and an attempt to raise the $425 million to at least $520 million—the 1970 level—is practically guaranteed.

The education lobby also would like to provide more funds for student loans and grants, and to put something into the construction of college academic facilities above the zero funding provided by both the budget and the appropriations bill.

Protest Planned Against Using Tax Monies For War

WASHINGTON (AP) — While millions of Americans grumble quietly about paying income taxes, three peace groups are planning protests this week against using the tax money for war.

Start With "Fast"

Starting today with a fast, including a "nondinner" scheduled at Lafayette Park across from the White House, protest leaders say the three days before Wednesday's midnight deadline for filing tax returns will be filled with rallies, demonstrations and student strikes in more than 150 cities and on hundreds of college campuses.

The war protests were called by the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, the Vietnam Moratorium Committee and the Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

Rallies Planned

Protest leaders are planning rallies and demonstrations Wednesday to focus on the past and present use of tax money for war spending. They say they also want to show the relationship of the Vietnam war to inflation and social problems.

The taxpayer rallies in most cities, organizers said, would be held in front of or near Internal Revenue Service centers. They also plan "Boston Tea Party" demonstrations, the passing out of leaflets in shopping areas, and the circulation of petitions and antiwar literature.

Rallies are slated for such cities as Boston, New York, Baltimore, Newark, Knoxville, Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Houston and Dallas. But national organizers also claimed many smaller cities and towns would be having demonstrations.

Program Endorsed

The Vietnam Moratorium Committee says eight U.S. senators and 17 representatives have endorsed the taxpayer rallies. It also claimed endorsements from more than 300 student leaders.

The Student Mobilization Committee, which called a student strike for April 15, said it is unable to predict how many campuses it would hit, but one spokesman said "probably a couple of hundred." He said that for example the student governments of three Boston area colleges are supporting the strike.

Snow Warnings Up In Midwest

By The Associated Press

Stormy weather in every form struck the nation's midsectionarly today and heavy snow warnings were out in parts of Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Strong winds blew snow across the upper Mississippi Valley to the north and Central Plains. Thunderstorms with hail and gusty winds pounded the Midwest to the lower Mississippi Valley.

Stockmen's warnings were in effect for Dakotas as more of the heavy snow which fell Sunday was expected for southeast North Dakota, extreme east South Dakota and parts of west central and southwest Minnesota.

Four inches of additional snow fell early today at Aberdeen, S.D., making a total of a foot on the ground.

Several persons in the Decatur area of east central Illinois were injured Sunday when high winds overturned trailers and knocked down trees and power lines. Some of the injured were reported in serious condition.

Travelers warnings of high winds were issued today for Nebraska and Kansas.

Wind gusts to 67 miles per hour lashed Imperial in southwest Nebraska Sunday.

Meanwhile, fair weather prevailed over the East and the southern edge of the country. Skies over the West were partly cloudy and temperatures were mostly seasonal.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 18 at Rawlins and Evanston, Wyo., to 77 at Key West, Fla.

Art Theft

DETROIT (AP)—Two Picasso prints valued at $16,000 were stolen Sunday from an art exhibit at Temple Israel in Detroit.

The missing lithographs, entitled "Femme Au Chapeau" and "petit Dessinateur," were among several Picassos on display.

Cambodia Sites Attack Targets

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops made new attacks Sunday on two towns along Highway One near the South Vietnamese border, Radio Phnom Penh announced.

The broadcast reported an attack on Prasaut, the fourth in the past week, and another on Kompong Trabek, 35 miles to the west, which has been the scene of fighting in the last two days.

Military sources reported earlier that the Cambodian troops had withdrawn to a point just west of Prasaut after fighting Saturday night. The Viet Cong then were reported on three sides of the town but had not entered it.

The Cambodian government has concentrated most of its forces in the area in Svay Rieng, the provincial capital almost midway between Prasaut and Kompong Trabek on Highway One. Refugees also have been flooding into the town.

Radio Phnom Penh reported attacks in two other areas—west and northeast of Svay Rieng—where the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese for years have moved freely back and forth across the border.

The broadcast said one assault was made on an outpost at Snuol, in eastern Cambodia adjoining War Zone C in South Vietnam and 85 miles north of Saigon. Another attack was reported on a post on the west bank of the Mekong River in Kandal province near the Plain of Reeds.

The government radio said both these attacks were made "with the active participation of Vietnamese residents" but gave no other details.

Will Senators Feel Heat From Carswell Vote?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats Albert Gore of Tennessee and Ralph Yarborough of Texas may get the most heat because of their votes against G. Harrold Carswell, but other senators up for re-election this year could feel a warm breeze or two.

This early opinion comes from politicians in several key states and from the senators themselves in the wake of last Wednesday's 51-45 Senate rejection of President Nixon's second try at appointing a Southern judge to the Supreme Court.

"Only time can tell," Gore said Sunday when asked what impact his anti-Carswell vote will have on his effort to win another term.

But he said his decisions against Carswell, and against Clement F. Haynsworth last fall, "were very hurtful to me."

Texas politicians believe Yarborough's vote against Carswell definitely will affect his current primary race with Lloyd Bentsen, who supported the nomination.

"Sen. Yarborough should vote for Texas at least once in a while," Bentsen said after Carswell was rejected. "The defeat was a combination of anti-South, ultra-liberal forces that think the Supreme Court is a place to write laws rather than interpret them."

The Democratic primary winner probably will face another Carswell supporter in the general election, Rep. George Bush, a Houston Republican.

In Tennessee, Gore is expected to win the Aug. 6 Democratic primary and most likely will face Rep. William E. Brock in November.

Astronauts Prepare For Moon Landing

Rocket Ready For Explosive Lunar Crash

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Apollo 13's astronauts today sped quietly and flawlessly toward a Tuesday rendezvous with the moon while ground controllers tracked a rocket stage headed for an explosive impact on the lunar surface.

James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr. retired early today for 10 hours rest. Mission Control planned to let them sleep past noon.

Lovell Sleeps Well

Medics reported that Lovell, the only one of the three wired for medical monitoring, slept soundly.

Trailing about 900 miles behind Apollo 13 was the third stage of the Saturn 5 rocket that hoisted the astronauts away from planet earth Saturday.

Signals from the ground shifted the 61-foot stage to a collision course with the moon. Mission Control said tracking data today shows it will strike the surface about 8:10 p.m. (EST) Tuesday about 105 miles west of a seismometer left on the moon by the Apollo 12 astronauts in November.

Head For Moon Orbit

That is about half an hour after Apollo 13 is to fire into moon orbit. The astronauts won't see the impact because they will be on the far side of the moon.

Seismic experts estimate the 15-ton stage will smash with a force equal to 11 tons of TNT, and that it will gouge a crater 100-120 feet deep. The resulting tremors, recorded by the seismometer, should tell scientists

Guild Sets Strike Vs. New York Post

NEW YORK (AP) — The Newspaper Guild has broken off talks with the New York Post and called a strike for 6 a.m. Tuesday.

Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the New York guild, announced the strike deadline Sunday evening after a negotiating session he described as unfruitful.

He said he had advised federal mediator A. A. Desser: "It would be unadvisable to call us into another meeting until management wants to make the concessions they should have made tonight in order to avoid a strike."

In a statement for the Post, chief negotiator Sidney Orenstein said: "The Post regrets that the guild has seen fit to set a strike date—less than 28 hours away—in the midst of negotiations which we considered fruitful.

Gov. Kirk Ends Holdout, Eyes Federal Help

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk, after defying a federal judge for a week, has ended his personal rule of the Manatee County schools. He says the solution to his integration battle lies with the courts.

Kirk's move Sunday cleared the way for court-ordered racial balancing of 17,000 pupils in the county's schools. It also apparently purged him of contempt of a federal court and the threat of a $10,000 fine a day until he stopped blocking desegregation by busing.

The governor said he was ending his control of schools in Manatee, a Gulf Coast county just south of Tampa, because the U.S. Justice Department had agreed to help him seek modification of the plan that requires busing of an additional 2,600 pupils.

In Washington a Justice Department spokesman said the department had agreed only to seek more study of the desegregation plan ordered by U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Krentzman in Tampa.

Income Tax Far Away From Swigert's Mind

As a bachelor earning $20,385 a year the reason might have been just a delay in paying the large chunk of money due and, anyway, he was busy helping friends prepare for a long trip. April 15, after all, was still several days away.

But at the last minute something happened to make one friend miss the trip and Swigert went instead.

He went so fast, that not only did the income tax slip his mind, he also forgot to take a card that outlined some very important plans for the trip.

Then, on Sunday, came the revelation. It was akin to the situation of many a traveler who remembers, halfway to the seashore, that he left his wallet on the kitchen table.

By this time he was halfway to the moon on Apollo 13.

Somewhat sheepishly, Swigert asked if he could have some flight plan changes read up to him.

"I think that I forgot and left that card back during the suiting," he said. "I left it in the suit room."

Later, Swigert and the other two astronauts were having the day's news read to them when came an item that began: "Today's favorite pastime across the U.S. . . ."

Capsule communicator Joseph Kerwin reading the item, stopped and said: "Oh, oh, have you guys filed your income tax yet?"

It was one of those light remarks that always pass between ground and spacecraft to break the monotony of the interminable numbers that are passed verbally back and forth.

"How do I apply for an extension?" said Swigert, suddenly alert. There was a lot of laughter.

"Hey listen," said Swigert, "that's not funny. Things kinda happened real fast down there and I do need an extension. I didn't get mine filed."

More laughter.

"I'm really serious," came the voice from space. "I may be spending time in another quarantine besides the one they are planning for me."

Now the ground was soothing. It'd be taken care of. There was some more banter about having an agent meeting the crew on the recovery carrier in the Pacific on splashdown, before the quarantine that ends May 8.

Later Swigert was told about an Internal Revenue Service regulation that provides an automatic extension for anyone out of the country.

"That's good news," said Swigert. "I guess I qualify."

Secret Notes Part Of SALT Mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bearing secret instructions from President Nixon, U.S. negotiators set out today for a crucial round of talks with the Soviets on curbing the arms race between the two superpowers.

The six-man team led by U.S. disarmament chief Gerard South is stopping first at Brussels to brief the NATO allies Tuesday on the forthcoming U.S.-Soviet Strategic Arms Limitation Talks—SALT.

Then Thursday, at Vienna, the U.S. envoys sit down with their Soviet opposites to begin tough bargaining that is expected to go on for months. The two sides held a preliminary discussions session at Helsinki last fall.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union are moving cautiously on SALT, which involves the basic nuclear weapons power of both nations. If an agreement is reached, it will be a landmark of the atomic age.

Nixon met with the U.S. negotiators over the weekend, gave them final instructions and wished them well.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler gave no hint of what the instructions are. Reporting on the 50-minute meeting at the White House, he said only that "the delegation is going to Vienna with a constructive attitude."

Other sources said they expect the United States will offer a specific missile curb proposal at Vienna a few days after the April 16 opening. They doubted the proposal would be for a general missile freeze at the outset, though they left open this possibility later on.

Hijacked Vessel Arrives In Port

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — Columbia Eagle, the U.S. munitions ship held three weeks in Cambodian waters after two crewmen hijacked it, arrived at the U.S. Navy's Subic Bay base today.

The freighter prepared to unload her 1,750-ton cargo of bombs and ammunition, which she was carrying to U.S. forces in Thailand when the hijackers seized the ship March 16.

Chicago Scene Of Truck Strike

By The Associated Press

About 32,000 truck drivers today struck an estimated 1,300 Chicago area trucking firms that failed to reach agreement over the weekend with trucking unions, and drivers from North Carolina to California remained off their jobs.

Five Chicago trucking associations which refused to sign contracts with either the Teamsters or the independent Chicago Truck Drivers Union locked out another 35,000 drivers and dockmen.

The more than 1,000 companies which signed contracts agreed to the unions' demands for a $1.65 an hour wage boost over three years. The national Teamsters Union leadership and the country's carriers already have settled for a $1.10 increase.

The national membership, which still must vote on the offer, is closely watching the development in Chicago and would be reluctant to settle for anything less than what the Chicago drivers get.

Teamsters in Colorado, Wyoming and Milwaukee already had voted to reject the national contract offer.

Arena Board Studying Total Sports Complex

The Community Indoor Ice Arena Corp. said today that "the feasibility of a community sports complex" is being investigated from several standpoints.

Ronald F. DeVos, treasurer of the corporation, responded to an editorial in Saturday's Escanaba Daily Press which suggested that perhaps the corporation should investigate the feasibility of including a swimming pool in planning for an ice arena.

"Contrary to the editorial in last Saturday's Press, an arena-pool sports complex has been given a great deal of thought, all positive thought," DeVos said.

"The Arena Board is thinking big, bigger than we ever believed we could think. Let the community be assuered that if there is any way on earth to have a sports complex, we'll have it."

Ball Is Rolling

DeVos said the ball "has been rolling since the first week after the Arena Telethon.

"The overwhelming response of the public showed the Arena Board of Directors that the community was whole-heatedly behind the project we first planned, an ice arena, and our thinking immediately broadened to bigger and better things.

"Since then we have been quitely but actively investigating the feasibility of a community sports complex from several standpoints and we are presently gathering facts and figures to determine our future course.

Prospects, Not Promises

"We haven't talked too publically about our investigation because we didn't want to disappoint the community if we got too confident of having a sports complex only to find that money was not available," DeVos said.

"We still don't want to have anyone misunderstand our position for one moment. We have prospects, but not promises. The sports complex is a possibility at this time and not a probability as yet."

The Daily Press suggested editorially that there is a need in the community for an indoor swimming pool and urged that the Community Indoor Ice Arena Corp. explore the possibility of adding a swimming pool to the arena project.

The Press pointed out that while the community response to the Ice Arena Telethon was tremendous that some form of government financing may be necessary to build an arena and that government money "might be more readily available for a project with greater recreational potential."

Plan Observance Of Library Week

Launched in the Spring of 1958, National Library Week was started to provide interest among the large number of Americans who have never read a book.

This was the first concerted nationwide effort to focus public attention on reading as a source of personal fulfillment, on the importance of literacy in our national progress, and on the libraries which, used fully and supported properly, can make reading accessible to everybody, reports Mrs. Lillian Brookes, librarian.

The Escanaba Public Library will join other libraries of the nation in observing National Library Week April 12-18, she said.

Slogan for the observance is "Reading is for Everybody." Many new fiction and non-fiction books are shelved in a special section. In honor of William Shakespeare, who had a birthday in April, there is a display of books relative to his life and writings.

An art exhibit featuring portraits of local people by Escanaba artists will be a highlight of the week's events. A collection of art reproductions is available for loan to library patrons. There will be a "Music Night" every evening featuring records from the library's music department.

Children are invited to attend a half-hour "Book Fest" on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday afternoons from 4-4:30 in the Children's Room. Visitors will be given book marks as souvenirs.

A booklet entitled "Growing Up With Books" listing 300 books which every child should have a chance to enjoy is available, she reported.

Mackinac College Put Up For Sale

MACKINAC ISLAND — Mackinac College, which is closing down in June after the commencement exercises for its first senior class, is up for sale.

The $13 million campus, much of it newly built, has been put on the block for $7.5 million.

An initial down payment of $2 million will be accepted by the Board of Trustees, according to Robert E. Reilly of Previews, Inc., Chicago, international real estate marketing firm which is handling the sale.

The financial difficulties of the college, Reilly said, stem from the heavy expenses of a huge building program during the last two years, a smaller enrollment than proved practicable, and the lack of a supporting alumni group for the new institution.

Police Search For Walkaways

MARQUETTE — State Police and other law enforcement agencies throughout the Upper Peninsula are on the lookout for a pair of trusties who walked away from the Marquette State Prison facilities.

The two fugitives, although they left from different places at different times, are believed by police and prison officials to be together. Both are white.

The two are:

Paul David Heath, 27, sentenced from Iron County in November, 1969, to a term of 3-15 years on a charge of breaking and entering, left the prison dairy farm at about 8:30 p.m.

Charles Seifert, 28, who was sentenced in Clinton County to a 5-20 year term for armed robbery and received at the prison here last Dec. 17, left the outside dormitory at about 9 p.m.

Heath, who was wearing brown denim clothing, is described at 5 feet, 8½ inches tall, weighing 178 pounds, and has blue eyes, blond hair and fair complexion. He has a small cut scar at the corner of his right eye and a small cut scar behind the point of his chin.

Seifert, dressed in blue denim pants and a white sweatshirt, is 5 feet, 9 inches tall and weighs 150 pounds. He has brown eyes, dark brown hair and a small blue marking on the inner left cheek.

In Service

Navy Airman Kenneth A. Winters, 306 N. 18th St., Escanaba, is on standby aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Iwo Jima in the Atlantic Ocean as part of the Apollo 13 recovery force.

Seaman Apprentice Marshall A. Joncas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Joncas of 205 Ogden Ave., graduated from the two-month Naval Submarine School at Groton, Conn. This school trains more than 20,000 students annually.

POLLUTION DETECTOR — With a contaminated atmosphere as a background, Lydia Schmitt displays a new RCA electronic device — a "Quantacon" tube — that is expected to play an important role against air and water pollution. It is a super-sensitive light detector and will be the heart of future electronic instruments for measuring contaminants in the air, rivers, lakes and streams. The tube also may be used in nuclear, biological and astronomical research.

Democrats Start Petition Drive For Nino Green

MACKINAW CITY — A petition drive to have Nino Green's name placed on the Aug. 4 primary ballot as a candidate for Congress from the 11th District of Michigan was kicked off Saturday at a meeting of the 11th District Democratic Party organization.

Green, of Gladstone, called for a campaign which will "demonstrate that Americans want more effective representation in Washington."

Philip E. Ruppe of Houghton, a Republican, is presently serving his second term as 11th District congressman.

"The average American is neither flattered nor served by those who urge him to remain silent and accept mediocrity in high public office," Green said.

"Americans must demand nothing less than excellence in government. We have heard from the far right and we have heard from the far left. We have done enough listening. It is time to be involved, and for the majority of Americans to be heard."

Attorney Francis Brouilette was elected to the office of Treasurer of the district organization. Brouillette, who is Dickinson County Prosecuting Attorney and resides in Iron Mountain, has been active in the Democratic Party both in Dickinson County and the 11th District, and served as a delegate to the 1968 National Convention. He replaces Green, who resigned in order to concentrate his efforts on the Congressional campaign.

'Know Your Country' Book Now On Sale

The League of Women Voters of Escanaba has completed its study of county government and has published the information in a booklet entitled "Know Your County, Delta County, Michigan."

Its 50 pages contain a wide variety of information on all aspects of government, with many pictures and charts.

It was compiled by Mrs. Louis Gregory and Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder who served as editor and co-editor respectively. Many other League members helped with the preparation.

The "Know Your County" booklet includes information on the history of the county; its economic, physical, and cultural characteristics; all aspects of Delta County government including its structure and function, party organization, elections, finance, law enforcement and courts, social services, health services, and highways; township government; libraries; and educational facilities.

In addition to the information on Delta County, there is pertinent information about Escanaba and Gladstone. Maps of streets and voting precincts are included for each community.

Information of special interest often difficult to find includes a formula for computing local taxes, a chart listing facts about Delta County public school districts with up-to-date statistics, and a map showing the various townships and school districts located geographically.

In order to become fully recognized, each League must make a thorough study of its local government. From time to time it must revise and update it. In previous editions the Escanaba League made a study of Escanaba only. In this complete revision it broadened its study io include Delta County.

This booklet is available for $i from any League member or from Mrs. Mosenfelder, 786-1430.

Search For Lost Plane Called Off

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — U.S. Military authorities Sunday called off search operations for 11 persons — including one from Michigan — aboard a C130 Air Force transport plane that crashed into the Pacific off Okinawa Friday.

Authorities said the men, all of whom were believed killed in the crash included Capt. Reynold Dryden, pilot, Benton Harbor, Mich.

The plane was reported to have crashed into the sea about 20 miles southeast of the main Okinawa island shortly after taking off from a U.S. air base on a routine training flight.

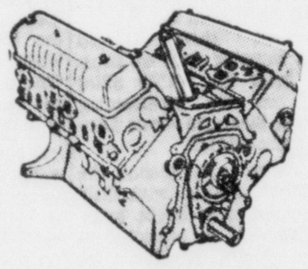

Authorities said an investigation was started to determine the cause of the accident.

Money Bill

LANSING (AP) — A bill giving Grand Valley State College greater flexibility in repayment of borrowed funds has been signed into law by Gov. William Milliken. The bill gives the college board of control authority to use federral funds to repay borrowings. Central, Eastern, Northern and Western Michigan Universities already have this authority.

The average investment per U.S. farm doubled between 1950 and 1958 and more than doubled between 1958 and 1968.

To A Clean County

Students of Escanaba have taken a refreshing approach to the environmental problems of the nation.

Although probably possessed with the same sense of indignity that student environmental and ecological groups advance about the state of the earth, the Escanaba Area Student Council has lifted itself above the mere protest stage. In the Council's "Mother Earth" program which will take many directions during the next month, students have pledged not only to learn about environmental problems but to try to do something about them.

Saturday, April 18, students will participate in class competition to cleanup the high school campus and Saturday, April 25, service clubs, student councils and other student volunteers from both Escanaba and Holy Name will join in a cleanup of Ludington Park, removing the debris which accumulated over a long winter of snowmobiling and snow dumping.

The projects are of the kind that student manpower can tackle successfully with maximum result. They also demonstrate a seriousness of purpose not evident in the shouting and banner waving that goes on in many student movements where too often energy is directed at getting someone else to do all the work.

It's easy enough to point a finger at a problem, but it takes something more to try to do something about it.

Fredric Jurmu, president of the Student Council at Escanaba Area High School, said the "Mother Earth" program which is timed to overlap the nation-wide "Earth Day" on April 22 has two basic purposes: to organize constructive efforts to clean up the environment and to focus public attention on environmental quality legisislation.

Both purposes are noteworthy and deserve commendation as well as further consideration in the community.

Why not an area-wide cleanup day, for example?

There are many service clubs in Delta County and each has its own specific service programs, but a cleanup-day would be something where all of the membership of all of the clubs could get involved and it would mean more than simply writing a check to a worthy organization.

A little work never hurt anybody, so the saying goes.

Maybe the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air which has directed its prime efforts at atmospheric quality in the county also would wish to get involved.

The students have the jump on the rest of the county with cleanup programs already scheduled for April 18 and April 25 and it probably wouldn't be possible to generate a total county effort on such short notice. But the rest of the spring and summer is waiting.

Is anybody listening?

A 15-year-old St. Paul youth has been arrested in connection with the March 4 shooting death of a former Kingsford youth. Daniel Joseph Johnson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Johnson of St. Paul, was killed only a few blocks from his home after getting off a bus. The Johnsons lived in Kingsford before moving to St. Paul five years ago. St. Paul police said the 15-year-old charged in the shooting was a "good friend" of the Johnson youth. His case is being handled in juvenile court.

An oil spill in Falls River in L'Anse has produced minor damage, said Bernie Yikanen of the Department of Natural Resources. He reported that the spill was approximately from 300 to 500 gallons of fuel oil flushed into the drains at the Spur Station in L'Anse, when a plastic hose broke as the oil was being transferred to tanks. The department has watched the drainage into the river but there was only minor damage. Yikanen said that seepage was barely visible in the river after the first flow of oil. However, some fishermen claim there has been a fish kill and that those fish caught in the area tasted of fuel oil.

Citizen Actions Allowed Under Environment Bill

By LARRY KURZ
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP) — The state may sue someone because of cyanide leakage at Ludington.

Canadian and Michigan officials are up in arms over mercury contamination in fish.

Private citizens—unable now to do much about either problem—could swing their weight if a bill in the Michigan Legislature became law.

No longer would they first have to show personal loss and then settle for the decisions of local or state officialdom.

The issue would be the "public trust" in the environment.

The far-reaching proposal, setting a specific yet all-embracing standard for environmental equality, would make anyone fair game for a suit. Not even the state itself would be immune. Suits could be brought by anyone—individual, group, agency or association.

Governor Supports Bill

The bill, known as the Environmental Protection Act of 1970, has won the endorsement of Gov. William Milliken and a House committee. It comes up for debate Wednesday.

However, it has a long way to go. And the Michian Chamber of Commerce, for one, wants changes to clarify terms and protect defendants from wrongful actions.

As the bill now stands, it puts the final squarely in the hands of the courts, to the point—if necessary—of upsetting standards of state agencies.

The bill is substantially the work of University of Michigan law professor Joseph Sax, although some changes were made by Joseph Thibodeau, Milliken's legal advisor.

Patchwork Of Laws

Sax's arguments go something like this:

Michian has a patchwork of environmental laws, some good —some bad. There is no broad standard for protection of natural resources.

Agencies responsible for resource protection do not always follow through on complaints. Neither do local authorities. But courts have been reluctant to intrude into the realm of administrative agencies, Sax says.

The result has been a dead end for many pollution complaints.

But under the Environmental Protection Bill, a complaint need not die in an agency.

A case might develop this way:

A suit is filed in circuit court. Noting that the matter has not been decided by an administrative agency concerned with the issue, the court refers the case to the agency. After reviewing the matter, the agency upholds the industry accused. The complainant presses his case with the circuit judge. A review is made of whether the agency gave adequate consideration to protection of natural resources from "unreasonable" pollution or damage. The end result of the proceedings might be victory for the complainants and upgrading of an agency's standards.

Anyone May File

Under the bill, anyone—or any group—may file a suit "for the protection of the public trust in the air, water and other natural resources of the state from unrasonable pollution, impairment or destruction."

The key point to be considered by the courts would be whether the defendant has, or is likely to "unreasonably pollute, impair or destroy the public trust in the air, water or other natural resources."

The Chamber of Commerce argues ths is too vague. It says "other natural resources" should be defined more sharply.

For example, a proposed new development might be attacked on many points falling under such a term. This, the chamber says, might discourage industry.

When hearings were held on the original bill, opponents contended such a law might bring a flood of frivolous suits.

Injunction Possible

Supporters contend courts will not issue wholesale injunctions, but will wait, instead, until administrative remedies have been exhausted. However, courts could issue temporary injunctions pending the outcome of an agency's review.

The chamber dislikes this also, feeling that a firm should not face such an injunction as long as it is abiding by the standards of a state agency. The agency standards should be changed first, the chamber says.

The burden of proof in any suit would be on the accuser, and the defendant would have the additional recourse to an "affirmative defense." This means he may defend himself on grounds that he has no feasible alternative and that his action is "consistent with" promotion of public health, safety and welfare. In the original bill, the phrase was "required by." Thibodeau changed it.

Similiar U.S. Bill

Thibodeau says that in a similar bill now before the U.S. Senate Commerce Committee, there is a provision for a security deposit to protect a defendant in the event he is wrongfully enjoined. The chamber favors such a provision in the Michigan bill.

Whatever the outcome of the proposal, it will not simply be a matter of finding a sympathetic judge to shut down an industry.

Anyone who wants to file a suit will have to have a good case and be ready to pursue it.

Former President Of SDS Grows Up

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Carl Oglesby was president of the Students for a Democratic Society in 1965-66, when there was at least a vestige of belief among the members of his organization in the virtue of setting differences by arguments, votes, and other non-violent means.

He was not an exactly scholarly young man, but he did not make a habit of wearing distorting lenses all the time. The piece he wrote on his experiences in Cuba for Life Magazine had fresh and vivid passages, even though it betrayed a rather blissful ignorance of what had happened in Cuba prior to 1959. (Cuba was not badly off economically, and Batista was on his way out anyway.)

Altogether, Carl Oglesby impressed one as being young, inexperienced, misinformed but still educable.

Now he is proving that nobody, not even a president of SDS, need remain anchored to ideology forever. Oglesby has looked at what has been done by Mark Rudd, Bernardine Dohrn, and the other SDS-ers who compose the Weatherman faction of the Revolutionary Youth Movement, and has been properly horrified at what he sees.

He has been talking to college groups and, though he still believes in "dialectical materialism," a Marxist concept, he thinks that the Weathermen's analysis of the world revolution is nothing more nor less than "a lie." The Weathermen, he told a group of Stanford University students, have been guilty of "leaping upon the barricades in a fantastically premature engagement" with our capitalistic society, and the result is that "lives are being squandered."

So far as the United States is concerned, Oglesby is now keeping a relatively clear head.

"The lid," he says, "is not about to come off." Unlike a later breed of SDS-ers, Oglesby has tumbled to the fact that the working classes in America have, save for the "hard core" of slum dwellers who are only intermittently employed, become quite bourgeois in their tastes. They are the ones who throng to the marinas on weekends to enjoy themselves with small boats. They like their beer in front of the TV set on Sunday afternoons, when swinger Joe Namath of the New York Jets is trying to connect with a long one to Don Maynard.

They want comfort, security, and a wage that will keep up with the newer standards of living, and they are willing to strike for these things without wanting to turn the strike into a revolution. They expect to get comfortable strike benefits when they are not working.

It is the perception of things-as-they-are in America that now has Carl Oglesby saying that "the U.S. is one big master class, with a lot of little substratas, not a society structured by classes." Richard Nixon could not have said it better, nor Barry Goldwater, for that matter.

Oglesby is not quite so perceptive, however, when he looks at the outer world. He says "if the Third World is the proletariat, then the war of the classes takes place on a global scale."

"Well, there are "proletarian" nations in the sense that some are poorer in material substance than others. But this does not mean that the Third World, taken as a whole, has any more desire to defeat "capitalism" than the average member of an American union.

Save for Cuba and North Vietnam and a few other countries (Brazzaville Congo may be one) the "Third World" governments have been trying to establish nation-states which do, indeed, make use of socialistic measures yet, at the same time, try to encourage peasants and small people in general to improve their own standards of living on a capitalistic basis.

"Arab socialism," for example, is not Marxian; Kenya, under Jomo Kenyatta, has a mixed economy; the South Americans have not plowed under their all-too-tiny middle classes. The Mexican Revolution, which has encouraged the growth of the middle class, is still far more influential among Latin Americans than anything introduced into the hemisphere by Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Oglesby, as it turns out, does not like the Bolsheviks any better than he likes the bourgeoisie. He finds great similarity between worship of the Gross National Product and deification of the Five-Year Plan.

"There's a better way to live," he says.

And so there is. But in a country like the United States, if a person wants to live on less and enjoy it more, he is free to do so.

"Revolutions" don't premit that luxury; everyone is expected to work and work and work. When Oglesby gets wise to this fact he will have completed his education.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 NT	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	2 NT	Pass	4 ♥

Opening lead—jack of diamonds.

This deal occurred in the Brazil-Argentina match during the 1968 South American Championships.

At the first table, with Brazil North-South, the bidding went as shown. Two hearts was forcing and two notrump showed good heart support as well as 17 or 18 high-card points. West led a diamond and South made four for a score of 420 points.

This was an exceptionally fine result for Brazil. The Argentine East-West pair had never entered the bidding although six diamonds was absolutely ice-cold! Undoubtedly East should have done something over North's notrump bid — probably a double is best — but he adopted an overly-cautious attitude by passing.

At the second table, with Argentina now North-South, the bidding was much more spirited. It went:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 NT	Dble	2 ♣
3 ♦	Pass	4 ♣	4 ♥
5 ♣	Dble	5 NT	Pass
6 ♦	Dble

The Brazilian East-West pair (Attaguile and Chagas) not only entered the bidding but tried to get to a grand slam! East's four clubs was an asking bid in clubs and West's five club response (over South's four hearts) showed first round control of clubs.

Intrigued by this response, which guaranteed the ace or a void of clubs, East bid five notrump. This was the grand slam force and requested West to jump to seven diamonds with two of the three top trump honors.

West could not oblige and signed off with six diamonds. Perhaps North should not have doubled, but he simply could not believe his hand would take only one trick on defense. So Brazil racked up another 1,540 points for a net gain of 1,960 points — and this huge swing eventually brought them the championship.

Ann Landers

Have People Near, 'Trip Makers' Told

Dear Ann Landers: My friend and I are both 17. We have been experimenting with pills and we need some advice. We want to get high but we don't want to do anything crazy like kill ourselves. A few of our pals have hit bummers so we know overdoses can be dangerous.

What's the limit on dexedrine? What about benzedrine? Is it O.K. to mix them? What about pills and gin? Would beer be better? Is seconal stronger than nembutol?? We don't believe in messing around with needles. We know heroin is wild and can kill a person if it goes to the heart. What we need is information. And don't advise us to stop because we won't stop until we've had some groovy trips. Just answer our questions and skip the sermon. Thanks. — Cleveland Deuces

Dear C.D.: I wish I could answer your questions but I can't because I don't know your threshold of tolerance, which depends on many factors such as the condition of your general health, your nervious system, and your level of emotional stability. Nor do I know the strength of the pills you describe. Are they 50 milligrams, 100 or 200?

Unfortunately a great many people don't know the answers to these questions themselves, as evidenced by the number of bummers and unintentional suicides.

If you insist on "experimenting" I hope you'll have one person present who will stay straight. Someone in the crowd should be on hand to call a doctor or an ambulance or a coroner, whichever is needed.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: I am better qualified than you, Ann Landers, to answer the Modesto wife whose husband breaks things during fits of temper. Your husband doesn't behave that way and mine does, so please step aside and let an authority speak.

When Dan and I were going together he used to behave like Mr. Modesto. Almost every piece of furniture in his apartment had been broken during one of his angry spells. I thought when he owned his home he'd take pride in his possessions and things would be different.

I was wrong. Already he has knocked fist holes through two doors. The bottom partition of three others have been kicked through. I must hang pictures in the craziest places to cover up his 'temper spots." A few months ago the baby wouldn't stop crying so he put her on the sofa and broke up her crib.

I am thankful Dan has never hit me but it's depressing to see busted furniture all over the place. Time never cured anything, Ann, so please don't give Mrs. Modesto or anyone else false hope. — Temper's Wife

Dear Wife: I told Mrs. Modesto her husband was responding to anger in an infantile manner and if he didn't outgrow it by the time he married, he needed professional help. The same advice can be applied to your little boy. And you can tell him I said so.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: Please wire collect just "yes" or "no." Did that letter signed Ten Years A Mistress come from Rochester, New York? My husband has been acting funny since 1960 and it all figures. Thanks a lot, Mom. — Jigsaw Judy

Dear Judy: No, the letter you inquired about did not come from Rochester, N. Y. And I am not your mother.

Black Panther Poll To Be Aired On TV

By JERRY BUCK

NEW YORK (AP) — The Black Panthers are viewed favorably by 37 per cent of the blacks surveyed in five cities in a poll taken for ABC News.

By contrast, 83 per cent were favorable toward the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Panthers were regarded unfavorably by 29.7 per cent, and the remainder expressed no opinion or said they had not heard of the organization.

Results of the poll will be aired tonight on the ABC News "Now" series at 10:30 p.m. EST. In addition, whites and blacks will express clashing points of view about the Panthers.

Edward P. Morgan is host and Tim Knight is writer, director and producer.

ABC commissioned Market Dynamics, Inc., of Princeton, N.J., to survey 494 blacks in Baltimore, Birmingham, Detroit, New York and San Francisco. The interviews were conducted by trained black interviewers from March 2 to 18.

Among the points revealed by the survey:

—Almost two-thirds believed that blacks are being treated unfairly in education, housing and jobs.

—Slightly under 20 per cent expect progress in the next five years through nonviolent action. About 12 per cent believe a great deal of progress will be made through violence.

—Eighty per cent of the black community believes that the Panthers are persecuted by police and government. A little more than one out of three said the average black is afraid of the Panthers.

—The Panthers are thought to be an inspiration to young blacks by about seven out of 10 people interviewed.

Blacks who like the Panthers said it was mainly for two reasons, they were willing to fight and die for the cause and they give free food and have a breakfast program for children.

Blacks unfavorable to the Panthers made references to violence, disliked their ways and thought riots hurt the black cause.

Among cities, the Panthers were most favored in San Francisco and least in Birmingham. Among age groups, young people most favored the Panthers. The most unfavorable were the women.

James Garner, who gained fame as television's Bret Maverick in 1957, will return to the air with a new one-hour series for NBC in the 1971-72 season.

Since he left the tongue-in-cheek "Maverick" series on ABC in 1962, Garner has starred in a series of movies, including "Support Your Local Sheriff," "The Children's Hour," "The Great Escape" and "Grand Prix."

The three networks have been bidding for Garner. Credit for his signing with NBC is given to Mort Werner, programming vice president who was at ABC at the time of "Maverick."

Foresters Discuss Trend:

Public Interest Grows In Forest Management

BY JEAN WORTH
Of Panax Newspapers

The public is exercising new demands upon the forests of Michigan, even where it doesn't own them.

Speakers on both the government and private sides of discussion at the meeting of the Upper Peninsula Chapter, American Society of Foresters at the State Office Building in Escanaba last Friday spoke of this trend.

It is part of an awakened public interest in the environment, which, in the Upper Peninsula has almost 90 per cent of its ground area forested. It is also part of the growing inclination of metropolitan areas to preserve for their playground—free from the industrialization which has made some big city areas unattractive to them — the forested areas of the Northern Great Lakes States.

Impact Of Mill

Ray Pfeifer, timber resource development officer for the Forestry Division, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Lansing, addressed the foresters on the impact which the Escanaba Paper Co. pulp mill will have on the Upper Peninsula's pulpwood industry. The allowable cut (mature timber ready for harvest) in the Upper Peninsula's forests, he said, could be increased if markets for the wood cut were available.

"We can log more and stimulate the growth of the forest," said Pfeifer "and we can create a good or a bad public reaction."

The problem is one of public understanding of what is good for the forests and for the wildlife in them, for the watersheds that they influence, etc. The professional forester today is aware that the forest must serve esthetic and recreational ends as well as the need for timber, Pfeifer indicated, but, increasingly, he is apt to run into conflict in his forest management plans with the ultra ardent conservationists who don't want him to cut any trees.

Sylvania Discussed

"I hope," said Pfeifer of plans to manage Mead's Escanaba Paper Co. wood procurement and the other industrial timber supply in the U.P. from state and federal forests and private woodlands "that it is not like Sylvania."

His reference was to the Sylvania Tract of the Ottawa National Forest in the western U.P. where the U.S. Department of Agriculture bought for more than $5 million from the Fisher Estate a woodland barony of 18,000 acres as a recreational addition to the Ottawa Forest. The stand of timber was overmature and deteriorating and the federal foresters called for bids on an improvement cutting which would help regenerate the forest.

Cutting Fought

Kimebrly Clark Corp. got the contract, but when it started its cutting a Save Sylvania group fought the work all the way to the top of KC's administration. Officials of the big papermaking firm held hearings on the issue which dramatized the developing conflict between conservationists and esthetes who don't want trees cut. The foresters say that a forest is a living thing and that all living things die and that mature trees in commercial forests (not museum woods designated as "wilderness") should be cut at maturity for the good of the woods themselves and for the good of the people who use them for receration.

When Dr. Gene Hesterberg, head of the School of Forestry at Michigan Technological University at Houghton and retiring head of the U.P. Chapter of SAF, suggested that representatives of groups interested in environment and forestry be invited to its meetings, C. A. Samuelson, manager of Lake States woodlands for Kimberly Clark, Norway, offered strong endorsement of the invitation.

Deal With People

"We foresters," said Samuelson "are now dealing with people who think that they know more about managing a forest then we do. They challenge us. They say 'You know silviculture (cultivation of forest trees) but you don't know people!' "

Samuelson said "We'll have to do our homework, and that will be good."

James Hensel of Wausau, Wis., forest engineer for the American Pulpwood Association, said "To some people paper mills mean chainsaws roaring in the forests and they object to it. But we are geared to the jet age. We have motorboats and motorcycles and they are part of our environment and so is the chainsaw. We are not going back to the bucksaw.

Harvest Like Farmers

"We are going to cut trees like farmers cut their crops, when they are prime. I don't think a papermill is any worse than any other industry. Our United States wood cut is the highest priced in the world and our fixed costs (of wood harvest) are going up. From 30 to 50 per cent of the cost of finishde paper is wood, and the cost of moving it from the stump to the roadside is the most costly process of all."

Hensel said that the logging industry is employing three different logging system in the U.P. — shortwood (the method most used in the Lake States) longwood and tree length logging and that the industry currently is in a period of mechanization that has mill men, equipment manufacturers and woodsmen all frustrated.

"We want wood put into the mill untouched by human hands," said Hensel "and we're sure a long ways from it. The human input has got to be replaced by mehanical equipment, but the prospet is that we will not wind up with a handful of men in the woods because we need maintainence men and others. The total labor force doesn't decrease a great deal with mechanization of logging."

Hensel said that the interparty operation may be coming to end the present trucking of wood to distant mills instead of to those nearest to the cutting, a needless expense which has been apparent to the industry for years, but one which it has not been able to correct with a competitive system of wood procurement.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

Tech Launches Fund Campaign

HOUGHTON — Seven local firms have decided to create an advance gift fund of $100,000 for Michigan Technological University and have already gained $70,000 of that sum, according to Russell F. Hoyer, co-chairman of the Upper Great Lakes Division of the Four Million Fund for the university.

Hoyer is also president of the Upper Peninsula Power Co. and a member of the Michigan Tech Board of Control.

He made the announcement at a kick-off banquet at Houghton held by the Four Million Fund attended by over 200 alumni and friends of the university.

Dr. Raymond L. Smith, president of the University, poined to the $1.8 million "student protest" against recreational deficiencies that launched the ice arena portion of the student development complex for which the Four Million Fund is also providing funds. The students earlier approved a quarterly fee to provide the sum.

Smith noted that this is the first of a series of meetings in the immediate area and part of a world-wide drive to gain the $4 million which also will be used for academic and cultural facets of the university.

John M. Haivala, general manager of White Pine Mine and chairman of the western Upper Peninsula district of the fund, said the Four Million Fund is by far the largest single campaign in the history of the university.

Smith said the biggest reason for the Four Million Fund is to gain funds for projects not presently funded by other sources. The university decided to raise $5.8 million of which $1.8 million has already been raised by students through assessment each quarter. Of the total $4 million, $3.2 million is for the student development complex, $400,000 for faculty enrichment and initiative research, $280,000 for academic instructional media, including for scholarship endowment, $20,000 for study funds to study such possible additions to the physical plant as the Memorial Union building, an auditorium for university and other cultural events and a minerals museum.

Construction on the ice arena will start this fall. It will contain seating for 3,000 spectators initially and could hold 5,000 eventually.

Sylvania Forum

IRONWOOD — The Gogebic Community College Conference on Environment (GCCCE), in conjunction with the National Environmental Teach-in, April 22, will sponsor a forum dealing with the Sylvania Recreational Area and its future.

Guest panelists include: Virginia Prentice, past-president of the Mackinac Chapter of the Sierra Club of Michigan, an organization concerned with preserving Sylvania as a wilderness area; Ralph Kizer, supervisor of the Ottawa National Forest and current overseer of all government activities in Sylvania, and Vernon J. Knight, director of Natural Resources of Kimberly - Clark, whose organization is currently harvesting timber from sections of the Sylvania tract.

DNR Keeps Lid On:

Commercial Fishery Gets Little Relief

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Using statistics of the Department of Natural Resources to prove their point, Michigan commercial fishermen have gained some modification of the DNR's restrictive program, Roy A. Jensen, Escanaba, said today.

Back in Escanaba after meetings with the DNR Commission and the Michigan United Conservation Club's committee, Jensen repeated the position of the Michigan Fish Producers:

"There is room on the Great Lakes for both commercial and sports fishermen."

But the position of Michigan's DNR fish biologists is that there is no room for commercial fishermen in the scheme of things in the future, and that Great Lakes waters should be managed to produce more sports fishing — particularly the recently introduced salmon.

More Whitefish

The highly restrictive DNR zone fish management plan will take Michigan fresh water fish off Michigan dinner tables, although the fish production figures show there is no reason to cut back on the taking of smelt and whitefish.

For example, in the 11 months of 1968 there was produced in Michigan water 1,453,033 pounds of whitefish. Last year in 11 months the production of whitefish went up to 1,928,512 pounds — but the DNR closed Big Bay de Noc and other areas to the taking of whitefish.

When commercial fishermen protested and exerted enough pressure, the DNR changed its zone management plan to permit the taking of whitefish by pound net in Big Bay de Noc.

This was before the recent hearing, at which additional informational was presented to the DNR Commission in support of a less restrictive general plan against the commercial fishermen.

Not All Depleted

An alternative plan, on which the commercial fishermen had the assistance of fish bioligists from the University of Michigan, was presented to the DNR on March 19.

The fishermen got their answer in Lansing on Friday, April 10 — there would be some very minor changes allowed. But the DNR's fish division chief Wayne Tody issued a report that said in part:

"The zone management altenative (the commercial fishermen's proposal) generally does not reconize the depleted condition of stock of perch, walleye, whitefish, lake herring and chubs."

As Jensen has pointed out, whitefish production increased last year although there were fewer commercial fishermen permitted to operate.

Can Take Smelt

Of Tody's statement that smelt are also depleted, Jensen pointed out that the DNR's own records show:

For 11 months of 1968 1,699,374 pounds of smelt were taken in Michigan waters, and this increased to 2,137,007 pounds in 11 months in 1969.

"There is no shortage of smelt," said Jensen.

Apparently the DNR's fish biologists agreed, for as a result of the most recent protests by the commercial fishermen and their friends, the DNR will now allow the setting of smelt pound nets in Little Bay de Noc.

Can Have Cohos, Too

These smelt nets do not kill other fish species, they are not gill nets, and they are set at seasons of the year which do not interfere with any sports fishing activity. However, if the protests had not been made the taking of smelt would have been prohibited in Little Bay de Noc and the smelt would have been protected by the DNR as a "sports fish."

In rejecting most of the changes suggested by the commercial fishermen, Tody also said:

"Gill net regulations as proposed by the (commercial fishermen) would seriously jeopardize lake trout, steelhead, and salmon planting programs."

Jensen says this fear is groundless, and that under DNR supervision the food fish could be taken and marketed — and "there is no reason to sacrifice the commercial fishing industry." There is room enough for both commercial and sports fish in the Great Lakes, the fishermen believe.

4 More American Choppers Downed In Scattered Areas

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese attacks in the Central Highlands and the northern quarter of South Vietnam killed two more Americans and 25 South Vietnamese as the enemy offensive moved into its 13th day, military spokesman announced today.

Another 15 Americans and 170 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Enemy gunners also shot down four U.S. helicopters in widely separated parts of the country, killing two more Americans and wounding seven others.

According to captured documents, the Communist high command is referring to the offensive as the X Campaign, and plans to continue it in various phases until June. Informed sources said they didn't know why the Communists chose that name.

Natural Disaster Meet Scheduled

MARQUETTE — Civil Defense officers along with police and local government officials from the Upper Peninsula are expected April 22 at Northern Michigan University for a Nation Disaster Conference.

The meeting, to begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Brule Room of the University Center, is one of four scheduled in Michigan to develop organization and methods in dealing with natural disasters.

Haise Has Street Named After Him

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — It's not official, but Apollo 13 astronaut Fred Haise has had a street in his hometown named after him.

A crudely lettered sign proclaiming "Fred Haise Street" appeared Sunday on the avenue where the 36-year-old astronaut grew up and where his mother still lives.

It was the product of neighborhood youngsters.

Oscar Benson Dies Saturday

Oscar (Bill) Benson, 64, of 314 S. 10th St. died at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at his home following a lengthy illness.

He was born Oct. 22, 1905 in Ford River and had lived in Escanaba most of his life. He had been employed on the Great Lakes as a fireman for the Hanna Steamship Co.

He is survived by his widow, the former Alice Brandt; five sons, William of Milwaukee, Robert and James of Brensonville, Ill., Donald of Escanaba and Gary, at home; five daughters, Mrs. Donald (Ida) Soderman, Mrs. Betty Mahoney and Mrs. Barbara LaForest, all of Escanaba, Mrs. Manley (Dorothy) Oakman of Chicago and Mrs. Charles (Carol) Kidd of Green Bay. Another daughter, Mrs. Donald (Mary) Rae, died in February of this year.

Also surviving are 29 grandchildren, two great grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Charles (Anna) Witlock of Escanaba; two brothers, Albin Nelson of Arizona and Yelmer of Milwaukee, and several nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the Degnan-Crawford Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the funeral home with the Rev. Karl J. Hammar officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Briefly Told

The 1960 Class Reunion committee will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at 308 S. 8th St.

The Players de Noc regular membership meeting scheduled for Tuesday has been canceled due to present production commitments.

Fairmont Foods Co. of Green Bay pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to reduce axle weights and paid $123.40 fine, $7.50 costs and $3 judgment fees in District Court.

Flat Rock PTA will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the school. Parent-teacher conferences will be held at 6:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Escanaba police are investigating the theft of lumber from the Phoenix Lumber Co., which was reported today. The loss will not be fully determined until an inventory has been completed.

A breaking and entering of the Carl Mathews home at Rte. 2 Bark River, sometime during the past weekend, was reported to the State Police. Officers said entry was made by prying open a rear door, and linens and blankets were all that was reported to have been taken.

All persons in the Escanaba area who would be interested in forming a summer horseshoe league are asked to meet at the Wells Township Hall on Wednesday evening at 7:30. Players should attempt to form their own teams, although it is not necessary to be on a team to attend the meeting. Teams will consist of six men pitching in a match and it is suggested that each team have three or four alternates.

Udall To Talk

A&TT Announces Firm's Biggest Debenture Sale

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. today set the terms for its offering of approximately $1.6 billion worth of debentures with warrants, the biggest corporate financing plan in history.

AT&T said it set at 8¾ per cent the interest rate on the 30-year debentures. It also said it set at $52 the price, at which common stock may be purchased using the warrants.

AT&T said certificates and prospectuses outlining the terms of the agreement would start being mailed out to its three million shareholders late today. It said the terms of the offering were filed early today with the Securities & Exchange Commission.

The offering is designed to sell approximately 31.4 million additional shares of AT&T common stock and raise more than $3 billion in capital.

Under the offering, the holder of 35 shares of AT&T common stock will be entitled to buy a $100 debenture. Along with the debenture comes warrants to buy two shares of AT&T common at the $52 price. AT&T stock closed Friday down 1⅛ at 50¾.

Moras Home Is Damaged By Fire

The John J. Moras residence at 220 N. 19th St. was damaged extensively by fire, smoke and heat at 3:10 p.m. Sunday, it is reported by Escanaba firemen who extinguished the blaze.

The interior of portions of the dwelling were gutted by flames.

Firemen were also called out four times on Sunday because of grass fires in the area of the city; and this morning they responded to a call to put out a grass fire at 18th Ave. S. and 22nd St. which had been set by children.

IOOF Sponsors Two Students To U.N.

Two Delta County high school students will be among 1,000 from the United States and Canada who will converge on the United Nations this summer, it is announced by Impellant Lodge No. 460, I.O.O.F and Rebekah, sponsors of the delegates.

Arnold Anderson, noble grand of the lodges, said arrangements for the local participation of Escanaba Area Public High School, Holy Name School and Gladstone High School have been made by Jim Anderson, chairman of the local committee.

Each of the high schools will name three students for consideration by May 1, and from the total of nine nominees the judges will select two to attend the UN Pilgrimage for Youth.

While in New York City at the United Nations, the young delegates will observe the world-wide organization in action, tour the buildings, hear business conducted in the five official languages, listen to authoritative explanations of various departments and agencies, enjoy meals in the UN delegates dining room, and interview representatives of the member nations.

They will also visit International House where graduate students from over 80 countries live under one roof; and will make tours to centers of interest and recreation in New York City.

The National Association of Secondary School Principals has placed the program on the approved list, and has approved of it for 13 consecutive years.

Milkiewicz Wins Scholastic Award

Richard Milkiewicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casimir Milkiewicz, 306 Stephenson Ave., was recently presented with a certificate of award for special scholastic achievement by Western Michigan University's School of Business, Department of Marketing.

Richard, a 1966 graduate of Holy Name High School, will graduate on April 18. He has already accepted a position with the Hyster Co. of Danville, Ill., in the purchasing department. Hyster Co. is the second largest manufacturer of heavy duty construction equipment in the United States.

He graduated from Holy Name as a member of the National Honor Society and was presented the Catherine Bonifas Award for 1966. He also received a $2,000 IGA Scholarship Award.

Death Claims Mrs. S. Myjak

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Stanley (Betty) Myjak of Grand Rapids. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver, 508 2nd Ave. S.

She was born May 23, 1930 in Daggett and grew up in Escanaba. She had lived in Grand Rapids for the past 15 years.

Mrs. Myjak is survived by her husband; one foster son, Jerry; two brothers, three sisters and her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Vernon Buckland have left to attend funeral services which will be held Tuesday in Grand Rapids.

Sally Barrett To Study Abroad

ADRIAN — Sally Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther M. Barrett of Escanaba, is one of 16 Adrian College students who will be attending a summer study program in Graz, Austria, this summer.

The students leave July 7 for seven weeks in Austria and nearby countries as part of an overseas study program coordinated by the 30 member colleges of the Association for Colleges and Universities in International - Intercultural Studies. This is the second year Adrian has offered the program.

Graz is in the province of Styria in southeastern Austria, near Hungary, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia where study and field trips are planned.

Legislators Tinkering With School Aid Bill

By DON HOENSHELL
Panax Staff Writer

LANSING — Legislative strategists are tinkering with the massive $1.22 billion school aid package to round up votes with the big battle over its financing still to be fought.

The latest addition was $75,000 for bus transportation for migrant students.

Backers of the House version, which Gov. William Milliken already has called unreasonably high, figure the package should be enacted, then raise the tax money to pay for it.

Rep. Roy L. Spencer (R-Attica) is the chief architect of the House attempt to establish a formula giving local districts authority to lower property taxes and get more aid.

Explanation Needed

House Speaker William A. Ryan (D-Detroit) sees it as a selling job, to shift the opposition created by parochiaid — now a $22 million item in the bill — to support for the public school benefits.

"We're going to have to explain it again to the local school people," Ryan said. "We don't think the public school people are so concerned about parochiaid that they would give up the greatest gains for the public schools in the history of the state.

"In case of Detroit, we're talking about $53 million in increased revenue alone. Many other districts will get increases and some of the more affluent districts will get reductions.

"Parochiaid will be an issue in the elections this year, of course. But those who are hysterical about it aren't going to be able to make it into the critical issue they hope to do.

"It's not that important. There are a great many issues and a great many different issues this year."

Income Tax Involved

Ryan's plan to finance the plan and other increases in state spending are geared to raises in the state income tax, from 2.6 per cent to 3.5 per cent for individuals, 5.6 to 7.7 for corporations and from 7 to 9.7 for financial institutions.

This, he figures, would yield $270 million after property tax reductions in Gov. Milliken's formula and other adjustments.

For clout, Ryan also offers municipalities a piece of the new revenue. Together, he said, support from the schools, the cities and those wary of soaring property taxes should support it.

Both chambers in Lansing have already passed a 4-cent-a-pack cigarette tax increase for $32 million and have plugged loopholes in the sales tax for another $38 million.

The Spencer school aid plan at $1.22 billion in the House compares with the $900 million passed by the Senate.

Ryan expects changes to be made in the tax package, but "we'll pass it in some degree."

Shift Burden

The whole, he said, is "what the people want us to do" — shift a greater burden for public schools to the state and provide property tax relief.

He charged that GOP lawmakers "are responding more to the" Michigan Education Association attack on the entire package because it contains parochiaid.

"They are the key to this, the local school people," Ryan said. "They should be looking at what they're getting."

In the Senate, Majority Leader Emil Lockwood (R-St. Louis) said some reductions would have to be made in the House school aid bill before it could pass the Senate.

"I don't really think we could pass a direct increase in the income tax rate," he said. "I do believe, however, there will have to be some adjustments upward to obtain more revenue.

"We'll need to have it just to sustain the governor's budget," Lockwood said.

School Board Meets Tuesday

A regular meeting of the Escanaba Area Public School Board of Education will be held Tuesday at the Soo Hill School begining at 8 p.m.

Topics scheduled for discussion at the meeting include the tentative budget for the Allocation Board, shared time with Holy Name High School in vocational subjects, the NDEA Title III project, physical exams for junior high physical education, acceptance of teacher resignations and playground equipment.

Superintendent Luther Barrett has also included several items for discussion on the agenda, including vocational education, the annual school board election, bus transportation, curriculum changes and the hot lunch survey.

Environmental Program Slated At Seney Refuge

SENEY — Seney National Wildlife Refuge has announced a new program on environmental problems to be offered at the Refuge Visitor Center. Entitled "Man and His Environment," the program will be conducted by Conrad Fjetland, the assistant refuge manager.

"In recent months, tremendous new emphasis has been placed on ecology and environment by our news media," Fjetland said. "Radio, television and newspapers have all taken up the cause of environmental quality.

"The result has been a tremendous flood of information that has left many people somewhat confused and bewildered. Schools are beginning new programs to teach the basic concepts of ecology to students, but many adults have never learned these basic concepts and are thus unsure of the reason for this new environmental crisis.

"This program is designed to introduce basic ecological concepts, show why environmental problems exist and how they developed, and explain what must be done to solve the problems."

The program will be conducted in three sessions, the first beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 21. The second will be at 7 p.m., April 28, and the third at 7 p.m., May 14. Each session will be conducted on an open discussion basis and will include movies, slides and other visual aids.

There is no charge for the program and the public is invited. For further information, write the Refuge Manager, Seney National Wildlife Refuge, Seney, Michigan 49883, or call 586-6504 Curtis.

Education Assn. Officers Named

Frank Barak, a math teacher at Escanaba Junior High School, has been named president of the Escanaba Area Education Association for the 1970-71 school year, replacing Jim Green, who will assume the position of second vice-president. Barak served as the association's vice - president this year.

Valerie Haack, a second grade teacher at Lemmer School, was elected as the new vice-president at a meeting on April 6.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Jim Hirn, secretary; Charles Dedic, Region 17 Council delegate; Dennis Zanetti, alternate council delegate; William Puckelwartz, NEA delegate; and Norbert Murphy, Department of Classroom Teachers Delegate.

Other association officers maintaining positions were Doug McEachern, Representative Assembly delegate, and Beverly Ladin, treasurer.

Rocket Ready For Explosive Lunar Crash

much about the internal structure of the moon.

The Apollo 12 spacemen deliberately crashed their lunar lander after they left the moon and the impact vibrated the seismometer a surprising 55 minutes, indicating the subsurface material is broken up. A similar explosion on earth would reverberate only a few minutes.

Trio Relaxing

The Apollo 13 astronauts were relaxing on the three-day outward journey in preparation for four gruelling days in the vicinity of the moon.

Preparation for Wednesday's lunar landing begins tonight when Lovell and Haise crawl through a connecting tunnel to inspect the lunar craft they call Aquarius.

They'll check communications, propulsion and other systems to make sure the spindly legged lander is ready for the difficult and dangerous descent to the moon's ancient Fra Mauro highlands Wednesday night.

Past Halfway Mark

In this rugged area on the eastern shore of the Ocean of Storms, Lovell and Haise plan to deploy a nuclear-powered science station, drill 10 feet beneath the lunar crust and trek nearly two miles on a geology field trip. They hope to gather rocks dating back some five billion years to the creation of the moon.

The astronauts zipped past the halfway mark—128,000 miles from both earth and moon—Sunday and fired a brief burst of their spaceship engine to shift course slightly and zero in on a spot 70 miles above the lunar surface. They hope to hit that bull's-eye and fire into lunar orbit at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Sudden Jolt Noted

The two-second engine ignition occurred during a 50-minute telecast beamed to Mission Control in Houston. The camera focused on an instrument panel and viewers on earth saw the sudden jolt on monitoring screens.

Lovell, Haise and Swigert started the telecast with an out-the-window view of the moon—nearly three-quarters in shadow.

Their target appeared to be enveloped in a snow storm when the astronauts dumped waste water from the spacecraft fuel cells overboard. The water turned quickly to ice crystals which blew like a blizzard outside the window, with the moon in the background.

In Weightless World

The camera panned around the cabin as the astronauts showed some aspects of life in their faraway, weightless world.

Swigert demonstrated the operation of optical equipment used in steering by the stars.

Haise zipped himself into a sleeping bag-like hammock slung beneath the couches to show how they can sleep without floating away.

Lovell demonstrated the futility of combing his hair in weightlessness. After he ran a comb through it, his hair stood straight up.

Air Traffic Strike, Weather Foil Spring

By WARD SIMS

NEW YORK (AP) — I used to envy the jet set, but not any more.

An air traffic controllers' slowdown and a bit of nasty weather which disrupted the beginnings of a beautiful spring are to blame for my disenchantment.

It all started in Seattle and wound up, some 17 hours later, in New Brunswick, N.J.

Wife Virginia, son Dixon and I were ticketed from Seattle to Newark, N.J., with a change of planes at Chicago.

Early on the morning of departure, before the coffee had even started to perk, the airline called and said the New York flight had been canceled. Would I care to take an earlier direct flight to Philadelphia?

It took some fast packing, but we made it, flying east through the friendly skies of Canada by way of Kimberly, Lethbridge, Moose Jaw, Regina and Winnipeg. Then it was south to Philadelphia and the landing approach.

I thought we flew through the clouds for an interminably long time and the captain confirmed my suspicions by advising via the intercom that Philadelphia International was glazed with ice from freezing rain and that he would not attempt to make an immediate landing.

We proceeded to take a half-hour tour through low-hovering clouds, with only momentary glimpses of a snow-covered countryside from time to time.

On came the captain again. It would take at least another hour, he said, to sand the runway, so we were heading for Dulles International Airport. On to Washington.

At Dulles, we were hustled aboard a bus en route to Washington's Penn Station, then put on a train for New York, courtesy of the apologetic and harried airline.

Being a congenital cornercutter, I reasoned that if we were to leave the train at Trenton, N.J.—with no scheduled stop at New Brunswick—it would beat traveling all the way to Gotham and then doubling back to home territory.

We did. Time elapsed since enplaning at Seattle: about 14 hours, including three lost to the time zones.

There was a long wait at the Trenton bus station, a bumpy ride over snow-covered roads to Princeton, N.J., and another half-hour wait in freezing temperatures on a dimly lit street corner for the last bus to New Brunswick.

Pressing on, we finally arrived at our destination at about 1 a.m.—the exact times were now beginning to slip away from me—but the longest night was not yet over.

For another half-hour I tried in vain to flag cab, any old cab. Whence the taxi we finally snared came I know nought, but it was shading toward 2 a.m. when we finally reached home.

The flight across country—from Seattle to a cloudy spot over Philadelphia—had taken 4 hours and 38 minutes. We had spent approximately 9½ more hours, including the three-hour time loss, trying to reach our front door.

Cutting the cold with a dollop of Kentucky's best, I had to reflect on that lonely street corner in windy Princeton.

One bus—carrying the sign "Bus Following"—had passed us as we stood there shivering and shuffling in the snow.

With my luck that Easter night, the last bus should have sped right on by, with a sign "Bus Ahead."

Economists Propose Car Every Two Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government economists say most automobile owners are just as well off buying a new car every two years as they are trying to keep the old bus running.

"Assuming a normal amount of driving, keeping a car after it is two years old does save some money, but not very much," said a report by the Federal Highway Administration.

"The decision to trade in a car or keep it a while longer should be based on the owner's tastes and circumstances, rather than on any thought of increasing or decreasing his cents-per-mile owning and operating costs. As far as economy is concerned, he can make the decision with a clear conscience."

The report showed the cost of keeping a car for 10 years has increased from 10.21 cents a mile about a year ago to 11.89 cents a mile this year.

The study found a big increase in insurance costs, which jumped from 1.41 cents a mile to 1.72 cents a mile, despite inclusion of less extensive coverage in this year's computations.

In a year-by-year breakdown of the cost of keeping a car—depreciating its purchase price over 10 years—the study found the first year costs 14.21 cents a mile and the second 11.27 cents.

The cost rises for the next two years to 12.51 cents a mile then gradually tapers off to 10.83 cents a mile in the 10th year.

The study, done on the basis of information gathered from repairmen and car dealers rather than any averaging of statistical studies, involved a theoretical 4-door sedan from one of the "Big Three" and costing $3,374 including tax. The car was equipped with a V-8 engine, automatic transmission, power steering and radio.

The costs, which included gasoline, taxes, parking, tolls, repairs, tires, titling and insurance, were computed on the basis of a Baltimore driver's experience.

The costs would be higher for Washington, Boston, New York and San Francisco and lower for Atlanta, Jacksonville and Fort Worth, the study said.

Asks Payments For Aluminum Cans To Aid Pollution

LANSING (AP) — A Republican state Senator says Michigan's pollution problem might be alleviated if companies paid for old aluminum cans people turned in. Sen. Oscar Bouwsma of Muskegon said that in colorado, a beer manufacturer has announced it would pay 10 cents a pound for old aluminum cans. If Michigan firms did the same thing, Bouwsma said, "This would do a lot to rid the state of many of the cans which now litter Michigan."

Catholic 'Bill Of Rights' Considered By Papal Unit

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP) — A working draft of a proposed new constitution for the Roman Catholic Church, titled "Leges Fundamentalis Ecclesia," currently is being considered by a special papal commission.

The constitution, including a "bill of rights" for Catholics, would be the first such charter for the Church in its 2,000-year history.

Differences Noted

Sharp differences already have been voiced over it.

Word of the document, setting forth a recommended new fundamental legal code of the Church, first was made known here this week at a meeting sponsored by the Canon Law Society of America.

Its spokesmen were sharply critical of the document, saying it specifically shores up papal authority, but provides no specific means for others to exercise stated rights, and that it would perpetuate an "absolutist structure" blocking Church progress and damaging ecumenical efforts.

Working Draft

However, other churchmen subsequently pointed out that the document is a working draft, subject to further changes, and that it seeks to lay down broad principles of Church government and rights, without spelling out detailed ways of applying them.

This presumably could be done in additional legislation implementing the stated ideals.

In Philadelphia, Archbishop John Cardinal Krol, a member of the pontifical commission for revision of canon law, said the draft "represents three years of diligent work by various subcommittees of eminent scholars."

Cardinals Get Draft

Cardinal Krol said the draft of the new "fundamental or constitutional law of the Church" was mailed last Oct. 24 to cardinals making up the commission. They were asked to submit any proposed emendations to the text.

"These are being studied and will be considered at the plenary meeting of the commission later this year," he said. That has been set for next October, after being postponed from this spring.

Specialists at the New York meeting speculated that the delay may have been caused by repercussions to the draft document. They also issued a statement calling for "maximum participation of the Universal Church" in the revision of canon law, saying this is "an indispensable precondition of its effective acceptance by the community."

Ask Immediate Setup

Work of the pontifical commission should "be made public" and "structures set up immediately throughout the world for the widest possible consultation and evaluation of its proposals," said a statement of the meeting's consensus.

Circulation of the draft document was confined to the commission's members, and after the meeting here disclosed its existence, the Vatican press spokesman, Msgr. Fausto Vallainc, initially said he knew nothing about it.

The commission, set up after Vatican II to revise Church canons in line with new Vatican II principles, consists of 63 cardinals in various parts of the world named by the Pope. They are assisted by 127 consultors — 40 bishops, 79 priests and eight laymen.

The large-scale revision of canon law, intended to implement Vatican II concepts on ecumenism, the primacy of the shared authority of bishops with Pope, the role of the laity and other matters, is the first revision since 1918.

The 1918 code still is in force.

Missionary Conference At Grace Church

The Grace Baptist Church, 603 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, will sponsor a Missionary Conference April 15-19. Four speakers will share their experiences in the missionary field during the Conference.

The Rev. Edward Viren, missionary to the Indians on the Grand Portage Reservation in northern Minnesota, will speak Wednesday, April 15, at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Viren's ministry to the Chippewa nation in this former fur trading post extends into the surrounding bush and small Canadian villages. Traveling about by foot, snowshoes, skis, or boat he reaches the Indian people with the gospel message.

Special music for this meeting will be provided by Darryl Lindquist and Mrs. Glen Manning. Refreshments will be served in the church basement following the meeting, with Mrs. Anna Darrow, hostess.

Friday, April 17, at 7:30 p.m., the Rev. David Swanson of Cornell, Wis., will speak on behalf of small conference-supported churches.

Gertrude Nelson, a school teacher, who served in Mussoorie, Uttar Pradesh, India, will be the guest speaker on Saturday, April 18, at 7:30 p.m. and also on Sunday, April 19, at 11 a.m.

Miss Nelson was on the staff of the Woodstock School, where missionary children make up the majority of the student body. The school also includes Indian children and children of foreign aid and embassy people.

The final session, Sunday night, will feature the Rev. Robert Boyd, now on furlough from Argentina. While in Argentina the Boyds have held Bible studies and Sunday schools, visited homes and conducted youth meetings. They also had a regular program of house-to-house literature distribution and a weekly radio broadcast over a local station. They have seen the establishment of two churches with buildings erected and occupied Rev. Boyd will speak at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Gaylord Wright, pastor, extends an invitation to the public to attend this Missionary Conference.

Judith H. Ryan Bride Of Wilson Davis, Jr.

Judith H. Ryan and Wilson B. Davis, Jr., both of Milwaukee exchanged wedding vows during a double ring ceremony performed Saturday, April 4 at St. George Church in Bark River.

Officiating at the nuptials at 4 p.m. was the Rev. Thomas P. Dunleavy. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ryan of Harris and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Wilson B. Davis of Steel, Mo.

Honor attendants for the couple were Linda Ryan of Harris, sister of the bride and Kelly Ryan of Bark River, the bride's brother. Seating the guests were Joe Marsicek and Westly Chernick, uncle of the bride.

Organza, Lace

For her wedding, the bride, selected a floor length gown of silk organza and Viennese lace fashioned with a modified scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and a silk organza watteau chapel train accented with appliques of Viennese lace.

A forward design headpiece of petals, lace and pearls secured her elbow length veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of white mums and pink sweetheart roses.

Aqua Gown

The honor maid was attired in an aqua floor length gown styled with long sleeves and she carried a pink and white carnation bouquet.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ryan wore a light green lace ensemble with matching accessories. She was presented a corsage to compliment her attire.

The wedding reception was held following the ceremony at Potvin's Fireside Room in Schaffer.

Home In Milwaukee

The newlyweds are now at home at 4820 W. Forest Home, Milwaukee. The bride is a graduate of Bark River-Harris High School and the Accredited School of Cosmetology in Milwaukee. She is presently employed as a secretary at Morley-Murphy in Milwaukee.

Mr. Davis is a graduate of Steel High School, Steel, Mo. and also served four years with the U.S. Army. He is employed by Hilift, Milwaukee.

Plans Complete For Annual OES Card Party

Plans have been completed for the annual card party sponsored by R. C. Hatheway Chapter, 49, Order of Eastern Star. The card party will be held Tuesday evening at the Masonic Temple and tickets will be available at the door. The public is invited to attend.

Players are to make up their own tables and also select the game of their choice. Individual table prizes and guest awards will be presented during the evening. Dessert will be served at 8 p.m.

The following committee chairmen are in charge of arrangements for the event: Darlene Bower, dessert; Lois Peterson, prizes; Nora Rice, dining room; Amelia Ogren, tallies and Myrna Jenshak, reservations.

Mrs. A. T. Pope To Speak At Woman's Club

The Escanaba Woman's Club will meet at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Project Pride Room of the Chamber of Commerce Building, and members may invite guests.

Mrs. Arthur T. Pope of Gladstone will present the program entitled: "How to Make This Season's Flowers Next Season's Bouquets."

Mrs. Pope, whose husband is chairman of the Technology Division of Bay de Noc Community College, has been a resident of Gladstone for five years.

The Popes have two children, Lt. J. G. David Pope, a Navy pilot and Anne who works for MIT in Cambridge, Mass.

This last semester, Mrs. Pope taught a night class in water color painting as part of Gladstone's enrichment program. Mrs. Pope is also presently attending Bay de Noc Community College.

The speaker for the day has been experimenting with flower drying for the past three years and occasionally has combined a water color painting with dried flowers for a different effect. Material will be brought to the meeting and flowers will be prepared for drying.

Mrs. Jon Thorin is program chairman for the day and hostesses are Mrs. Norman Arntzen and Mrs. Edward Kuivinen. They will be assisted by their committee.

Pearl Bailey Gets Assist From President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wearing a black sequined pants suit, Pearl Bailey slinked up to the grand piano in the White House East Room and said a singer really should sit atop the piano while rendering a ballad.

So, President Nixon rushed up with his own chair and helped Miss Bailey climb up.

"Oh, Mr. President," she drawled, "is the country going to talk about us."

After singing her ballad for guests at a state dinner for West German Chancellor Willy Brandt, Miss Bailey mumbled huskily, "Wait till I say I had my feet on the President's chair."

Long Siege Of Fear Finally Ends For North Carolina Prison Escapee

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) —For nearly 10 years, Steve Collins lived in fear.

The 40-year-old factory foreman and father of five says he never told anyone—not even his wife—that he was a fugitive from a North Carolina prison.

Collins, whose real name is Calvin Collins, was recaptured here last week when a routine check of his fingerprints after his arrest on a disorderly conduct charge—disclosed he was a prison escapee.

Surprised At Arrest

"I was surprised when they arrested me, but I've been expecting it," Collins said in an interview. He told of his 1960 escape from a road gang near Raleigh. He spoke quietly and with no visible show of emotion.

"I just walked away, hiked to Virginia and got on a bus and came to Michigan," he said in describing his escape. The escape occurred while he was considered an honor-grade prisoner.

Four years, earlier, Collins tried to escape but was recaptured three days later.

15-Year Sentence

Collins had been in prison since the spring of 1950 after being convicted of assault with intent to commit rape. He was sentenced to serve 15 years. He steadfastly denies any part in the attack upon a 48-year-old Fayetteville woman which led to the charge.

The fugitive, an Indian who was born in Dowagiac, Mich., and reared in Mount Pleasant, Mich., said he was serving with the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., when he and another soldier were accused of assaulting the woman.

Collins reported with some signs of bitterness that the other soldier was paroled in 1955 while he never had the chance to appear before the parole board.

In Grand Rapids, Collins lived an apparently normal life. He married, began raising a family, held a series of steady jobs and bought a home.

Wife Didn't Know

Mrs. Collins said she never knew about her husband's secret although she sensed an "uneasiness" about him. Now, she plans to fight against her husband's return to North Carolina.

"It's a feeling you have when you live with someone and you know him. Steve couldn't have committed that crime," she said.

The couple reported that their friends "have been wonderful" since Collins' past caught up with him. Collins is free on his own recognition pending a May 4 hearing in his case.

He is working regularly as a foreman at Williams Form Engineering Corp. here and said his fellow workers "are the greatest bunch of guys in the world. Nothing has changed with my friends."

In fact, fellow workers have signed a petition urging that Collins be allowed to remain in Michigan and have offered to serve as witnesses to his good character.

A few things have changed since Collins' secret was discovered. Now, he will obtain a driver's license and other items that a man without any real identification for 10 years could not manage.

As for the future, Collins said he is optimistic he can stay in Michigan. Then he added, "If I had to go back, I'd do the best I can. But I've already served 10 years for something I didn't do."

Cure Apparently Found For Chronic Headache

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Some 600 million people throughout the world suffer from chronic headaches, often of mysterious origin. A new medical theory holds that a majority of such cases may result from overlooked neck injuries and often can be cured by putting the patient in traction.

Do you bite your fingernails? That may cause them to grow up to 20 per cent faster than normal, thus giving you still more to chew on.

No wonder smart businessmen are courting brides and teen-agers. The average bride spends three times as much for her initial purchases of home furnishings as a typical U.S. family does in a year. As for teen-agers, 17 per cent now own their own television sets, 75 per cent own radios, and 18 per cent own a tape recorder. Teen-agers also account for 25 per cent of the $4 billion a year cosmetics industry.

Speaking of brides again, few of them will start married life in a romantic cottage small by a waterfall. Some will move in with Mom and Dad, and 80 per cent will rent a housekeeping apartment.

Quotable notables: "A woman will almost never tell you the truth, while most men defendants will. Women have a furtive, concealing nature, and to some extent they're pathological liars who can conceive of situations that never existed."—Veteran defense lawyer James D. C. Murray.

The weather affects us all. Here's what happens, for example, as the barometer falls during a period of low air pressure: Most people are more forgetful, worker efficiency drops, lost-and-found departments are busier, banks clerks make more errors, and absenteeism climbs.

Despite the billions America spends on health, it is far from being the healthiest nation on earth. Thirteen countries have a lower infant mortality rate, and in 17 countries men live longer. Fewest newborn babies die in Sweden, and it is there also that life expectancy at birth is highest—71.6 years.

To our shame, however, the United States does lead in a dismal field—environmental destruction. Nearly 50 per cent of the world's industrial pollution is caused by our factories, refineries and motor cars.

Overcoming handicaps: Blind Ray Charles, the popular Negro entertainer, can do more than sing and play the piano. According to a profile in the New Yorker magazine, he can type 70 words a minute, is a good cook, and can play winning chess.

Safety statistic: A recent study revealed that teen-age drivers who had drunk two bottles of beer or less were almost three times as likely to be involved in car accidents as those who stuck to soft drinks.

It was Meister Eckhart who observed; "The very best and utmost of attainment in life is to remain still and let God act and speak in thee."

Student Beating At U-M Reported Rarity By School

ANN ARBOR (AP) — An official of the University of Michigan says a beating suffered by an 18-year-old freshman in his dormitory from black students was a rarity, and that the dormitories are safe.

John C. Feldkamp, director of housing, said Saturday that the university was slow in reacting to the beating of a Lapeer physician's son.

Dr. Harry F. Zemmer said that a university official told him that such beatings are common in the dormitory. But Feldkamp said that was "simply not true."

Zemmer complained to the university's regents in a letter which told of the beating his son received April 1. The doctor charged the university didn't report the beating to police and was slow in taking disciplinary action against the alleged assailants, three of whom have been charged with felonious assault. A fourth has not been identified.

Zemmer said his son suffered a concussion, facial lacerations and a loosened tooth. The physician, a 1953 graduate of Michigan Medical School said he has no wish to damage the schools reputation or image and said that he had been contacted by university officials since the letter to the regents.

Zemmer said he was merely concerned about the safety of his son, and other students in the school's dormitories.

Howes' Sports

by Don Howes

Zeke Bratkowski, assistant coach of the Green Bay Packers, gave the news media a brief interview on the upcoming football season last Friday night at the Escanaba Coaches Football Clinic, which was held at the Terrace Supper Club. Bratkowski, who was one of the main speakers at the clinic, discussed the off season program for athletes which he calls the conditioning program.

On the question concerning Herb Adderly, who has made his feelings well known about not playing football next season for the Packers, Zeke only gave his feelings on this issue. He said, "The Packer coaching staff can only recommend players for the Pro-Bowl and Herb was recommended by his coaches, but it's not up to the Packer coaches to choose for the Pro-Bowl. Adderly, who takes pride in his work, was naturally hurt for not being chosen to play in the Pro-Bowl game."

Bratkowski commented on the Packer's quarterback situation by stating that Bart Starr is in real good shape. He went on to say that Bart's shoulder injury is all right now and that he is working out daily. Don Horn is a fine young quarterback and it's nice to have a young man like Horn to back up Starr. Billy Stevens, a third year veteran for the Packers, has a strong arm and we'll have to wait to see him him play more before I can make any further comments.

In regard to the off season trades and retirements, Bratkowski stated, "You have to trade something to get something to fill the vacancies left by veterans. A specific example of this is when John Rowser, a 3-year veteran back for the Packers, was traded for a tight end, John Hilton, who is one of the finest tight ends in football."

Bratkowski pointed out how the off season conditioning program would benefit the high school athlete. He explained, "The conditioning program is not earth shaking and everyone has his own opinion about the program. The Packers take a scientific approach to it and call it their 'aerobic' program, which means building oxygen in your body. The Packers set a standard requirement for the program so that players won't get hurt or tired out when they come to training camp." When asked if this program would help to prevent injuries, Zeke stated, "Last year was an educational year for the Packers and you can't evaluate this program in one year. On the high school level this is more beneficial to the athlete because they are with the coaches all season long and work out regularly, which creates a sense of competition among athletes."

★ ★ ★

The Packer Organization thought that they might be in a different division due to the merger of the two leagues. In the reshuffle of the divisions the Packers remained in the same division and they feel that this is one of the toughest divisions in the league and are glad to be in it. Zeke said, "Norm VanBrocklin summed up our division quite well when he called it the "Black and Blue" division."

Bratkowski indicated that Jim Grabowski would be ready for full time duty next fall, that he had minor surgery on his knee and is responding well to treatment.

Will Kansas City's wide-open offense be the trend in pro football? Zeke felt that the Minnesota Vikings were not ready for the Chiefs. It will take a few weeks for the NFL teams to adapt their defenses to the AFL offense. The various formations that the AFL teams use, such as the I-formation that the Chiefs use, causes uneasiness among the NFL teams.

Bratkowski feels that the Packer kicking game will improve this year with the addition of Skip Butler. He was a recent Packer draft choice and has yet to prove himself in pro ball. This past year in college he booted 13 of 16 attempts including a 60 yard field goal.

Lakers Triumph In West Playoff

ATLANTA (AP) — "It seems like all we did in the second half was shoot free throws."

Guard Jerry West had that explanation Sunday as the Los Angeles Lakers, hitting 47 of 60 charity tosses, came from behind to down the Atlanta Hawks 119-115 in the opening game of their best-of-seven series for the National Basketball Association's Western Division championship.

The two teams clash again here Tuesday.

West, who combined with forward Elgin Baylor to lead the Laker assault from the line, pointed to the obvious. Los Angeles canned 35 of 40 charity shots in the second half and, in the process, overcame a 16-point Atlanta lead.

Baylor said the rash of Atlanta fouls was prompted by big Wilt Chamberlain, who only recently returned to the Laker lineup after knee surgery.

"When we pass to Wilt," he said, "everybody starts breaking. There's an inclination for the opposing team to look back momentarily and, when we take off, they've been caught in that split second. The natural move of the man guarding you is to try to slow you down without getting caught by the officials."

Atlanta Coach Richie Guerin disagreed, however, and said the Lakers "didn't get that many fouls off the cutoff situations."

He also was somewhat brusque when asked why his team was nabbed for so many fouls in the second half.

"You're asking that question in the wrong room," he declared. "Go in there where game officials (Mindy) Rudolph and (Manny) Sokol are."

Atlanta, primarily behind the brilliant play of Walt Bellamy, took a 28-25 lead in the first quarter, stretched it to 67-52 at intermission, then ran into trouble after building a 16-point edge midway of the third period.

Los Angeles cut the margin to 93-88 at the end of the third and finally went ahead to stay on two foul shots by Baylor with 2:03 remaining.

West, with 38 points including 18 of 21 free throws, led the Laker attack although Baylor, with 14 of 18 charity tosses, finished with 30. Walt Hazzard was high for Atlanta with 29 points.

Bellamy, who hit 12 points and snagged eight rebounds in his big first quarter, finished with 24 points and 21 rebound. At the same time, he limited Chamebrlain to 16 points and 17 rebounds.

The eventual winner of the Western Division will meet the Eastern Division champ—either Milwaukee or New York—for the NBA title. That series, with New York holding a 1-0 lead, resumes tonight in New York.

Niekro Claims Second Win As Tigers Defeat Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles came closer to obtaining Joe Niekro in a trade last winter than they were to beating the pitching savior of the Detroit Tigers Sunday.

The 25-year-old right-hander allowed only a bunt single through the first seven innings, and registered a 7-2 victory with last-out relief help from Tom Timmerman after yielding five more hits including a Brooks Robinson homer.

It was the second straight American League victory for Niekro, who was hot trading bait despite an 8-18 record with Chicago and San Diego in the National League last season.

"I knew there was a good chance I'd go somewhere," Niekro said. "I heard about the possibility of going to Atlanta, Cincinnati and Cleveland, but I was surprised when I came to Detroit."

The Tigers, idle today, open their home season Tuesday at Tiger Stadium, with Mickey Lolich, 1-1, scheduled to take on the Cleveland Indians.

After contributing a two-run triple to a 13-hit attack which dealt the Orioles their first loss in six games, Niekro learned that Baltimore also had sought him in a deal with the Padres.

"We were close, and had a chance," said Harry Dalton, the director of player personnel for the Orioles.

But Dalton thought San Diego's request for outfielder Dave May and minor league shortstop Enzo Hernandez "was a little too much to give when we didn't know where Niekro would fit into our staff."

"I know one thing," said Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver. "If we had him, Niekro wouldn't have started a game yet — not ahead of Dave McNally, Mike Cuellar, Jim Palmer and Tom Phoebus."

With Detroit ace Denny McLain under a half-season suspension, however, Niiekro fits right into the Tigers' rotation and has won two of the team's three victories.

He was given Detroit's third starting assignment of the season, and shut out the Washington Senators on six hits in his AL debut.

"I guess the first time around the league might be to my advantage," Niekro said. "In Baltimore, for instance, I sat on the bench two days watching the hitters but they didn't see me until I pitched."

"Niekro looked good," Weaver said, "but he didn't last. He threw harder than we thought he would. Let's see how he does against us next time."

Cuellar, who won 23 for the Orioles last season and his first start of 1970, gave up eight hits before being replaced with none out in the fourth inning. Detroit scored five in the inning, three off reliever Dave Leonhard, for a 7-0 lead.

Willie Horton had three hits and two runs batted in before leaving with an apparent minor muscle pull in his back. Dick McAuliffe, Bill Freehan and Cesar Gutierrez had two hits apiece.

In addition to being in another league, Niekro must feel he's also in another world. San Diego was the worst scoring team in the majors last year, averaging less than three runs a game. The Tigers have gotten him 10 runs in two starts.

While Niekro was bringing his record to 2-0, older brother Phil —a 23-game winner with Atlanta last year—dropped to 0-2 with a loss to Houston.

"I saw that on the scoreboard," Joe said. "Think I'll have to telephone Phil when I get home."

Brewers Snare Third Straight

By The Associated Press

The California Angels know this can't keep up. The Milwaukee Brewers aren't so sure.

The topic of discussion was hitting, something both teams did a lot of Sunday.

"I thought we'd have more hitting, but you can't honestly expect anything like that," said Lefty Phillips after his unbeaten Angels exploded for five quick runs in the sixth inning and shelled Kansas City 7-5, raising their team batting average to .355.

"I feel great. Now I just have to keep it up," said rookie outfielder Danny Walton, who belted a two-run homer in the opener—his third in two days—and drove in two more runs in the nightcap as the Brewers blasted the Chicago White Sox 5-2, 16-2 and evened their record at 3-3.

It was a stunning display by the two teams that brought up the rear in American League club batting a year ago—the Brewers, then the Seattle Pilots, at .234 and the Angels at .230.

Elsewhere Washington held off Boston 6-5 and Cleveland edged the New York Yankees 2-1 before losing the nightcap 5-4. Oakland and Minnesota were rained out.

California's four-game winning skein seemed in jeopardy until Roger Repoz walloped a two-run homer and Jim Fregosi slammed a three-run shot to wipe out a 5-2 deficit. Jim Campains homered for the Royals.

The Brewers also had an enjoyable weekend after dropping their first three starts in Milwaukee uniforms. But Walton gave them the spark Saturday with a pair of two-run homers that wiped out a 4-0 deficit and the Brewers went on to record their first AL triumph.

"I've just let them run out there and show me what they can do," said skipper Dave Bristol. "You didn't think we'd roll over and play dead, did you?

"Walton started looking good the last 10 or 12 days of spring training and won himself a job. He had a good series. I just hope he can keep it up. "The addition of (Max) Alvis and (Russ) Snyder has helped us both on offense and defense. Alvis is thrilled to death he can play every day and I think he'll repay us."

The hitting bug even got to pitcher George Lauzerique, who drove in four runs, three with a homer, and went the route in the nightcap. Outfielder Steve Hovley helped him with a double and two singles for five RBI Walton connected in the opener.

Washington made the most of six hits—Boston had 15—mainly because Mike Epstein belted a two-run homer and Frank Howard hit two long doubles and drove in two runs. Gerry Moses had a single, double and homer for the Red Sox.

Sam McDowell struck out 10 Yankees and moved past Carl Hubbell into 34th place on the all-time list as Cleveland won its opener. Russ Nagelson provided the winning run with a homer off loser Mel Stottlemyre.

After the Indians tied the second game with two out in the ninth on Danny Cater's bases-loaded, two-run throwing error, the Yankees came back to win it on John Ellis' single and three walks. Mike Paul walked pinch hitter Ron Hansen to force in the winning run. It marked the third time in the game the Yankees scored on a hit and three walks.

Red Holzman Is Coach-Of-Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Red Holzman, who led the New York Knicks to their first Eastern Division title in 16 years, was named Monday the National Basketball Association's coach of the Year.

Holzman, 49, jeceived 17 of the 40 votes from a 40-man committee. Joe Mullaney, first year pro coach of the Los Angeles Lakers, picked up nine votes and Richie Guerin of Atlanta and Larry Costello of Milwaukee got five each. Dick Motta of Chicago had three and Player-Coach Lennie Wilkens of Seattle one.

The Knicks finished four games in front of Milwaukee during the regular season as they had a 60-22 record, their winningest season ever. They also caught the eye of the country by winning 18 straight games, an NBA record.

Holzman, who played basketball at CCNY and then in the pros, coached previusly in the pros with the Milwaukee Hawks from 1953-55 and then the St. Louis Hawks from 1955-57.

He scouted for the Knicks before taking over the coaching job from Dick McGuire early in the 1967-68 season. They turned in a 28-17 rcord under him that season, then rose to 54-28 before this year's success.

Astros Use Long Ball To Whip Atlanta 8-3

By The Associated Press

Houston's Tony Cannon is behaving like a long range missile again and the rest of the Astro arsenal is following suit.

Jim Wynn, the mini-slugger who smacked 33 home runs for Houston last season, hit a pair of tape-measure shots Sunday as the Astros unloaded five homers—A club record—and whipped Atlanta 8-3.

The muscular, 5-foot-9 outfielder sent Phil Niekro pitches rocketing into the Astrodome's fourth and fifth levels, respectively, before Joe Pepitone, Tommy Davis and Doug Rader completed the long ball binge.

Elswhere in the National League, Cincinnati swept a double-header from San Francisco 6-5 and 5-2; Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia 3-1 in 10 innings; Montreal blanked the Chicago Cubs 2-0; Los Angeles zipped San Diego 6-0 and the New York Mets beat St. Louis 6-4.

Wynn unloaded into the domed stadium's purple seats in the first inning and hit his second bases-empty homer even farther in the third, reaching the third row of yellow seats.

"I got a little glimpse of both of them," he said. "When you hit a ball that hard, you've got to look."

"I can't believe that Jim hit two homers off Niekro," said Rader, only other Astro ever to homer into the fifth deck—in an exhibition game this spring. "The only way you can hit home runs off Niekro is if he gets behind and throws you a fast ball.

"I guess one he hit was a fast ball, but I know he also hit one off the knuckleball."

The loss was the second in as many decisions this season for Niekro, the Braves' kuckleball ace who won 23 a year ago.

"That was quite a show today," said Pepitone, who followed Wynn's second homer with his second in two games. Davis homered in the fourth and Rader poled a two-run homer in the eighth.

Johnn Bench delivered the deciding run in each game for the Reds, who prevailed at San Francisco despite a seven-hit spree by Giants' rookie Alan Gallagher.

Tony Perez belted four hits, including a pair of homers, for four RBIs in the opener before Bench's run-scoring single in the ninth gave Cincinnati a 6-3 lead. The run stood up despite a two-run San Francisco Rally—helped by Bench's error—in the bottom of the ninth.

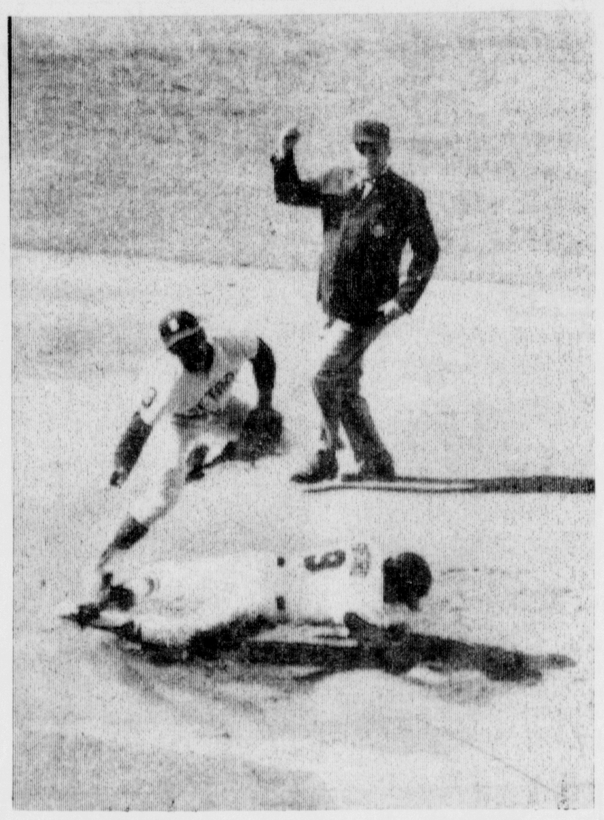

In the nightcap, Bench's two-run triple in the sixth broke a 1-1 deadlock and the Reds held on behind the pitching of Gary Nolan and Wayne Granger.

Bill Mazeroski, whose eighth inning single drove in Pittsburgh's first run, rapped a tie-breaking two-run homer off Jim Bunning in the 10th. Steve Blass went the distance on the mound for the Pirates.

Montreal won its first game after four setbacks as Bill Stoneman checked the Cubs on three hits and Ron Fairly hit a two-run homer.

The Dodgers, winless in all five previous starts, erupted for four first inning runs, added a pair in the seventh on Bill Grabarkewitz' homer and stymied San Diego on Bill Singer's four-hitter.

New York ace Tom Seaver gave up nine hits, including a Richie Allen homer, and needed late relief help but drove in three Met runs himself with a single and double on the way to his first victory of the new season.

BIRDSHOOTING — Detroit second baseman Dick McAuliffe has to leap above Don Buford's attempted block to complete a double play in the first inning off Mark Belanger's bat Saturday. Baltimore won, 5-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Washington Balks At Merger Rumor

NEW YORK (AP) — There is no agreement on moving the Washington club of the American Basketball Association to the National Basketball Association as part of a merger deal, says Earl Foreman, owner of the Washington franchises.

Foremen told The Associated Press by telephone from Washington Sunday:

"I'm not aware of any agreement reached between the two merger committees and I was there every minute."

Sam Shulman of the NBA's Seattle franchise had announced Saturday that the three-man merger committees, which met in Palm Springs, Calif., had agreed in principle on the following:

The ABA would pay the NBA an $11 million indemnity over 10 years, the Washington franchise would move to another city, and Rick Barry would return to San Francisco of the NBA from Washington.

The agreements will not be proposed to the leagues," Shulman said.

Foreman also said no agreement had been made on Barry returning to San Francisco.

"It was unfortunate that he (Schulman) issued the statement he did," Foreman said. "I don't know why he did."

ABA Commissioner Jack Rolph also said from his Connecticut home that "Foreman has not agreed to leave Washington.

"There seems to be some basic understanding between the committees, but there are some unresolved items that the committees still must iron out," Rolph said.

Littler, Casper Tied For Masters Lead; Meet Today

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Gene Littler, a quiet man who already drives three Rolls Royces, faced a jittery 18-hole playoff today against crosstown buddy Billy Casper for a mere coat of green.

For that coat of green, South African Gary Player would have swapped the world.

Casper's 10-foot putt to win it all Sunday whipped out of the 18th hole and the muscular Player—trying to make it a party of three today—three-missed from seven feet and left coatless.

"I'll tee it high and let it fly Monday," promised Casper, who converted quickly from the grim putt-misser of the 18th to a smiling playoff man preparing for another day.

Asked about his tactics for the 2:15 p.m., EST, shootout, Littler mulled so long that Casper answered for him, "He'll tee it low and let it go."

Casper and Littler live 25 miles apart in the San Diego, Calif., area and have played golf together since the last shot of the Korean War. Both are devoted family men who skip many $150,000 tournament to fish with their kids.

Littler's off-course hobby is antique cars. His garage is cluttered with three sparkling, old Rolls Royces and a model T ford. "They're all like me," he said iin the Herb Shriner-type draw. "They can't drive too far."

Both Californians have won the U.S. Open in their glittering golf careers, but neither has captured the Masters and its famed green jacket. Littler won the 1961 Open and Casper was best in 1959 and 1966.

There were many heroes on the chilly, bleak Sunday at Augusta's National Club. But when the spotlight settled on the humbling 18th green, there were only three. Two made it and Player missed by two inches on a 10-foot putt.

Casper's rounds of 72-68-68-71 gave him a nine-under-par 279 total for the week. Littler made it with an incredibly consistent 69-70-70-70. Player's closing 70 left him a strike shy at 280 after a weak Thursday opening of 74 on the rolling 6,980-yard course.

"My father always told me to be humble in victory and smile in defeat," said a dejected Player, who won the Masters in 1961. "Well, fellows, here are my teeth. I'm smiling at you."

Player was obviously emotionally drained when his hope of tying trickled awry of the cup. He had been bugged by whirring news cameras to the point where he asked them to "hold it," but said later, "I have absolutely no excuses."

St. Louis Blues See Red As North Stars Tie Series

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota North Stars expect things to be different this time around when they resume their Stanley Cup playoffs in the National Hockey League at St. Louis Tuesday night.

First, they figure to put on a better showing than when they lost 6-2 and 2-1 to the Blues last week in the start of the best-of-seven series.

Second, the North Stars are braced for the worst from the Blues' fans, who no doubt have heard by now what happened in Minnesota Saturday night and Sunday.

The North Stars, on goaltending by Gump Worsley and Cesare Maniago and scoring from Bill Goldsworthy, evened the playoffs with 4-2 and 4-0 victories.

Capacity crowds of almost 15,000 taunted, jeered and rattled the Blues. They also showered the Blues with beer, eggs and other debris. The North Stars could do no wrong, while the Blues did little right and even tried to climb the boards after their hecklers.

"We had so much pressure on us the last two weeks of the season to get into the playoffs," said Maniago, architct of Sunday's shutout, "the boys relaxed in the first two games. We weren't thinking playofff hockey.

"We'll go down there thinking different this time," said Maniago, who stopped 34 St. Louis shots for his first shutout in 18 career playoff games.

The sixth game will be played Thursday night in Minnesota, and the sevneth game in St. Louis if necessary.

About the crowd, Maniago said: "It's great to have the fans behind you. I guess the fans were giving the blues some of their own treatment."

St. Louis Coach Scotty Bowman, calm about the losses, said the crowd didn't have that much effect on the outcome.

"That first goal by Goldsworthy meant a lot," Bowman said. "It has in every game. We also have to cut down on penalties. We were short 10 minutes during the game and that takes a toll on any team.

"I don't think either team can afford penalties from now one."

Goldsworthy, now with four playoff goals and two assists, tipped in Ray Cullen's centering pass in the second period for the necessary goal. He scored the tie-breaking goal and added an insurance marker Saturday night.

Claude Larose, unassisted 10 seconds after his penalty: Tommy Williams, and Bob Barlow rounded out Minnesota's scoring Sunday.

Beaty Is Against ABA Cage Merger

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Zelmo Beaty, who jumped from the Atlanta Hawks of the National Basketball Association to the rival American Basketball Association, says the younger ABA should refuse to merge with the NBA.

The 6-foot-9 center, who has signed a contract to play next season with the Los Angeles Stars, says the ABA is in perfect position right now and should refuse to merge "because it would be on the NBA's terms."

"I don't think the ABA is concerned with a merger right now," he said. "It's not really necessary. This league has potential. In two or three years it's come a long way. If there is no merger, the leagues will be quite equal in a couple of more years—what with the balance of the college draft."

"In a few years, if there is a merger, it will have to be on the ABA's terms. This league already has one thing the NBA doesn't: there are some ABA teams in cities that are supporting basketball. Those are cities which the NBA took lightly."

Rumors recently said the Stars would be moved to Alburquerque for the 1970-71 season. Beaty says he'll play with the Stars "wherever they are."

"But I think the franchise would do well here next year and better the following year. This is going to be a good team," he said, putting heavy emphasis on the "good."

"If we turn out a good product, the people will come out to see us. Fans like winners and lately we've been winning. We simply have to keep it up next season and the fans are here, waiting to come out."

The Stars have won 17 of their last 21 games even though Beaty is under court-imposed exile. He must sit out this season in order to jump leagues.

Black Hawks Sweep Series From Wings

DETROIT (AP) — Any team that expects to knock Chicago out of the Stanley Cup playoffs had better: 1. kidnap Bobby Hull; 2. kidnap Stan Mikita; 3. kidnap Tony Esposito; or 4. maybe kidnap all the Black Hawks.

The Black Hawks haven't shown any signs of letting up after capturing the East Division title of the National Hockey League last week.

They burst Detroit's Stanley Cup hopes Sunday by skating to their fourth consecutive 4-2 quarterfinal playoff victory. It was the Red Wings first appearance in the playoffs since 1966 but they couldn't continue the pace that brought them there.

Detroit had lost only three of their last 19 regular season games.

"This is the most satisfying moment I've ever had in my life," said Chicago coach Billy Reay after Sunday's triumph. "Nobody rated this team at all at the start of the season but everybody just kept working."

"Mikita and Hull had their best games here," he added. "Bobby had 38 goals this season after missing 14 games as far as I'm concerned this was his best overall season."

"I think it was Mikita's best too."

Chicago will meet the winner of the Boston Bruins - New York Rangers series still underway.

Hull tallied three goals in the four games and had six assists to lead all scorers with nine points.

Mikita, who had a goal and two assists in Sunday's clincher, was next with seven points on three goals and four assists.

Esposito, the sensational rookie goalie who played college hockey at Michigan Tech, played all four games and stymied many Wing shots with tough saves.

But Reay had considerable praise for the less publicized Hawks.

"Guys like (Chico) Maki and (Eric) Nesterenko you never read about," he said in the calm but happy Chicago dressing room. "They do all the dirty work. Of course, you have to have the triggermen too—the guys who get 40 goals."

He added that Esposito should be awarded the Hart Trophy as the league's most valuable player over Boston's superstar defenseman Bobby Orr.

"Why?" Reay asked. "Because we finished first. What does a guy have to do to win it. Too many guys are measured by statistics sheets by the press, radio and TV."

Reay said his prime strategy for stopping Detroit in the series was to put Pit Martin and Nesterenko against the Wings' Garry Unger and Frank Mahovlich.

"I thought certain we'd win it if we stopped them," Reay said.

Unger, who scored 42 goals this season, was held to one assist in the playoffs. Mahovlich, who has been bothered by a sore knee, failed to get a point.

"We weren't chased out of any building in all four games," said Wings general manager-coach Sid Abel. "They just put the puck in the net more times."

"I don't want to take anything away from Chicago," he added. "But we did have some injuries."

Veteran superstar Gordie Howe, who scored two playoff goals, was bothered by a bad cold as was Bruce MacGregor. Besides Mahovlich's knee ailment, other Wings hampered were Dale Rolfe (elbow) nad Gary Gergman (foot).

Jim Pappin put Chicago ahead 1-0 Sunday with a goal at 4:32 of the first period on the Hawks first shot of the game. Howe tied it up five minutes later on a power play, then Mikita fired a goal past Detroit goalie Roger Croxier at 12:14 to make the score 2-1.

Dennis Hull's goal at 4:23 of the second period was countered by a Wing goal by Nick Libett at 14:16 on another power play. Maki completed the scoring and iced the victory with a tally at 11:26 of the final period that got past Roy Edwards who replaced Crozier late in the second period.

Whoever Chicago meets in the semifinal "we'll be ready for them," said Bobby Hull.

Reay said that baring injuries the Black Hawks had an excellent chance to win it all. But he smiled as he refered to the Boston-New York game Saturday which resulted in a playoff record for penalty minutes: "After looking at that game last night on TV I'd like to stay home."

Inland Reports Two Promotions

Promotions of two long-time Inland employes are being announced by John W. Moffat, vice president and general manager of the Gulliver plant.

William J. Hubble, Rte. 1, will advance to Mill Shift Foreman on Apr. 16. Hubble has worked for Inland since May 20, 1952 in various hourly mill jobs and as hourly relief foreman in recent years.

Clarence W. Irie, 502 Alger Ave., will become dispatcher on May 1. Irie began working at Inland on July 22, 1941 and has been locomotive engineer for the past 19 years.

Activity is increasing at the Gulliver plant with operations scheduled to begin today at the dolomite quarry. All but 28 men laid-off have been recalled to work and they are expected to return to work this week.

The first blast of the 1970 season was set off Apr. 1 in the high-calcium quarry. The mill began operating Apr. 6 when the first load of stone was dumped into the primary crusher and the shipping season got underway Apr. 7 with the arrival of the first boat of the season: the Nicolet.

The forecast for the 1970 season is that tonnages will be up somewhat from 1969.

Ceremonies Set For Councilmen

Councilmen-elect Thor Reque and Douglas Rose will be formally seated on the Manistique City Council in ceremonies preceding tonight's regular meeting. They will take the oath of office immediately following an official report certifying election results by the County Board of Canvassers.

Rose and Reque won election to four-year terms on the Council in the Apr. 6 city election. Reque will begin his second term while Rose is starting his first term.

A Mayor and Mayor Pro-tem will be elected following the official seating of the two councilmen. Leo DeMars is currently completing a two-year term as Mayor of the city.

Council's work agenda includes bid tabulation for the new Dept. of Public Works storage building and a chip spreader, action on requests from the Yacht Club for lease renewal and the U.S. Forest Service for dumping privileges at the city dump.

Reports and communications will also be heard from City Manager Robert Noe.

Council meets at 7:30 in council chambers of the new City Hall.

Head Start Kids Visit Fire Unit

Hiawatha Head Start children recently visited the Public Safety Fire Department and were treated to a tour by Officer Joseph Davis. High point of the visit came when the children were allowed to slide down the fire pole and sit in a fire truck.

The 15 visitors were accompanied by their teachers, Mrs. Otmer Schuster and Mrs. Francis Hyland.

The Hiawatha and Lutheran Schools Head Start Parents Organization are planning a joint potluck supper Apr. 22 at the Zion Lutheran Church. All Head Start parents, children and other interested persons are invited to attend the 6 o'clock supper.

Rev. and Mrs. David Barkley and Mrs. Marg Chandanais recently attended a Policy Advisory Committee meeting in Escanaba. Mrs. Chandanais reported on a Harrison meeting of the newly-organized Federation of Head Start Parents. The Federation meets May 2 in Detroit to elect officers.

Mrs. Chandanais, Hiawatha Parents chairman, asks that anyone wishing to donate articles for a rummage sale, sponsored by her group, call 341-6059 or drop off donations at 220 N. Third St.

Obituary

MICHAEL J. MAGNUSSON

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. from the Beaulieu Funeral Home in Newberry for Michael James Magnusson, 17, Newberry, who was killed in an automobile accident early Saturday morning on old M-117 in Mackinac County, about 15 miles south of Newberry.

The youth, who was driving the car when it went out of control, is a former Germfask resident. His brother Gary was injured in the mishap as well as two other Newberry youths.

Michael was born Feb. 28, 1953 in Manistique, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Magnusson. The family lived in Germfask until three months ago when they moved to Newberry. Michael attended the Germfask School and the Manistique High School. He was enrolled as a junior in the Newberry High School.

Survivors include his parents; six brothers, Gary and Paul, Germfask; Bruce, Larry, Tim and Patrick, Newberry; one sister, Bonnie; and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harris, Germfask.

Friends may call at the Beaulieu Funeral Home in Newberry this afternoon and evening to pay their respects.

Births

ZELLER — Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zeller, Germfask, are the parents of a son, weighing eleven pounds and eight and one-half ounces, born Friday, April 10, at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The mother is the former Rose Trombly.

Church Events

National Catholic Society Of Foresters

Susan Rodman will be installed as president of Manistique Court 992 during the regular meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Parish Center. A social hour and refreshments will follow the installation of officers and the meeting.

The annual Forester dinner party for husbands and guests will be held Saturday, Apr. 18 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. A social hour at 6:30 will be followed by a potluck supper.

Town Meeting Of Air TV Schedule Listed

Manistique residents may watch the third T.V. "Town Meeting of the Air" on Tuesday and Wednesday, Apr. 21-22, over Educational Television Channel 3, Marquette. The program may be viewed at 8 p.m. on the 21st and at 11:30 a.m. 3 and 8:30 p.m. on the 22ud.

"Pure water and clean air from the viewpoint of the individual citizen" is the topic to be discussed during the television program.

The additional broadcasts are being planned so that the largest possible number of citizens and young people will be able to watch the program.

Television camera crews are now at work photographing examples of problems which exist in the U.P. in regard to air and water purity. Featured on the program will be David Dennis, assistant director, Enforcement Division of Michigan Water Resources Commission, and Dr. Howard Tanner, director of Division of Natural Resources at Michigan State University.

Interviews with various U.P. authorities on environment and students at both Northern Michigan University and Michigan Technological University will be seen.

Viewers will be able to telephone their questions, ideas and concerns on the subject during the program.

Locally, a citizen-panel will meet at 8 p.m. Apr. 22 in the high school auditorium and, after viewing the 8 p.m. rebroadcast program, will answer questions from the audience.

The panel will include Boyd Briggs, County Sanitarian; Robert Noe, City Manager; Ed Doyle, Disposal Plant Superintendent; Frank Hoholik, President, Manistique Pulp and Paper Company; Glenn Bignall, MHS biology teacher; Don Hoholik, co-owner, Hoholik Plumbing Company; Erwin Simi, District Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service; and David Rood, Editor, Manistique Pioneer-Tribune.

Town Meeting local co-chairmen Dick Bonifas and Howard Handorf said they hoped all citizens who are interested in combating pollution will attend the panel discussion so that some of their questions may be answered. Sportsmen are particularly urged to attend so they might be informed on changes currently in the planning stages.

"We cannot effectively point our fingers at industry, city disposal plants, etc., if we do not clean up our own back yard first," Bonifas and Handorf said.

Briefly Told

Tuesday's hot lunch menu at the Manistique Area Schools will feature chili, homemade pan rolls, cheese slices and fruit.

Mrs. Donald Messier is a patient at St. Mary's Hospital, Lake St., Milwaukee, and may be addressed care of room 331-2.

The Community School Advisory Board meets tomorrow for a 12 o'clock luncheon-meeting in room 103 of the high school.

Michigan State Police ticketed Wayne Spaulding, 842 Garden Ave., and David Robertson, Wurtsmith AFB, Osceola, speeding; Richard Sobieski, Cooks, expired chauffeur's license, on Friday. Donald Moore, Virginia, Minn., reported to troopers Friday that on Apr. 8 his automobile struck and killed a deer on U.S. 2, Garfield Township, Mackinac County.

Hospital

Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Friday were Rose Zellar, Sheila Burton and Judith Osterhout.

Discharged were Demaris Jewett, Janice Engelhart, Muriel Cookson, Jacqueline Casey and Ernest Popour.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norberg Jr. of St. Joseph have returned after visiting with his mother, Mrs. Hazel Johnson, 119 Arbutus Ave.

The earliest written record of cheese dates back to 4,000 B. C. The first cheese factory in this country was built over a century ago.

Ohio Governor Cuts Off Fishing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes ordered a halt Sunday to all commercial fishing in Lake Erie and called on Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel for a complete investigation of mercury pollution in the lake.

Friday, Michigan Gov. William Milliken took action to ban sport fishing in Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair River because of mercury pollution. The province of Ontario has banned sports and commercial fishing in St. Clair waters and the Detroit River and has embargoed sale or export of Lake Erie catches.

Rhodes said he would permit sport fishing to continue in Lake Erie, but cautioned against eating any of the catch until the pollution investigation is completed.

In a telegram to Hickel, Rhodes said Lake Erie is an international body of water and "federal help will be needed to make a thorough check of mercury pollution and the sources thereof."

Rhodes said Ohio's departments of natural resources and agriculture would launch an immediate investigation to determine if any of the mercury compounds in Lake Erie are coming from Ohio sources.

"If we discover that any of the mercury is coming into the lake from Ohio, we will shut down the source immediately," Rhodes said.

Rhodes said tests have indicated the presence of mercury in various amounts in fish caught in Ohio Waters. The amount in some fish from Lake Erie was bove the .5 parts per million maximum allowed by the federal Food and Drug Administration

Rhodes ordered any fish in intrastate commerce seized of they contain more than .5 parts per million.

Robbery Victim

CHICAGO (AP) — A Detroit man was shot and killed Saturday night during a robbery of a lounge on Chicago's South Side. Police identified the dead man as Hobart Scott, 50, who was registered in a nearby hotel.

Two gunmen lined eight customers in the lounge against the wall, police said, and robbed them of $3,000. During the incident one of the men shot Scott in the chest.

Levels Of Mercury Reportedly High In Lake Fish Test

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A consumer specialist for the U.S. Food and Drug Administration says unacceptable levels of mercury have been found during tests of fish taken from Lake St. Clair.

Diane Place said the latest tests by FDA showed a northern pike from Lake St. Clair contained .8 parts per million of mercury while the maximum permitted by FDA in interstate commerce is .5 parts per million.

A white bass from a Canadian shipment contained .55 parts per million of mercury. She said the FDA will stop that shipment at the U.S.-Canadian border and make further tests.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture is testing fish samples from the St. Clair River and Lake Huron.

Sarnia Promises Pollution Action

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — The chairman of the newly - formed Sarnia, pollution probe, James Higgins, promises action on pollution problems in the area.

At the Sarnia and District Labor Council pollution conference Saturday, Higgins said it is time for something more definite to be done about the problem, rather than just monitoring pollutants.

Higgins said the Lambton Industrial Society has been monitoring pollution in the area for a number of years, but nothing has been accomplished.

Duncan Longwell, a former process worker at Polymer Corp. in Sarnia, told the pollution conference that dumping of caustics into the St. Clair River has been a common practice of industry in the area.

He said that on a number of occasions when the Ontario Water Resources Commission was conducting pollution surveys of the river, Polymer would hold off dumping caustics until late at night.

H. Mason Jones of the Industrial Society denied Longwell's statement. He said industry does not know when the commission's surveys are being taken.

THIS SALE MUST END SAT., APRIL 18TH

Add up to $400.00-A-MONTH to your health protection for only 25¢

(TO ENROLL ENTIRE FAMILY FIRST MONTH)

ACT NOW — YOU MUST MAIL APPLICATION FORM BELOW BY MIDNIGHT, THURS., APRIL 23, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

Here are the questions you'd normally ask your insurance man. But we answered them instead . . . so you would be able to insure yourself, right from this page. (You'll be amazed how much it saves you.)

1 When can I collect up to $400.00 A MONTH?

Every time you are confined to the hospital you collect $400.00 a month even for life, if necessary. Not just once, but for every new confinement! And you collect cash not just for yourself but for every Covered Member of your family — including spouse and children!

2 How can I collect extra cash—if I'm 65 or over?

If you are 65 or over, we pay you $200.00-a-month extra cash for the first 3 months and $400.00 monthly while continuously hospitalized afterwards, in addition to Medicare benefits. This is extra. You collect for each illness or injury—each time you go to the hospital.

3 When do I collect up to $2,000.00 extra cash for accidents?

We pay you $1,000.00 extra cash for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye, and $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes—even if it happens as long as 90 days after the accident. This is all extra money. You collect it on top of any other benefits we pay you. Not just for yourself but for every Covered Member of your family!

4 What if I am hospitalized by the same illness—again?

Don't worry. You still collect $400.00 a month and if you've already resumed full normal activities for just 90 days — we call it a "new confinement". Which means you can collect all over again, even for life, if necessary.

5 If I already have some health insurance—will you pay me anyway?

Of course! Never mind what you collect from Blue Cross, Blue Shield, or Workmen's Compensation, or any insurance you may have with other companies. (Even for the same illness!) We still pay you $400.00-a-month extra cash income. So if other insurance has taken care of some—or even all—of your medical bills . . . you still have that extra cash income from National Home.

6 Why do I need this Plan in addition to other hospital and health insurance?

While hospital costs have more than doubled in recent years, few people have doubled their insurance. If your other hospitalization policies are more than two years old, you have already lost ⅓ of the benefits DUE TO SKYROCKETING MEDICAL COSTS!

7 Do you pay me cash when my children go to the hospital?

Yes! And not just once but every time they are hospitalized, too! When you have Coverage for Children you receive $240.00-a-month extra cash for each dependent child between the ages of 1 month through 18 years.

8 Will future children be protected, too?

They surely will! And at no extra cost. When you have Coverage for Children (with or without Maternity Benefits), newborn children are automatically covered as soon as they are one month old.

9 Will you pay me $400.00-a-month cash—even for maternity care?

Yes, even when pregnancy requires hospitalization. Many health plans DON'T cover maternity expense. But under this Plan with Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits, you collect $400.00-a-month for each pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents must be enrolled in this Plan for the entire pregnancy.)

10 Does this Plan pay for a Registered Nurse at home?

Yes, in addition to the $400.00-a-month cash we send you for your hospital stay, we pay you an extra $400.00 a month if the doctor has you employ a full-time Registered Nurse to take care of you at home.

How comforting it is to know that —after your stay in the hospital, if you've been there five days or more— you can return home to recuperate and yet not be a burden to your loved ones. Yes, if your doctor has you employ a full-time Registered Nurse within 5 days after you come home, we'll pay you $400.00 a month. And your benefits continue for the same number of days you were hospitalized —up to 12 full months.

11 Are there times I might collect as much as $1,600.00 A MONTH?

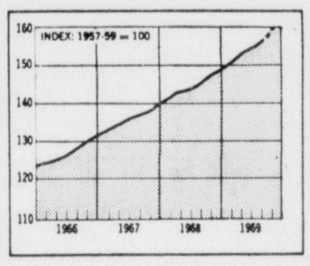

Yes, there are! Remember, we pay cash not just for you but for every Covered Member of your family. So if you or your spouse are hospitalized more than once . . . or even both of you more than once . . . or if a child gets sick or has an accident — you could end up collecting $10,000.00 or more! And that's not the whole story. This National Health Plan gives policyowners an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT. If you and your covered spouse are in an accident and both of you have to go to the hospital at the same time, National Home pays double cash amounts. You collect not $400.00 but $800.00 a month. Your spouse collects not $400.00 but $800.00 a month. That's $1,600.00 a month (when under age 65). Yes, $1,600.00 you can count on month after month—for as long as both of you remain in the hospital . . . even for life, if necessary.

12 Can I spend my cash benefits any way I please?

Certainly! You can even put them in the bank to replace savings spent while you were laid up in the hospital without income. It's your money — and all the cash comes direct to you, not to the doctor or hospital. (Unless, of course, you ask us to.)

Medical Costs Skyrocketing!

MEDICAL CARE COSTS rose in September, 1969, to 157.6% of the 1957-59 average from 156.8% a month earlier. These costs are components of the Government consumer price index.

13 What do others have to say about National Home?

"Received your check for $880.00. I appreciate having the money sent directly to me so I could decide how to use it."

NICHOLAS CRISTL, Green Bay, Wisc.

"It was wonderful to receive your check for $555.00. I'm very pleased. It paid real well."

MRS. BESSIE GEISINGER, Kansas City, Mo.

"Everyone should have your coverage. I know I wouldn't be without it."

WALTER TUCKER, Fayetteville, N.C.

14 Can I stop paying premiums during an extra long hospitalization—yet still remain fully covered?

Should you—the person to whom the basic Policy is issued—be hospitalized for 8 consecutive weeks or more, this National Health Plan will pay all premiums that come due for you and all Covered Members of your family while you are confined to the hospital beyond the initial 8-week period. And your protection continues just the same as if you were paying the premiums yourself.

15 How can you give me so much—for so little?

Because you deal direct with the company—direct with National Home itself! No middleman needed! Costly "processing charges" are eliminated. So is "red tape". You handle each simple step yourself — in your own home . . . in your own good time . . . by making up your own mind. And of course, dealing by mail is confidential. No one need know your personal affairs — except you!

16 Doesn't enrolling by mail take away the "personal" touch?

Certainly not! We give you more personal service, not less. But instead of getting it when you sign up—YOU GET IT WHEN YOU HAVE A CLAIM! That's where it really means something. And that's where National Home gives you plenty of service.

17 All right, now that you mention it—how do I go about submitting a claim?

As a National Home policyowner, you're entitled to contact FAST CLAIM HEADQUARTERS direct. No frantic attempts to locate your broker. No anxious waiting. If you have a claim for illness or injury, don't hesitate—CONTACT US DIRECT! Even if you only have a question! Don't worry about "inconveniencing" or "annoying" anyone. WE ARE ALWAYS READY AND HAPPY TO GIVE YOU THE PROMPT, COURTEOUS AND DIRECT ATTENTION YOU ARE ENTITLED TO AS OUR POLICYOWNER!

18 How else do you save me money by cutting "red tape"?

No lengthy, complicated applications or embarrassing personal "investigations"! The short Application Form on this page tells us all we need to know. Notice it doesn't ask for a medical examination. Or set an age limit. (As long as you have not been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance for reasons of health, we don't care if you're over 100!) Most important, we enroll many persons at the same time. Not one Policy at a time, the old-fashioned way, but thousands at once — using all the economies of mass printing and latest computer techniques. That's how we can give you so much for only 25¢.

19 Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my Policy cover?

Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your Policy pays during hospital confinement for EVERYTHING except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your Policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for two years. Everything else is definitely covered. The last item, by the way, is a real help if you already have a health problem. It means that even if you were sick before you took out this Policy—you will be covered for any recurrences of that condition after the Policy has been in effect for only two years.

20 If I'm hospitalized less than a month—do you still pay cash benefits?

Of course we do! Regardless of whether you are in the hospital for as little as one day—or as long as a week, month, year or more — even for life, if necessary.

21 Does this Plan pay in any hospital?

You are covered for care in the hospital of your choice except, of course, a U.S. Government hospital or a nursing or convalescent facility.

22 When do I start collecting $400.00-a-month tax-free cash?

You start collecting $400.00 a month TAX-FREE CASH as soon as you enter the hospital. There is no "waiting period."

23 Will my protection be cancelled for any reason?

No—positively not! Only you can cancel! This National Health Plan is GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE! That means regardless of how much or how often you collect . . . or how old you become . . . we can never cancel your valuable protection.

24 Why do I need this $400.00-a-month cash protection?

Because U.S. Government figures show that in the past few years alone . . . medical costs have DOUBLED! Yet few people have anywhere near enough protection to meet these soaring doctor and hospital bills. How much would a long hospital stay cost you? Or a loved one? How would you ever pay for costly X-rays, doctor bills, medicines and drugs not covered by your present insurance? Would you be able to afford the quiet and dignity of a private room and a private nurse? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones. Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? And who would pay for rent, food, clothing and household expenses—all the non-medical bills that keep coming in at home even though you are in the hospital without an income? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet runaway hospital and medical costs. And no one knows whose turn it will be next—yours or mine. But we both know that once the doctor says you have to enter the hospital, it is too late to buy coverage at any price. That's why this protection was designed to give you the "extra help" you need — when you need it.

25 When may I enroll in this National Health Plan?

The question is not "when may" but "when must?" YOU ABSOLUTELY MUST ENROLL BY THE DATE SHOWN ON THE APPLICATION FORM ON THIS PAGE. YOUR 25¢ AND COMPLETED FORM MUST BE POSTMARKED NO LATER THAN THAT DATE OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED.

26 When will my Policy arrive?

Right away! We mail your Policy as soon as we accept your Application Form and 25¢. Examine it in the privacy of your own home. It's a very short document and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover — THERE IS NO "FINE PRINT"! If you wish, show it to someone you trust — perhaps your lawyer, accountant or banker. Better still, show it to your own insurance man—even though he may be working for another insurance company. If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests in mind. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere — at any price.

27 What if I change my mind—can I get my money back?

You certainly can! Even after you mail your Application Form . . . even after you examine your Policy in your own home and talk it over with anyone you wish . . . even after all this, you are still free to change your mind. Simply return the Policy within 15 days after you receive it, and your quarter will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever. Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind, you will be protected by $400.00-a-month extra cash benefits from the Effective Date on the Policy —even if you finally decide to return the Policy and get your quarter back.

But we don't think you'll want your quarter back. We think, instead, you'll want to continue your valuable protection at National Home's amazing low rates.

28 How much does this protection cost after the first month?

The following rate chart shows you how little it costs, after the first month, to protect yourself, your spouse and any adult dependent. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue you only one policy of this type. Each adult, 16 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium per Adult
16-44	only $3.45
45-49	only $3.95
50-54	only $4.45
55-74	only $4.95
75-79	only $5.95
80 and over	only $6.95

Only $1.90 more per month covers all your dependent, unmarried children . . . from the age of 1 month through 18 years. And then, if you wish, just add 95¢ monthly to that, and you're completely covered for Maternity Benefits, too! Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost!

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state.

29 How do I enroll?

If what you have read on this page makes good honest sense to you . . . if you find yourself agreeing with thousands of other Americans who welcome this sensible way to save money by "insuring themselves"—then by all means act on your own good instincts and mail the Application Form with 25¢ now! Please act without delay. NO SALESMAN WILL CALL. Please mail it NOW — because once accident or illness strikes—it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any price. Remember, the sooner you mail your Form, the sooner your protection will start. So act today—before anything unexpected happens.

NO AGE LIMIT — NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION
NO SALESMAN WILL CALL

Increased Education Funds Could Jolt Nixon's Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's shakily balanced budget, already teetering as a result of salary increases won by postal and other government workers, will be jolted this week by House demands for increased education spending.

An appropriations bill calling for a $319 million increase in Nixon's 1971 education budget will be voted on Tuesday and anywhere from $100 million to $300 million extra is likely to be added on the House floor.

With further increases possible when the bill goes to the Senate, the Democratic-controlled Congress is readying an election-year challenge to Nixon over the level of federal aid to education.

In the wake of the nation's first postal strike, Congress is on the verge of approving a 6 per cent pay hike for all mail workers, military personnel and most other government employes. This is expected to add about $1.2 billion this year to President Nixon's budget calling for expenditures of $197.9 billion. Some predict the added costs will boost Nixon's budget over the $200 billion mark for the first time in history.

Nixon Vetoed Increase

Nixon vetoed a $1 billion boost in education funds for the current fiscal year, but still was forced to accept a sizable increase. Supporters of higher spending are proceeding more cautiously this year and think a veto is unlikely.

The coalition of education organizations that has led the battle for additional money figures its battle has resulted in the Nixon administration and the House Appropriations Committee putting nearly $600 million more into school-aid programs than they intended.

Nixon increased his own 1971 education budget by $270 million three weeks ago to reflect some of the higher levels of the 1970 bill that he finally signed. And the Appropriations Committee, which is dominated by fiscal conservatives, added its $319 million on top of that in hopes of thwarting any higher increases.

Lobbyists At Work

At a meeting last Friday the education lobby decided to push for increases in at least three sections—library services, higher education and the impacted areas program, which provides funds for school districts heavily affected by children of federal employes.

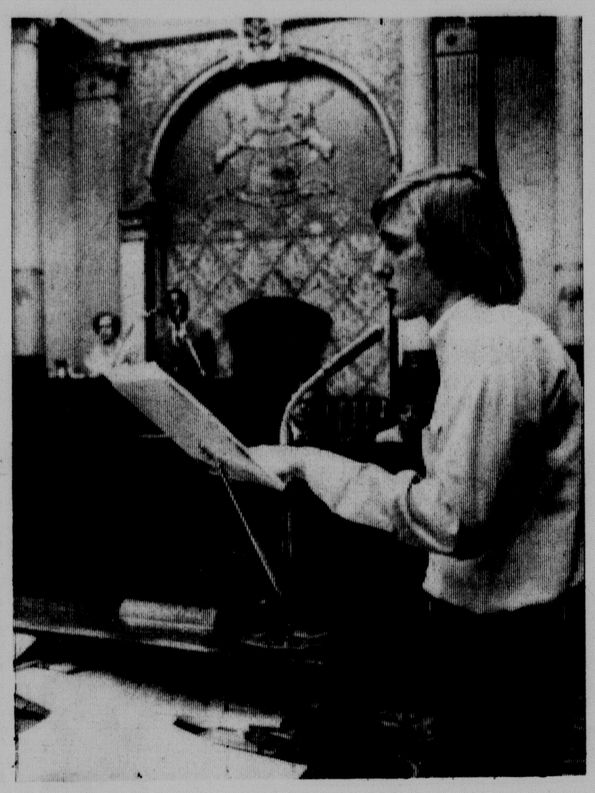

The specific amounts to be sought were not decided, but the biggest increase is certain to be in the impacted areas program, which the past several administrations have tried in vain to cut.

The committee bill provides only $425 million for the program—the amount Nixon has said he will spend if the program is reformed along lines he has recommended.

Success Doubtful

But the reform bill has little or no chance of success and an attempt to raise the $425 million to at least $520 million—the 1970 level—is practically guaranteed.

The education lobby also would like to provide more funds for student loans and grants, and to put something into the construction of college academic facilities above the zero funding provided by both the budget and the appropriations bill.

Protest Planned Against Using Tax Monies For War

WASHINGTON (AP) — While millions of Americans grumble quietly about paying income taxes, three peace groups are planning protests this week against using the tax money for war.

Start With "Fast"

Starting today with a fast, including a "nondinner" scheduled at Lafayette Park across from the White House, protest leaders say the three days before Wednesday's midnight deadline for filing tax returns will be filled with rallies, demonstrations and student strikes in more than 150 cities and on hundreds of college campuses.

The war protests were called by the New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, the Vietnam Moratorium Committee and the Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

Rallies Planned

Protest leaders are planning rallies and demonstrations Wednesday to focus on the past and present use of tax money for war spending. They say they also want to show the relationship of the Vietnam war to inflation and social problems.

The taxpayer rallies in most cities, organizers said, would be held in front of or near Internal Revenue Service centers. They also plan "Boston Tea Party" demonstrations, the passing out of leaflets in shopping areas, and the circulation of petitions and antiwar literature.

Rallies are slated for such cities as Boston, New York, Baltimore, Newark, Knoxville, Chicago, Cleveland, Denver, Houston and Dallas. But national organizers also claimed many smaller cities and towns would be having demonstrations.

Program Endorsed

The Vietnam Moratorium Committee says eight U.S. senators and 17 representatives have endorsed the taxpayer rallies. It also claimed endorsements from more than 300 student leaders.

The Student Mobilization Committee, which called a student strike for April 15, said it is unable to predict how many campuses it would hit, but one spokesman said "probably a couple of hundred." He said that for example the student governments of three Boston area colleges are supporting the strike.

Snow Warnings Up In Midwest

By The Associated Press

Stormy weather in every form struck the nation's midsectionarly today and heavy snow warnings were out in parts of Minnesota and the Dakotas.

Strong winds blew snow across the upper Mississippi Valley to the north and Central Plains. Thunderstorms with hail and gusty winds pounded the Midwest to the lower Mississippi Valley.

Stockmen's warnings were in effect for Dakotas as more of the heavy snow which fell Sunday was expected for southeast North Dakota, extreme east South Dakota and parts of west central and southwest Minnesota.

Four inches of additional snow fell early today at Aberdeen, S.D., making a total of a foot on the ground.

Several persons in the Decatur area of east central Illinois were injured Sunday when high winds overturned trailers and knocked down trees and power lines. Some of the injured were reported in serious condition.

Travelers warnings of high winds were issued today for Nebraska and Kansas.

Wind gusts to 67 miles per hour lashed Imperial in southwest Nebraska Sunday.

Meanwhile, fair weather prevailed over the East and the southern edge of the country. Skies over the West were partly cloudy and temperatures were mostly seasonal.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 18 at Rawlins and Evanston, Wyo., to 77 at Key West, Fla.

Art Theft

DETROIT (AP)—Two Picasso prints valued at $16,000 were stolen Sunday from an art exhibit at Temple Israel in Detroit.

The missing lithographs, entitled "Femme Au Chapeau" and "petit Dessinateur," were among several Picassos on display.

Will Senators Feel Heat From Carswell Vote?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats Albert Gore of Tennessee and Ralph Yarborough of Texas may get the most heat because of their votes against G. Harold Carswell, but other senators up for re-election this year could feel a warm breeze or two.

This early opinion comes from politicians in several key states and from the senators themselves in the wake of last Wednesday's 51-45 Senate rejection of President Nixon's second try at appointing a Southern judge to the Supreme Court.

"Only time can tell," Gore said Sunday when asked what impact his anti-Carswell vote will have on his effort to win another term.

But he said his decisions against Carswell, and against Clement F. Haynsworth last fall, "were very hurtful to me."

Texas politicians believe Yarborough's vote against Carswell definitely will affect his current primary race with Lloyd Bentsen, who supported the nomination.

"Sen. Yarborough should vote for Texas at least once in a while," Bentsen said after Carswell was rejected. "The defeat was a combination of anti-South, ultra-liberal forces that think the Supreme Court is a place to write laws rather than interpret them."

The Democratic primary winner probably will face another Carswell supporter in the general election, Rep. George Bush, a Houston Republican.

In Tennessee, Gore is expected to win the Aug. 6 Democratic primary and most likely will face Rep. William E. Brock in November.

Cambodia Sites Attack Targets

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops made new attacks Sunday on two towns along Highway One near the South Vietnamese border, Radio Phnom Penh announced.

The broadcast reported an attack on Prasaut, the fourth in the past week, and another on Kompong Trabek, 35 miles to the west, which has been the scene of fighting in the last two days.

Military sources reported earlier that the Cambodian troops had withdrawn to a point just west of Prasaut after fighting Saturday night. The Viet Cong then were reported on three sides of the town but had not entered it.

The Cambodian government has concentrated most of its forces in the area in Svay Rieng, the provincial capital almost midway between Prasaut and Kompong Trabek on Highway One. Refugees also have been flooding into the town.

Radio Phnom Penh reported attacks in two other areas—west and northeast of Svay Rieng—where the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese for years have moved freely back and forth across the border.

The broadcast said one assault was made on an outpost at Snuol, in eastern Cambodia adjoining War Zone C in South Vietnam and 85 miles north of Saigon. Another attack was reported on a post on the west bank of the Mekong River in Kandal province near the Plain of Reeds.

The government radio said both these attacks were made "with the active participation of Vietnamese residents" but gave no other details.

Astronauts Prepare For Moon Landing

Rocket Ready For Explosive Lunar Crash

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Apollo 13's astronauts today sped quietly and flawlessly toward a Tuesday rendezvous with the moon while ground controllers tracked a rocket stage headed for an explosive impact on the lunar surface.

James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr. retired early today for 10 hours rest. Mission Control planned to let them sleep past noon.

Lovell Sleeps Well

Medics reported that Lovell, the only one of the three wired for medical monitoring, slept soundly.

Trailing about 900 miles behind Apollo 13 was the third stage of the Saturn 5 rocket that hoisted the astronauts away from planet earth Saturday.

Signals from the ground shifted the 61-foot stage to a collision course with the moon. Mission Control said tracking data today shows it will strike the surface about 8:10 p.m. (EST) Tuesday about 105 miles west of a seismometer left on the moon by the Apollo 12 astronauts in November.

Head For Moon Orbit

That is about half an hour after Apollo 13 is to fire into moon orbit. The astronauts won't see the impact because they will be on the far side of the moon.

Seismic experts estimate the 15-ton stage will smash with a force equal to 11 tons of TNT, and that it will gouge a crater 100-120 feet deep. The resulting tremors, recorded by the seismometer, should tell scientists

Guild Sets Strike Vs. New York Post

NEW YORK (AP) — The Newspaper Guild has broken off talks with the New York Post and called a strike for 6 a.m. Tuesday.

Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the New York guild, announced the strike deadline Sunday evening after a negotiating session he described as unfruitful.

He said he had advised federal mediator A. A. Desser: "It would be unadvisable to call us into another meeting until management wants to make the concessions they should have made tonight in order to avoid a strike."

In a statement for the Post, chief negotiator Sidney Orenstein said: "The Post regrets that the guild has seen fit to set a strike date—less than 28 hours away—in the midst of negotiations which we considered fruitful.

Gov. Kirk Ends Holdout, Eyes Federal Help

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk, after defying a federal judge for a week, has ended his personal rule of the Manatee County schools. He says the solution to his integration battle lies with the courts.

Kirk's move Sunday cleared the way for court-ordered racial balancing of 17,000 pupils in the county's schools. It also apparently purged him of contempt of a federal court and the threat of a $10,000 fine a day until he stopped blocking desegregation by busing.

The governor said he was ending his control of schools in Manatee, a Gulf Coast county just south of Tampa, because the U.S. Justice Department had agreed to help him seek modification of the plan that requires busing of an additional 2,600 pupils.

In Washington a Justice Department spokesman said the department had agreed only to seek more study of the desegregation plan ordered by U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Krentzman in Tampa.

Income Tax Far Away From Swigert's Mind

As a bachelor earning $20,385 a year the reason might have been just a delay in paying the large chunk of money due and, anyway, he was busy helping friends prepare for a long trip. April 15, after all, was still several days away.

But at the last minute something happened to make one friend miss the trip and Swigert went instead.

He went so fast, that not only did the income tax slip his mind, he also forgot to take a card that outlined some very important plans for the trip.

Then, on Sunday, came the revelation. It was akin to the situation of many a traveler who remembers, halfway to the seashore, that he left his wallet on the kitchen table.

By this time he was halfway to the moon on Apollo 13.

Somewhat sheepishly, Swigert asked if he could have some flight plan changes read up to him.

"I think that I forgot and left that card back during the suiting," he said. "I left it in the suit room."

Later, Swigert and the other two astronauts were having the day's news read to them when came an item that began: "Today's favorite pastime across the U.S. . . ."

Capsule communicator Joseph Kerwin reading the item, stopped and said: "Oh, oh, have you guys filed your income tax yet?"

It was one of those light remarks that always pass between ground and spacecraft to break the monotony of the interminable numbers that are passed verbally back and forth.

"How do I apply for an extension?" said Swigert, suddenly alert. There was a lot of laughter.

"Hey listen," said Swigert, "that's not funny. Things kinda happened real fast down there and I do need an extension. I didn't get mine filed."

More laughter.

"I'm really serious," came the voice from space. "I may be spending time in another quarantine besides the one they are planning for me."

Now the ground was soothing. It'd be taken care of. There was some more banter about having an agent meeting the crew on the recovery carrier in the Pacific on splashdown, before the quarantine that ends May 8.

Later Swigert was told about an Internal Revenue Service regulation that provides an automatic extension for anyone out of the country.

"That's good news," said Swigert. "I guess I qualify."

Secret Notes Part Of SALT Mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bearing secret instructions from President Nixon, U.S. negotiators set out today for a crucial round of talks with the Soviets on curbing the arms race between the two superpowers.

The six-man team led by U.S. disarmament chief Gerard South is stopping first at Brussels to brief the NATO allies Tuesday on the forthcoming U.S.-Soviet Strategic Arms Limitation Talks—SALT.

Then Thursday, at Vienna, the U.S. envoys sit down with their Soviet opposites to begin tough bargaining that is expected to go on for months. The two sides held a preliminary discussions session at Helsinki last fall.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union are moving cautiously on SALT, which involves the basic nuclear weapons power of both nations. If an agreement is reached, it will be a landmark of the atomic age.

Nixon met with the U.S. negotiators over the weekend, gave them final instructions and wished them well.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler gave no hint of what the instructions are. Reporting on the 50-minute meeting at the White House, he said only that "the delegation is going to Vienna with a constructive attitude."

Other sources said they expect the United States will offer a specific missile curb proposal at Vienna a few days after the April 16 opening. They doubted the proposal would be for a general missile freeze at the outset, though they left open this possibility later on.

Hijacked Vessel Arrives In Port

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (AP) — Columbia Eagle, the U.S. munitions ship held three weeks in Cambodian waters after two crewmen hijacked it, arrived at the U.S. Navy's Subic Bay base today.

The freighter prepared to unload her 1,750-ton cargo of bombs and ammunition, which she was carrying to U.S. forces in Thailand when the hijackers seized the ship March 18.

Chicago Scene Of Truck Strike

By The Associated Press

About 32,000 truck drivers today struck an estimated 1,300 Chicago area trucking firms that failed to reach agreement over the weekend with trucking unions, and drivers from North Carolina to California remained off their jobs.

Five Chicago trucking associations which refused to sign contracts with either the Teamsters or the independent Chicago Truck Drivers Union locked out another 35,000 drivers and dockmen.

The more than 1,000 companies which signed contracts agreed to the unions' demands for a $1.65 an hour wage boost over three years. The national Teamsters Union leadership and the country's carriers already have settled for a $1.10 increase.

The national membership, which still must vote on the offer, is closely watching the development in Chicago and would be reluctant to settle for anything less than what the Chicago drivers get.

Teamsters in Colorado, Wyoming and Milwaukee already had voted to reject the national contract offer.

Arena Board Studying Total Sports Complex

The Community Indoor Ice Arena Corp. said today that "the feasibility of a community sports complex" is being investigated from several standpoints.

Ronald F. DeVos, treasurer of the corporation, responded to an editorial in Saturday's Escanaba Daily Press which suggested that perhaps the corporation should investigate the feasibility of including a swimming pool in planning for an ice arena.

"Contrary to the editorial in last Saturday's Press, an arena-pool sports complex has been given a great deal of thought, all positive thought," DeVos said.

"The Arena Board is thinking big, bigger than we ever believed we could think. Let the community be assuered that if there is any way on earth to have a sports complex, we'll have it."

Ball Is Rolling

DeVos said the ball "has been rolling since the first week after the Arena Telethon.

"The overwhelming response of the public showed the Arena Board of Directors that the community was whole-heatedly behind the project we first planned, an ice arena, and our thinking immediately broadened to bigger and better things.

"Since then we have been quitely but actively investigating the feasibility of a community sports complex from several standpoints and we are presently gathering facts and figures to determine our future course.

Prospects, Not Promises

"We haven't talked too publically about our investigation because we didn't want to disappoint the community if we got too confident of having a sports complex only to find that money was not available," DeVos said.

"We still don't want to have anyone misunderstand our position for one moment. We have prospects, but not promises. The sports complex is a possibility at this time and not a probability as yet."

The Daily Press suggested editorially that there is a need in the community for an indoor swimming pool and urged that the Community Indoor Ice Arena Corp. explore the possibility of adding a swimming pool to the arena project.

The Press pointed out that while the community response to the Ice Arena Telethon was tremendous that some form of government financing may be necessary to build an arena and that government money "might be more readily available for a project with greater recreational potential."

Plan Observance Of Library Week

Launched in the Spring of 1958, National Library Week was started to provide interest among the large number of Americans who have never read a book.

This was the first concerted nationwide effort to focus public attention on reading as a source of personal fulfillment, on the importance of literacy in our national progress, and on the libraries which, used fully and supported properly, can make reading accessible to everybody, reports Mrs. Lillian Brookes, librarian.

The Escanaba Public Library will join other libraries of the nation in observing National Library Week April 12-18, she said.

Slogan for the observance is "Reading is for Everybody." Many new fiction and non-fiction books are shelved in a special section. In honor of William Shakespeare, who had a birthday in April, there is a display of books relative to his life and writings.

An art exhibit featuring portraits of local people by Escanaba artists will be a highlight of the week's events. A collection of art reproductions is available for loan to library patrons. There will be a "Music Night" every evening featuring records from the library's music department.

Children are invited to attend a half-hour "Book Fest" on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday afternoons from 4-4:30 in the Children's Room. Visitors will be given book marks as souvenirs.

A booklet entitled "Growing Up With Books" listing 300 books which every child should have a chance to enjoy is available, she reported.

Theatre Slates Final Production Of Winter Series

MARINETTE — The final production of the Winter Series of Theatre On The Bay on the Marinette County Campus of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay will be presented Saturday, Sunday and Monday at 8:15 p.m.

Directed by Herbert Williams, the drama will be Edward Albee's "Everything in the Garden" from the play by Giles Cooper. Tickets are on sale at the campus business office or may be purchased at the box office preceding each performance.

Mackinac College Put Up For Sale

MACKINAC ISLAND — Mackinac College, which is closing down in June after the commencement exercises for its first senior class, is up for sale.

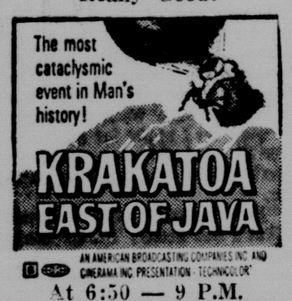

The $13 million campus, much of it newly built, has been put on the block for $7.5 million.

An initial down payment of $2 million will be accepted by the Board of Trustees, according to Robert E. Reilly of Previews, Inc., Chicago, international real estate marketing firm which is handling the sale.

The financial difficulties of the college, Reilly said, stem from the heavy expenses of a huge building program during the last two years, a smaller enrollment than proved practicable, and the lack of a supporting alumni group for the new institution.

Police Search For Walkaways

MARQUETTE — State Police and other law enforcement agencies throughout the Upper Peninsula are on the lookout for a pair of trusties who walked away from the Marquette State Prison facilities.

The two fugitives, although they left from different places at different times, are believed by police and prison officials to be together. Both are white.

The two are:

Paul David Heath, 27, sentenced from Iron County in November, 1969, to a term of 3-15 years on a charge of breaking and entering, left the prison dairy farm at about 8:30 p.m.

Charles Seifert, 28, who was sentenced in Clinton County to a 5-20 year term for armed robbery and received at the prison here last Dec. 17, left the outside dormitory at about 9 p.m.

Heath, who was wearing brown denim clothing, is described at 5 feet, 8½ inches tall, weighing 178 pounds, and has blue eyes, blond hair and fair complexion. He has a small cut scar at the corner of his right eye and a small cut scar behind the point of his chin.

Seifert, dressed in blue denim pants and a white sweatshirt, is 5 feet, 9 inches tall and weighs 150 pounds. He has brown eyes, dark brown hair and a small blue marking on the inner left cheek.

In Service

Navy Airman Kenneth A. Winters, 306 N. 18th St., Escanaba, is on standby aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Iwo Jima in the Atlantic Ocean as part of the Apollo 13 recovery force.

Seaman Apprentice Marshall A. Joncas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Joncas of 205 Ogden Ave., graduated from the two-month Naval Submarine School at Groton, Conn. This school trains more than 20,000 students annually.

POLLUTION DETECTOR — With a contaminated atmosphere as a background, Lydia Schmitt displays a new RCA electronic device — a "Quantacon" tube — that is expected to play an important role against air and water pollution. It is a super-sensitive light detector and will be the heart of future electronic instruments for measuring contaminants in the air, rivers, lakes and streams. The tube also may be used in nuclear, biological and astronomical research.

Democrats Start Petition Drive For Nino Green

MACKINAW CITY — A petition drive to have Nino Green's name placed on the Aug. 4 primary ballot as a candidate for Congress from the 11th District of Michigan was kicked off Saturday at a meeting of the 11th District Democratic Party organization.

Green, of Gladstone, called for a campaign which will "demonstrate that Americans want more effective representation in Washington."

Philip E. Ruppe of Houghton, a Republican, is presently serving his second term as 11th District congressman.

"The average American is neither flattered nor served by those who urge him to remain silent and accept mediocrity in high public office," Green said. "Americans must demand nothing less than excellence in government. We have heard from the far right and we have heard from the far left. We have done enough listening. It is time to be involved, and for the majority of Americans to be heard."

Attorney Francis Brouillette was elected to the office of Treasurer of the district organization. Brouillette, who is Dickinson County Prosecuting Attorney and resides in Iron Mountain, has been active in the Democratic Party both in Dickinson County and the 11th District, and served as a delegate to the 1968 National Convention. He replaces Green, who resigned in order to concentrate his efforts on the Congressional campaign.

'Know Your Country' Book Now On Sale

The League of Women Voters of Escanaba has completed its study of county government and has published the information in a booklet entitled "Know Your County, Delta County, Michigan."

Its 50 pages contain a wide variety of information on all aspects of government, with many pictures and charts.

It was compiled by Mrs. Louis Gregory and Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder who served as editor and co-editor respectively. Many other League members helped with the preparation.

The "Know Your County" booklet includes information on the history of the county; its economic, physical, and cultural characteristics; all aspects of Delta County government including its structure and function, party organization, elections, finance, law enforcement and courts, social services, health services, and highways; township government; libraries; and educational facilities.

In addition to the information on Delta County, there is pertinent information about Escanaba and Gladstone. Maps of streets and voting precincts are included for each community.

Information of special interest often difficult to find includes a formula for computing local taxes, a chart listing facts about Delta County public school districts with up-to-date statistics, and a map showing the various townships and school districts located geographically.

In order to become fully recognized, each League must make a thorough study of its local government. From time to time it must revise and update it. In previous editions the Escanaba League made a study of Escanaba only. In this complete revision it broadened its study io include Delta County.

This booklet is available for $1 from any League member or from Mrs. Mosenfelder, 786-1430.

Search For Lost Plane Called Off

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — U.S. Military authorities Sunday called off search operations for 11 persons — including one from Michigan — aboard a C130 Air Force transport plane that crashed into the Pacific off Okinawa Friday.

Authorities said the men, all of whom were believed killed in the crash included Capt. Reynold Dryden, pilot, Benton Harbor, Mich.

The plane was reported to have crashed into the sea about 20 miles southeast of the main Okinawa island shortly after taking off from a U.S. air base on a routine training flight.

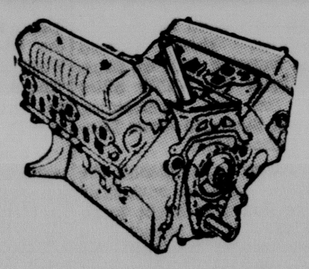

Authorities said an investigation was started to determine the cause of the accident.

Money Bill

LANSING (AP) — A bill giving Grand Valley State College greater flexibility in repayment of borrowed funds has been signed into law by Gov. William Milliken. The bill gives the college board of control authority to use federral funds to repay borrowings. Central, Eastern, Northern and Western Michigan Universities already have this authority.

The average investment per U.S. farm doubled between 1950 and 1958 and more than doubled between 1958 and 1968.

To A Clean County

Students of Escanaba have taken a refreshing approach to the environmental problems of the nation.

Although probably possessed with the same sense of indignity that student environmental and ecological groups advance about the state of the earth, the Escanaba Area Student Council has lifted itself above the mere protest stage. In the Council's "Mother Earth" program which will take many directions during the next month, students have pledged not only to learn about environmental problems but to try to do something about them.

Saturday, April 18, students will participate in class competition to cleanup the high school campus and Saturday, April 25, service clubs, student councils and other student volunteers from both Escanaba and Holy Name will join in a cleanup of Ludington Park, removing the debris which accumulated over a long winter of snowmobiling and snow dumping.

The projects are of the kind that student manpower can tackle successfully with maximum result. They also demonstrate a seriousness of purpose not evident in the shouting and banner waving that goes on in many student movements where too often energy is directed at getting someone else to do all the work.

It's easy enough to point a finger at a problem, but it takes something more to try to do something about it.

Fredric Jurmu, president of the Student Council at Escanaba Area High School, said the "Mother Earth" program which is timed to overlap the nation-wide "Earth Day" on April 22 has two basic purposes: to organize constructive efforts to clean up the environment and to focus public attention on environmental quality legislation.

Both purposes are noteworthy and deserve commendation as well as further consideration in the community.

Why not an area-wide cleanup day, for example?

There are many service clubs in Delta County and each has its own specific service programs, but a cleanup-day would be something where all of the membership of all of the clubs could get involved and it would mean more than simply writing a check to a worthy organization.

A little work never hurt anybody, so the saying goes.

Maybe the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air which has directed its prime efforts at atmospheric quality in the county also would wish to get involved.

The students have the jump on the rest of the county with cleanup programs already scheduled for April 18 and April 25 and it probably wouldn't be possible to generate a total county effort on such short notice. But the rest of the spring and summer is waiting.

Is anybody listening?

A 15-year-old St. Paul youth has been arrested in connection with the March 4 shooting death of a former Kingsford youth. Daniel Joseph Johnson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Johnson of St. Paul, was killed only a few blocks from his home after getting off a bus. The Johnsons lived in Kingsford before moving to St. Paul five years ago. St. Paul police said the 15-year-old charged in the shooting was a "good friend" of the Johnson youth. His case is being handled in juvenile court.

A hearing into charges brought against District Judge Bert M. Heideman was conducted in Houghton recently by Circuit Judge Stuart Hoffius of Grand Rapids. The complaint, brought by the Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission, charged Heideman with misconduct constituting violation of the requirements for standards of judicial conduct under the General Court Rules of 1963. Hoffius will make findings of fact and conclusions of law which he will present to the judicial tenure commission.

An oil spill in Falls River in L'Anse has produced minor damage, said Bernie Yikanen of the Department of Natural Resources. He reported that the spill was approximately from 300 to 500 gallons of fuel oil flushed into the drains at the Spur Station in L'Anse, when a plastic hose broke as the oil was being transferred to tanks. The department has watched the drainage into the river but there was only minor damage. Yikanen said that seepage was barely visible in the river after the first flow of oil. However, some fishermen claim there has been a fish kill and that those fish caught in the area tasted of fuel oil.

Citizen Actions Allowed Under Environment Bill

By LARRY KURZ
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP) — The state may sue someone because of cyanide leakage at Ludington.

Canadian and Michigan officials are up in arms over mercury contamination in fish.

Private citizens—unable now to do much about either problem—could swing their weight if a bill in the Michigan Legislature became law.

No longer would they first have to show personal loss and then settle for the decisions of local or state officialdom.

The issue would be the "public trust" in the environment.

The far-reaching proposal, setting a specific yet all-embracing standard for environmental equality, would make anyone fair game for a suit. Not even the state itself would be immune. Suits could be brought by anyone—individual, group, agency or association.

Governor Supports Bill

The bill, known as the Environmental Protection Act of 1970, has won the endorsement of Gov. William Milliken and a House committee. It comes up for debate Wednesday.

However, it has a long way to go. And the Michian Chamber of Commerce, for one, wants changes to clarify terms and protect defendants from wrongful actions.

As the bill now stands, it puts the final squarely in the hands of the courts, to the point—if necessary—of upsetting standards of state agencies.

The bill is substantially the work of University of Michigan law professor Joseph Sax, although some changes were made by Joseph Thibodeau, Milliken's legal advisor.

Patchwork Of Laws

Sax's arguments go something like this:

Michian has a patchwork of environmental laws, some good —some bad. There is no broad standard for protection of natural resources.

Agencies responsible for resource protection do not always follow through on complaints. Neither do local authorities. But courts have been reluctant to intrude into the realm of administrative agencies, Sax says.

The result has been a dead end for many pollution complaints.

But under the Environmental Protection Bill, a complaint need not die in an agency.

A case might develop this way:

A suit is filed in circuit court. Noting that the matter has not been decided by an administrative agency concerned with the issue, the court refers the case to the agency. After reviewing the matter, the agency upholds the industry accused. The complainant presses his case with the circuit judge. A review is made of whether the agency gave adequate consideration to protection of natural resources from "unreasonable" pollution or damage. The end result of the proceedings might be victory for the complainants and upgrading of an agency's standards.

Anyone May File

Under the bill, anyone—or any group—may file a suit "for the protection of the public trust in the air, water and other natural resources of the state from unrasonable pollution, impairment or destruction."

The key point to be considered by the courts would be whether the defendant has, or is likely to "unreasonably pollute, impair or destroy the public trust in the air, water or other natural resources."

The Chamber of Commerce argues ths is too vague. It says "other natural resources" should be defined more sharply.

For example, a proposed new development might be attacked on many points falling under such a term. This, the chamber says, might discourage industry.

When hearings were held on the original bill, opponents contended such a law might bring a flood of frivolous suits.

Injunction Possible

Supporters contend courts will not issue wholesale injunctions, but will wait, instead, until administrative remedies have been exhausted. However, courts could issue temporary injunctions pending the outcome of an agency's review.

The chamber dislikes this also, feeling that a firm should not face such an injunction as long as it is abiding by the standards of a state agency. The agency standards should be changed first, the chamber says.

The burden of proof in any suit would be on the accuser, and the defendant would have the additional recourse to an "affirmative defense." This means he may defend himself on grounds that he has no feasible alternative and that his action is "consistent with" promotion of public health, safety and welfare. In the original bill, the phrase was "required by." Thibodeau changed it.

Similiar U.S. Bill

Thibodeau says that in a similar bill now before the U.S. Senate Commerce Committee, there is a provision for a security deposit to protect a defendant in the event he is wrongfully enjoined. The chamber favors such a provision in the Michigan bill.

Whatever the outcome of the proposal, it will not simply be a matter of finding a sympathetic judge to shut down an industry.

Anyone who wants to file a suit will have to have a good case and be ready to pursue it.

Former President Of SDS Grows Up

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Carl Oglesby was president of the Students for a Democratic Society in 1965-66, when there was at least a vestige of belief among the members of his organization in the virtue of setting differences by arguments, votes, and other non-violent means.

He was not an exactly scholarly young man, but he did not make a habit of wearing distorting lenses all the time. The piece he wrote on his experiences in Cuba for Life Magazine had fresh and vivid passages, even though it betrayed a rather blissful ignorance of what had happened in Cuba prior to 1959. (Cuba was not badly off economically, and Batista was on his way out anyway.)

Altogether, Carl Oglesby impressed one as being young, inexperienced, misinformed but still educable.

Now he is proving that nobody, not even a president of SDS, need remain anchored to ideology forever. Oglesby has looked at what has been done by Mark Rudd, Bernardine Dohrn, and the other SDS-ers who compose the Weatherman faction of the Revolutionary Youth Movement, and has been properly horrified at what he sees.

He has been talking to college groups and, though he still believes in "dialectical materialism," a Marxist concept, he thinks that the Weathermen's analysis of the world revolution is nothing more nor less than "a lie." The Weathermen, he told a group of Stanford University students, have been guilty of "leaping upon the barricades in a fantastically premature engagement" with our capitalistic society, and the result is that "lives are being squandered."

So far as the United States is concerned, Oglesby is now keeping a relatively clear head.

"The lid," he says, "is not about to come off." Unlike a later breed of SDS-ers, Oglesby has tumbled to the fact that the working classes in America have, save for the "hard core" of slum dwellers who are only intermittently employed, become quite bourgeois in their tastes. They are the ones who throng to the marinas on weekends to enjoy themselves with small boats. They like their beer in front of the TV set on Sunday afternoons, when swinger Joe Namath of the New York Jets is trying to connect with a long one to Don Maynard.

They want comfort, security, and a wage that will keep up with the newer standards of living, and they are willing to strike for these things without wanting to turn the strike into a revolution. They expect to get comfortable strike benefits when they are not working.

It is the perception of things-as-they-are in America that now has Carl Oglesby saying that "the U.S. is one big master class, with a lot of little substratas, not a society structured by classes." Richard Nixon could not have said it better, nor Barry Goldwater, for that matter.

Oglesby is not quite so perceptive, however, when he looks at the outer world. He says "if the Third World is the proletariat, then the war of the classes takes place on a global scale."

"Well, there are "proletarian" nations in the sense that some are poorer in material substance than others. But this does not mean that the Third World, taken as a whole, has any more desire to defeat "capitalism" than the average member of an American union.

Save for Cuba and North Vietnam and a few other countries (Brazzaville Congo may be one) the "Third World" governments have been trying to establish nation-states which do, indeed, make use of socialistic measures yet, at the same time, try to encourage peasants and small people in general to improve their own standards of living on a capitalistic basis.

"Arab socialism," for example, is not Marxian; Kenya, under Jomo Kenyatta, has a mixed economy; the South Americans have not plowed under their all-too-tiny middle classes. The Mexican Revolution, which has encouraged the growth of the middle class, is still far more influential among Latin Americans than anything introduced into the hemisphere by Fidel Castro's Cuba.

★ ★ ★

Oglesby, as it turns out, does not like the Bolsheviks any better than he likes the bourgeoisie. He finds great similarity between worship of the Gross National Product and deification of the Five-Year Plan.

"There's a better way to live," he says.

And so there is. But in a country like the United States, if a person wants to live on less and enjoy it more, he is free to do so.

"Revolutions" don't premit that luxury; everyone is expected to work and work and work. When Oglesby gets wise to this fact he will have completed his education.

BRITAIN'S POPULATION

LONDON (AP) — Britain's population was officially estimated to be 55,534,000 last year, an increase of 250,000 on 1968. There were more females than males, 28,550,000 to 26,984,000.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 NT	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	2 NT	Pass	4 ♥

Opening lead—jack of diamonds.

This deal occurred in the Brazil-Argentina match during the 1968 South American Championships.

At the first table, with Brazil North-South, the bidding went as shown. Two hearts was forcing and two notrump showed good heart support as well as 17 or 18 high-card points. West led a diamond and South made four for a score of 420 points.

This was an exceptionally fine result for Brazil. The Argentine East-West pair had never entered the bidding although six diamonds was absolutely ice-cold! Undoubtedly East should have done something over North's notrump bid — probably a double is best — but he adopted an overly-cautious attitude by passing.

At the second table, with Argentina now North-South, the bidding was much more spirited. It went:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 NT	Dble	2 ♣
3 ♦	Pass	4 ♣	4 ♥
5 ♣	Dble	5 NT	Pass
6 ♦	Dble

The Brazilian East-West pair (Attaguile and Chagas) not only entered the bidding but tried to get to a grand slam! East's four clubs was an asking bid in clubs and West's five club response (over South's four hearts) showed first round control of clubs.

Intrigued by this response, which guaranteed the ace or a void of clubs, East bid five notrump. This was the grand slam force and requested West to jump to seven diamonds with two of the three top trump honors.

West could not oblige and signed off with six diamonds. Perhaps North should not have doubled, but he simply could not believe his hand would take only one trick on defense. So Brazil racked up another 1,540 points for a net gain of 1,960 points — and this huge swing eventually brought them the championship.

Ann Landers

Have People Near, 'Trip Makers' Told

Dear Ann Landers: My friend and I are both 17. We have been experimenting with pills and we need some advice. We want to get high but we don't want to do anything crazy like kill ourselves. A few of our pals have hit bummers so we know overdoses can be dangerous.

What's the limit on dexedrine? What about benzedrine? Is it O.K. to mix them? What about pills and gin? Would beer be better? Is seconal stronger than nembutol?? We don't believe in messing around with needles. We know heroin is wild and can kill a person if it goes to the heart. What we need is information. And don't advise us to stop because we won't stop until we've had some groovy trips. Just answer our questions and skip the sermon. Thanks. — Cleveland Deuces

Dear C.D.: I wish I could answer your questions but I can't because I don't know your threshold of tolerance, which depends on many factors such as the condition of your general health, your nervious system, and your level of emotional stability. Nor do I know the strength of the pills you describe. Are they 50 milligrams, 100 or 200?

Unfortunately a great many people don't know the answers to these questions themselves, as evidenced by the number of bummers and unintentional suicides.

If you insist on "experimenting" I hope you'll have one person present who will stay straight. Someone in the crowd should be on hand to call a doctor or an ambulance or a coroner, whichever is needed.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: I am better qualified than you, Ann Landers, to answer the Modesto wife whose husband breaks things during fits of temper. Your husband doesn't behave that way and mine does, so please step aside and let an authority speak.

When Dan and I were going together he used to behave like Mr. Modesto. Almost every piece of furniture in his apartment had been broken during one of his angry spells. I thought when he owned his home he'd take pride in his possessions and things would be different.

I was wrong. Already he has knocked fist holes through two doors. The bottom partition of three others have been kicked through. I must hang pictures in the craziest places to cover up his 'temper spots." A few months ago the baby wouldn't stop crying so he put her on the sofa and broke up her crib.

I am thankful Dan has never hit me but it's depressing to see busted furniture all over the place. Time never cured anything, Ann, so please don't give Mrs. Modesto or anyone else false hope. — Temper's Wife

Dear Wife: I told Mrs. Modesto her husband was responding to anger in an infantile manner and if he didn't outgrow it by the time he married, he needed professional help. The same advice can be applied to your little boy. And you can tell him I said so.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: Please wire collect just "yes" or "no." Did that letter signed Ten Years A Mistress come from Rochester, New York? My husband has been acting funny since 1960 and it all figures. Thanks a lot, Mom. — Jigsaw Judy

Dear Judy: No, the letter you inquired about did not come from Rochester, N. Y. And I am not your mother.

Black Panther Poll To Be Aired On TV

By JERRY BUCK

NEW YORK (AP) — The Black Panthers are viewed favorably by 37 per cent of the blacks surveyed in five cities in a poll taken for ABC News.

By contrast, 83 per cent were favorable toward the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The Panthers were regarded unfavorably by 29.7 per cent, and the remainder expressed no opinion or said they had not heard of the organization.

Results of the poll will be aired tonight on the ABC News "Now" series at 10:30 p.m. EST. In addition, whites and blacks will express clashing points of view about the Panthers.

Edward P. Morgan is host and Tim Knight is writer, director and producer.

ABC commissioned Market Dynamics, Inc., of Princeton, N.J., to survey 494 blacks in Baltimore, Birmingham, Detroit, New York and San Francisco. The interviews were conducted by trained black interviewers from March 2 to 18.

Among the points revealed by the survey:

—Almost two-thirds believed that blacks are being treated unfairly in education, housing and jobs.

—Slightly under 20 per cent expect progress in the next five years through nonviolent action. About 12 per cent believe a great deal of progress will be made through violence.

—Eighty per cent of the black community believes that the Panthers are persecuted by police and government. A little more than one out of three said the average black is afraid of the Panthers.

—The Panthers are thought to be an inspiration to young blacks by about seven out of 10 people interviewed.

Blacks who like the Panthers said it was mainly for two reasons, they were willing to fight and die for the cause and they give free food and have a breakfast program for children.

Blacks unfavorable to the Panthers made references to violence, disliked their ways and thought riots hurt the black cause.

Among cities, the Panthers were most favored in San Francisco and least in Birmingham. Among age groups, young people most favored the Panthers. The most unfavorable were the women.

James Garner, who gained fame as television's Bret Maverick in 1957, will return to the air with a new one-hour series for NBC in the 1971-72 season.

Since he left the tongue-in-cheek "Maverick" series on ABC in 1962, Garner has starred in a series of movies, including "Support Your Local Sheriff," "The Children's Hour," "The Great Escape" and "Grand Prix."

The three networks have been bidding for Garner. Credit for his signing with NBC is given to Mort Werner, programming vice president who was at ABC at the time of "Maverick."

Foresters Discuss Trend:

Public Interest Grows In Forest Management

BY JEAN WORTH
Of Panax Newspapers

The public is exercising new demands upon the forests of Michigan, even where it doesn't own them.

Speakers on both the government and private sides of discussion at the meeting of the Upper Peninsula Chapter, American Society of Foresters at the State Office Building in Escanaba last Friday spoke of this trend.

It is part of an awakened public interest in the environment, which, in the Upper Peninsula has almost 90 per cent of its ground area forested. It is also part of the growing inclination of metropolitan areas to preserve for their playground—free from the industrialization which has made some big city areas unattractive to them — the forested areas of the Northern Great Lakes States.

Impact Of Mill

Ray Pfeifer, timber resource development officer for the Forestry Division, Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Lansing, addressed the foresters on the impact which the Escanaba Paper Co. pulp mill will have on the Upper Peninsula's pulpwood industry. The allowable cut (mature timber ready for harvest) in the Upper Peninsula's forests, he said, could be increased if markets for the wood cut were available.

"We can log more and stimulate the growth of the forest," said Pfeifer "and we can create a good or a bad public reaction."

The problem is one of public understanding of what is good for the forests and for the wildlife in them, for the watersheds that they influence, etc. The professional forester today is aware that the forest must serve esthetic and recreational ends as well as the need for timber, Pfeifer indicated, but, increasingly, he is apt to run into conflict in his forest management plans with the ultra ardent conservationists who don't want him to cut any trees.

Sylvania Discussed

"I hope," said Pfeifer of plans to manage Mead's Escanaba Paper Co. wood procurement and the other industrial timber supply in the U.P. from state and federal forests and private woodlands "that it is not like Sylvania."

His reference was to the Sylvania Tract of the Ottawa National Forest in the western U.P. where the U.S. Department of Agriculture bought for more than $5 million from the Fisher Estate a woodland barony of 18,000 acres as a recreational addition to the Ottawa Forest. The stand of timber was overmature and deteriorating and the federal foresters called for bids on an improvement cutting which would help regenerate the forest.

Cutting Fought

Kimebrly Clark Corp. got the contract, but when it started its cutting a Save Sylvania group fought the work all the way to the top of KC's administration. Officials of the big papermaking firm held hearings on the issue which dramatized the developing conflict between conservationists and esthetes who don't want trees cut. The foresters say that a forest is a living thing and that all living things die and that mature trees in commercial forests (not museum woods designated as "wilderness") should be cut at maturity for the good of the woods themselves and for the good of the people who use them for receration.

When Dr. Gene Hesterberg, head of the School of Forestry at Michigan Technological University at Houghton and retiring head of the U.P. Chapter of SAF, suggested that representatives of groups interested in environment and forestry be invited to its meetings, C. A. Samuelson, manager of Lake States woodlands for Kimberly Clark, Norway, offered strong endorsement of the invitation.

Deal With People

"We foresters," said Samuelson "are now dealing with people who think that they know more about managing a forest then we do. They challenge us. They say 'You know silviculture (cultivation of forest trees) but you don't know people!' "

Samuelson said "We'll have to do our homework, and that will be good."

James Hensel of Wausau, Wis., forest engineer for the American Pulpwood Association, said "To some people paper mills mean chainsaws roaring in the forests and they object to it. But we are geared to the jet age. We have motorboats and motorcycles and they are part of our environment and so is the chainsaw. We are not going back to the bucksaw.

Harvest Like Farmers

"We are going to cut trees like farmers cut their crops, when they are prime. I don't think a papermill is any worse than any other industry. Our United States wood cut is the highest priced in the world and our fixed costs (of wood harvest) are going up. From 30 to 50 per cent of the cost of finishde paper is wood, and the cost of moving it from the stump to the roadside is the most costly process of all."

Hensel said that the logging industry is employing three different logging system in the U.P. — shortwood (the method most used in the Lake States) longwood and tree length logging and that the industry currently is in a period of mechanization that has mill men, equipment manufacturers and woodsmen all frustrated.

"We want wood put into the mill untouched by human hands," said Hensel "and we're sure a long ways from it. The human input has got to be replaced by mehanical equipment, but the prospet is that we will not wind up with a handful of men in the woods because we need maintainence men and others. The total labor force doesn't decrease a great deal with mechanization of logging."

Hensel said that the interparty operation may be coming to end the present trucking of wood to distant mills instead of to those nearest to the cutting, a needless expense which has been apparent to the industry for years, but one which it has not been able to correct with a competitive system of wood procurement.

Tech Launches Fund Campaign

HOUGHTON — Seven local firms have decided to create an advance gift fund of $100,000 for Michigan Technological University and have already gained $70,000 of that sum, according to Russell F. Hoyer, co-chairman of the Upper Great Lakes Division of the Four Million Fund for the university.

Hoyer is also president of the Upper Peninsula Power Co. and a member of the Michigan Tech Board of Control.

He made the announcement at a kick-off banquet at Houghton held by the Four Million Fund attended by over 200 alumni and friends of the university.

Dr. Raymond L. Smith, president of the University, poined to the $1.8 million "student protest" against recreational deficiencies that launched the ice arena portion of the student development complex for which the Four Million Fund is also providing funds. The students earlier approved a quarterly fee to provide the sum.

Smith noted that this is the first of a series of meetings in the immediate area and part of a world-wide drive to gain the $4 million which also will be used for academic and cultural facets of the university.

John M. Haivala, general manager of White Pine Mine and chairman of the western Upper Peninsula district of the fund, said the Four Million Fund is by far the largest single campaign in the history of the university.

Smith said the biggest reason for the Four Million Fund is to gain funds for projects not presently funded by other sources. The university decided to raise $5.8 million of which $1.8 million has already been raised by students through assessment each quarter. Of the total $4 million, $3.2 million is for the student development complex, $400,000 for faculty enrichment and initiative research, $280,000 for academic instructional media, including for scholarship endowment, $20,000 for study funds to study such possible additions to the physical plant as the Memorial Union building, an auditorium for university and other cultural events and a minerals museum.

Construction on the ice arena will start this fall. It will contain seating for 3,000 spectators initially and could hold 5,000 eventually.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

Sylvania Forum

IRONWOOD — The Gogebic Community College Conference on Environment (GCCCE), in conjunction with the National Environmental Teach-in, April 22, will sponsor a forum dealing with the Sylvania Recreational Area and its future.

Guest panelists include: Virginia Prentice, past-president of the Mackinac Chapter of the Sierra Club of Michigan, an organization concerned with preserving Sylvania as a wilderness area; Ralph Kizer, supervisor of the Ottawa National Forest and current overseer of all government activities in Sylvania, and Vernon J. Knight, director of Natural Resources of Kimberly - Clark, whose organization is currently harvesting timber from sections of the Sylvania tract.

DNR Keeps Lid On:

Commercial Fishery Gets Little Relief

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Using statistics of the Department of Natural Resources to prove their point, Michigan commercial fishermen have gained some modification of the DNR's restrictive program, Roy A. Jensen, Escanaba, said today.

Back in Escanaba after meetings with the DNR Commission and the Michigan United Conservation Club's committee, Jensen repeated the position of the Michigan Fish Producers:

"There is room on the Great Lakes for both commercial and sports fishermen."

But the position of Michigan's DNR fish biologists is that there is no room for commercial fishermen in the scheme of things in the future, and that Great Lakes waters should be managed to produce more sports fishing — particularly the recently introduced salmon.

More Whitefish

The highly restrictive DNR zone fish management plan will take Michigan fresh water fish off Michigan dinner tables, although the fish production figures show there is no reason to cut back on the taking of smelt and whitefish.

For example, in the 11 months of 1968 there was produced in Michigan water 1,453,033 pounds of whitefish. Last year in 11 months the production of whitefish went up to 1,928,512 pounds — but the DNR closed Big Bay de Noc and other areas to the taking of whitefish.

When commercial fishermen protested and exerted enough pressure, the DNR changed its zone management plan to permit the taking of whitefish by pound net in Big Bay de Noc.

This was before the recent hearing, at which additional informational was presented to the DNR Commission in support of a less restrictive general plan against the commercial fishermen.

Not All Depleted

An alternative plan, on which the commercial fishermen had the assistance of fish bioligists from the University of Michigan, was presented to the DNR on March 19.

The fishermen got their answer in Lansing on Friday, April 10 — there would be some very minor changes allowed. But the DNR's fish division chief Wayne Tody issued a report that said in part:

"The zone management altenative (the commercial fishermen's proposal) generally does not reconize the depleted condition of stock of perch, walleye, whitefish, lake herring and chubs."

As Jensen has pointed out, whitefish production increased last year although there were fewer commercial fishermen permitted to operate.

Can Take Smelt

Of Tody's statement that smelt are also depleted, Jensen pointed out that the DNR's own records show:

For 11 months of 1968 1,699,374 pounds of smelt were taken in Michigan waters, and this increased to 2,137,007 pounds in 11 months in 1969.

"There is no shortage of smelt," said Jensen.

Apparently the DNR's fish biologists agreed, for as a result of the most recent protests by the commercial fishermen and their friends, the DNR will now allow the setting of smelt pound nets in Little Bay de Noc.

Can Have Cohos, Too

These smelt nets do not kill other fish species, they are not gill nets, and they are set at seasons of the year which do not interfere with any sports fishing activity. However, if the protests had not been made the taking of smelt would have been prohibited in Little Bay de Noc and the smelt would have been protected by the DNR as a "sports fish."

In rejecting most of the changes suggested by the commercial fishermen, Tody also said:

"Gill net regulations as proposed by the (commercial fishermen) would seriously jeopardize lake trout, steelhead, and salmon planting programs."

Jensen says this fear is groundless, and that under DNR supervision the food fish could be taken and marketed — and "there is no reason to sacrifice the commercial fishing industry." There is room enough for both commercial and sports fish in the Great Lakes, the fishermen believe.

4 More American Choppers Downed In Scattered Areas

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese attacks in the Central Highlands and the northern quarter of South Vietnam killed two more Americans and 25 South Vietnamese as the enemy offensive moved into its 13th day, military spokesman announced today.

Another 15 Americans and 170 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Enemy gunners also shot down four U.S. helicopters in widely separated parts of the country, killing two more Americans and wounding seven others.

According to captured documents, the Communist high command is referring to the offensive as the X Campaign, and plans to continue it in various phases until June. Informed sources said they didn't know why the Communists chose that name.

Natural Disaster Meet Scheduled

MARQUETTE — Civil Defense officers along with police and local government officials from the Upper Peninsula are expected April 22 at Northern Michigan University for a Nation Disaster Conference.

The meeting, to begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Brule Room of the University Center, is one of four scheduled in Michigan to develop organization and methods in dealing with natural disasters.

Haise Has Street Named After Him

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — It's not official, but Apollo 13 astronaut Fred Haise has had a street in his hometown named after him.

A crudely lettered sign proclaiming "Fred Haise Street" appeared Sunday on the avenue where the 36-year-old astronaut grew up and where his mother still lives.

It was the product of neighborhood youngsters.

Oscar Benson Dies Saturday

Oscar (Bill) Benson, 64, of 314 S. 10th St. died at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at his home following a lengthy illness.

He was born Oct. 22, 1905 in Ford River and had lived in Escanaba most of his life. He had been employed on the Great Lakes as a fireman for the Hanna Steamship Co.

He is survived by his widow, the former Alice Brandt; five sons, William of Milwaukee, Robert and James of Brensonville, Ill., Donald of Escanaba and Gary, at home; five daughters, Mrs. Donald (Ida) Soderman, Mrs. Betty Mahoney and Mrs. Barbara LaForest, all of Escanaba, Mrs. Manley (Dorothy) Oakman of Chicago and Mrs. Charles (Carol) Kidd of Green Bay. Another daughter, Mrs. Donald (Mary) Rae, died in February of this year.

Also surviving are 29 grandchildren, two great grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Charles (Anna) Witlock of Escanaba; two brothers, Albin Nelson of Arizona and Yelmer of Milwaukee, and several nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the Degnan-Crawford Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the funeral home with the Rev. Karl J. Hammar officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Briefly Told

The 1960 Class Reunion committee will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at 308 S. 8th St.

The Players de Noc regular membership meeting scheduled for Tuesday has been canceled due to present production commitments.

Fairmont Foods Co. of Green Bay pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to reduce axle weights and paid $123.40 fine, $7.50 costs and $3 judgment fees in District Court.

Flat Rock PTA will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the multi-purpose room of the school. Parent-teacher conferences will be held at 6:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Escanaba police are investigating the theft of lumber from the Phoenix Lumber Co., which was reported today. The loss will not be fully determined until an inventory has been completed.

A breaking and entering of the Carl Mathews home at Rte. 2 Bark River, sometime during the past weekend, was reported to the State Police. Officers said entry was made by prying open a rear door, and linens and blankets were all that was reported to have been taken.

All persons in the Escanaba area who would be interested in forming a summer horseshoe league are asked to meet at the Wells Township Hall on Wednesday evening at 7:30. Players should attempt to form their own teams, although it is not necessary to be on a team to attend the meeting. Teams will consist of six men pitching in a match and it is suggested that each team have three or four alternates.

Udall To Talk

HOUGHTON — Congressman Morris K. Udall, Arizona, will be the headline speaker during the April 22 Environmental Teach-In at Michigan Technological University. Udall is to speak Thursday, April 23, at 8 p.m. in Sherman Gym on "Man the Endangered Species."

A&T Announces Firm's Biggest Debenture Sale

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. today set the terms for its offering of approximately $1.6 billion worth of debentures with warrants, the biggest corporate financing plan in history.

AT&T said it set at 8¾ per cent the interest rate on the 30-year debentures. It also said it set at $52 the price, at which common stock may be purchased using the warrants.

AT&T said certificates and prospectuses outlining the terms of the agreement would start being mailed out to its three million shareholders late today. It said the terms of the offering were filed early today with the Securities & Exchange Commission.

The offering is designed to sell approximately 31.4 million additional shares of AT&T common stock and raise more than $3 billion in capital.

Under the offering, the holder of 35 shares of AT&T common stock will be entitled to buy a $100 debenture. Along with the debenture comes warrants to buy two shares of AT&T common at the $52 price. AT&T stock closed Friday down 1⅛ at 50¾.

Moras Home Is Damaged By Fire

The John J. Moras residence at 220 N. 19th St. was damaged extensively by fire, smoke and heat at 3:10 p.m. Sunday, it is reported by Escanaba firemen who extinguished the blaze.

The interior of portions of the dwelling were gutted by flames.

Firemen were also called out four times on Sunday because of grass fires in the area of the city; and this morning they responded to a call to put out a grass fire at 18th Ave. S. and 22nd St. which had been set by children.

IOOF Sponsors Two Students To U.N.

Two Delta County high school students will be among 1,000 from the United States and Canada who will converge on the United Nations this summer, it is announced by Impellant Lodge No. 460, I.O.O.F and Rebekah, sponsors of the delegates.

Arnold Anderson, noble grand of the lodges, said arrangements for the local participation of Escanaba Area Public High School, Holy Name School and Gladstone High School have been made by Jim Anderson, chairman of the local committee.

Each of the high schools will name three students for consideration by May 1, and from the total of nine nominees the judges will select two to attend the UN Pilgrimage for Youth.

While in New York City at the United Nations, the young delegates will observe the world-wide organization in action, tour the buildings, hear business conducted in the five official languages, listen to authoritative explanations of various departments and agencies, enjoy meals in the UN delegates dining room, and interview representatives of the member nations.

They will also visit International House where graduate students from over 80 countries live under one roof; and will make tours to centers of interest and recreation in New York City.

The National Association of Secondary School Principals has placed the program on the approved list, and has approved of it for 13 consecutive years.

Milkiewicz Wins Scholastic Award

Richard Milkiewicz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casimir Milkiewicz, 306 Stephenson Ave., was recently presented with a certificate of award for special scholastic achievement by Western Michigan University's School of Business, Department of Marketing.

Richard, a 1966 graduate of Holy Name High School, will graduate on April 18. He has already accepted a position with the Hyster Co. of Danville, Ill., in the purchasing department. Hyster Co. is the second largest manufacturer of heavy duty construction equipment in the United States.

He graduated from Holy Name as a member of the National Honor Society and was presented the Catherine Bonifas Award for 1966. He also received a $2,000 IGA Scholarship Award.

Death Claims Mrs. S. Myjak

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Stanley (Betty) Myjak of Grand Rapids. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver, 508 2nd Ave. S.

She was born May 23, 1930 in Daggett and grew up in Escanaba. She had lived in Grand Rapids for the past 15 years.

Mrs. Myjak is survived by her husband; one foster son, Jerry; two brothers, three sisters and her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Vernon Buckland have left to attend funeral services which will be held Tuesday in Grand Rapids.

Sally Barrett To Study Abroad

ADRIAN — Sally Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther M. Barrett of Escanaba, is one of 16 Adrian College students who will be attending a summer study program in Graz, Austria, this summer.

The students leave July 7 for seven weeks in Austria and nearby countries as part of an overseas study program coordinated by the 30 member colleges of the Association for Colleges and Universities in International - Intercultural Studies. This is the second year Adrian has offered the program.

Graz is in the province of Styria in southeastern Austria, near Hungary, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia where study and field trips are planned.

Legislators Tinkering With School Aid Bill

By DON HOENSHELL
Panax Staff Writer

LANSING — Legislative strategists are tinkering with the massive $1.22 billion school aid package to round up votes with the big battle over its financing still to be fought.

The latest addition was $75,000 for bus transportation for migrant students.

Backers of the House version, which Gov. William Milliken already has called unreasonably high, figure the package should be enacted, then raise the tax money to pay for it.

Rep. Roy L. Spencer (R-Attica) is the chief architect of the House attempt to establish a formula giving local districts authority to lower property taxes and get more aid.

Explanation Needed

House Speaker William A. Ryan (D-Detroit) sees it as a selling job, to shift the opposition created by parochiaid — now a $22 million item in the bill — to support for the public school benefits.

"We're going to have to explain it again to the local school people," Ryan said. "We don't think the public school people are so concerned about parochiaid that they would give up the greatest gains for the public schools in the history of the state.

"In case of Detroit, we're talking about $53 million in increased revenue alone. Many other districts will get increases and some of the more affluent districts will get reductions.

"Parochiaid will be an issue in the elections this year, of course. But those who are hysterical about it aren't going to be able to make it into the critical issue they hope to do.

"It's not that important. There are a great many issues and a great many different issues this year."

Income Tax Involved

Ryan's plan to finance the plan and other increases in state spending are geared to raises in the state income tax, from 2.6 per cent to 3.5 per cent for individuals, 5.6 to 7.7 for corporations and from 7 to 9.7 for financial institutions.

This, he figures, would yield $270 million after property tax reductions in Gov. Milliken's formula and other adjustments.

For clout, Ryan also offers municipalities a piece of the new revenue. Together, he said, support from the schools, the cities and those wary of soaring property taxes should support it.

Both chambers in Lansing have already passed a 4-cent-a-pack cigarette tax increase for $32 million and have plugged loopholes in the sales tax for another $38 million.

The Spencer school aid plan at $1.22 billion in the House compares with the $900 million passed by the Senate.

Ryan expects changes to be made in the tax package, but "we'll pass it in some degree."

Shift Burden

The whole, he said, is "what the people want us to do" — shift a greater burden for public schools to the state and provide property tax relief.

He charged that GOP lawmakers "are responding more to the" Michigan Education Association attack on the entire package because it contains parochiaid.

"They are the key to this, the local school people," Ryan said. "They should be looking at what they're getting."

In the Senate, Majority Leader Emil Lockwood (R-St. Louis) said some reductions would have to be made in the House school aid bill before it could pass the Senate.

"I don't really think we could pass a direct increase in the income tax rate," he said. "I do believe, however, there will have to be some adjustments upward to obtain more revenue.

"We'll need to have it just to sustain the governor's budget," Lockwood said.

School Board Meets Tuesday

A regular meeting of the Escanaba Area Public School Board of Education will be held Tuesday at the Soo Hill School begining at 8 p.m.

Topics scheduled for discussion at the meeting include the tentative budget for the Allocation Board, shared time with Holy Name High School in vocational subjects, the NDEA Title III project, physical exams for junior high physical education, acceptance of teacher resignations and playground equipment.

Superintendent Luther Barrett has also included several items for discussion on the agenda, including vocational education, the annual school board election, bus transportation, curriculum changes and the hot lunch survey.

Environmental Program Slated At Seney Refuge

SENEY — Seney National Wildlife Refuge has announced a new program on environmental problems to be offered at the Refuge Visitor Center. Entitled "Man and His Environment," the program will be conducted by Conrad Fjetland, the assistant refuge manager.

"In recent months, tremendous new emphasis has been placed on ecology and environment by our news media," Fjetland said. "Radio, television and newspapers have all taken up the cause of environmental quality.

"The result has been a tremendous flood of information that has left many people somewhat confused and bewildered. Schools are beginning new programs to teach the basic concepts of ecology to students, but many adults have never learned these basic concepts and are thus unsure of the reason for this new environmental crisis.

"This program is designed to introduce basic ecological concepts, show why environmental problems exist and how they developed, and explain what must be done to solve the problems."

The program will be conducted in three sessions, the first beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 21. The second will be at 7 p.m., April 28, and the third at 7 p.m., May 14. Each session will be conducted on an open discussion basis and will include movies, slides and other visual aids.

There is no charge for the program and the public is invited. For further information, write the Refuge Manager, Seney National Wildlife Refuge, Seney, Michigan 49883, or call 586-6504 Curtis.

Education Assn. Officers Named

Frank Barak, a math teacher at Escanaba Junior High School, has been named president of the Escanaba Area Education Association for the 1970-71 school year, replacing Jim Green, who will assume the position of second vice-president. Barak served as the association's vice - president this year.

Valerie Haack, a second grade teacher at Lemmer School, was elected as the new vice-president at a meeting on April 6.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Jim Hirn, secretary; Charles Dedic, Region 17 Council delegate; Dennis Zanetti, alternate council delegate; William Puckelwartz, NEA delegate; and Norbert Murphy, Department of Classroom Teachers Delegate.

Other association officers maintaining positions were Doug McEachern, Representative Assembly delegate, and Beverly Ladin, treasurer.

Rocket Ready For Explosive Lunar Crash

much about the internal structure of the moon.

The Apollo 12 spacemen deliberately crashed their lunar lander after they left the moon and the impact vibrated the seismometer a surprising 55 minutes, indicating the subsurface material is broken up. A similar explosion on earth would reverberate only a few minutes.

Trio Relaxing

The Apollo 13 astronauts were relaxing on the three-day outward journey in preparation for four gruelling days in the vicinity of the moon.

Preparation for Wednesday's lunar landing begins tonight when Lovell and Haise crawl through a connecting tunnel to inspect the lunar craft they call Aquarius.

They'll check communications, propulsion and other systems to make sure the spindly legged lander is ready for the difficult and dangerous descent to the moon's ancient Fra Mauro highlands Wednesday night.

Past Halfway Mark

In this rugged area on the eastern shore of the Ocean of Storms, Lovell and Haise plan to deploy a nuclear-powered science station, drill 10 feet beneath the lunar crust and trek nearly two miles on a geology field trip. They hope to gather rocks dating back some five billion years to the creation of the moon.

The astronauts zipped past the halfway mark—128,000 miles from both earth and moon—Sunday and fired a brief burst of their spaceship engine to shift course slightly and zero in on a spot 70 miles above the lunar surface. They hope to hit that bull's-eye and fire into lunar orbit at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Sudden Jolt Noted

The two-second engine ignition occurred during a 50-minute telecast beamed to Mission Control in Houston. The camera focused on an instrument panel and viewers on earth saw the sudden jolt on monitoring screens.

Lovell, Haise and Swigert started the telecast with an out-the-window view of the moon—nearly three-quarters in shadow.

Their target appeared to be enveloped in a snow storm when the astronauts dumped waste water from the spacecraft fuel cells overboard. The water turned quickly to ice crystals which blew like a blizzard outside the window, with the moon in the background.

In Weightless World

The camera panned around the cabin as the astronauts showed some aspects of life in their faraway, weightless world.

Swigert demonstrated the operation of optical equipment used in steering by the stars.

Haise zipped himself into a sleeping bag-like hammock slung beneath the couches to show how they can sleep without floating away.

Lovell demonstrated the futility of combing his hair in weightlessness. After he ran a comb through it, his hair stood straight up.

Air Traffic Strike, Weather Foil Spring

By WARD SIMS

NEW YORK (AP) — I used to envy the jet set, but not any more.

An air traffic controllers' slowdown and a bit of nasty weather which disrupted the beginnings of a beautiful spring are to blame for my disenchantment.

It all started in Seattle and wound up, some 17 hours later, in New Brunswick, N.J.

Wife Virginia, son Dixon and I were ticketed from Seattle to Newark, N.J., with a change of planes at Chicago.

Early on the morning of departure, before the coffee had even started to perk, the airline called and said the New York flight had been canceled. Would I care to take an earlier direct flight to Philadelphia?

It took some fast packing, but we made it, flying east through the friendly skies of Canada by way of Kimberly, Lethbridge, Moose Jaw, Regina and Winnipeg. Then it was south to Philadelphia and the landing approach.

I thought we flew through the clouds for an interminably long time and the captain confirmed my suspicions by advising via the intercom that Philadelphia International was glazed with ice from freezing rain and that he would not attempt to make an immediate landing.

We proceeded to take a half-hour tour through low-hovering clouds, with only momentary glimpses of a snow-covered countryside from time to time.

On came the captain again. It would take at least another hour, he said, to sand the runway, so we were heading for Dulles International Airport. On to Washington.

At Dulles, we were hustled aboard a bus en route to Washington's Penn Station, then put on a train for New York, courtesy of the apologetic and harried airline.

Being a congenital cornercutter, I reasoned that if we were to leave the train at Trenton, N.J.—with no scheduled stop at New Brunswick—it would beat traveling all the way to Gotham and then doubling back to home territory.

We did. Time elapsed since enplaning at Seattle: about 14 hours, including three lost to the time zones.

There was a long wait at the Trenton bus station, a bumpy ride over snow-covered roads to Princeton, N.J., and another half-hour wait in freezing temperatures on a dimly lit street corner for the last bus to New Brunswick.

Pressing on, we finally arrived at our destination at about 1 a.m.—the exact times were now beginning to slip away from me—but the longest night was not yet over.

For another half-hour I tried in vain to flag cab, any old cab. Whence the taxi we finally snared came I know nought, but it was shading toward 2 a.m. when we finally reached home.

The flight across country—from Seattle to a cloudy spot over Philadelphia—had taken 4 hours and 38 minutes. We had spent approximately 9½ more hours, including the three-hour time loss, trying to reach our front door.

Cutting the cold with a dollop of Kentucky's best, I had to reflect on that lonely street corner in windy Princeton.

One bus—carrying the sign "Bus Following"—had passed us as we stood there shivering and shuffling in the snow.

With my luck that Easter night, the last bus should have sped right on by, with a sign "Bus Ahead."

Economists Propose Car Every Two Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government economists say most automobile owners are just as well off buying a new car every two years as they are trying to keep the old bus running.

"Assuming a normal amount of driving, keeping a car after it is two years old does save some money, but not very much," said a report by the Federal Highway Administration.

"The decision to trade in a car or keep it a while longer should be based on the owner's tastes and circumstances, rather than on any thought of increasing or decreasing his cents-per-mile owning and operating costs. As far as economy is concerned, he can make the decision with a clear conscience."

The report showed the cost of keeping a car for 10 years has increased from 10.21 cents a mile about a year ago to 11.89 cents a mile this year.

The study found a big increase in insurance costs, which jumped from 1.41 cents a mile to 1.72 cents a mile, despite inclusion of less extensive coverage in this year's computations.

In a year-by-year breakdown of the cost of keeping a car—depreciating its purchase price over 10 years—the study found the first year costs 14.21 cents a mile and the second 11.27 cents.

The cost rises for the next two years to 12.51 cents a mile then gradually tapers off to 10.83 cents a mile in the 10th year.

The study, done on the basis of information gathered from repairmen and car dealers rather than any averaging of statistical studies, involved a theoretical 4-door sedan from one of the "Big Three" and costing $3,374 including tax. The car was equipped with a V-8 engine, automatic transmission, power steering and radio.

The costs, which included gasoline, taxes, parking, tolls, repairs, tires, titling and insurance, were computed on the basis of a Baltimore driver's experience.

The costs would be higher for Washington, Boston, New York and San Francisco and lower for Atlanta, Jacksonville and Fort Worth, the study said.

Asks Payments For Aluminum Cans To Aid Pollution

LANSING (AP) — A Republican state Senator says Michigan's pollution problem might be alleviated if companies paid for old aluminum cans people turned in. Sen. Oscar Bouwsma of Muskegon said that in colorado, a beer manufacturer has announced it would pay 10 cents a pound for old aluminum cans. If Michigan firms did the same thing, Bouwsma said, "This would do a lot to rid the state of many of the cans which now litter Michigan."

Catholic 'Bill Of Rights' Considered By Papal Unit

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP) — A working draft of a proposed new constitution for the Roman Catholic Church, titled "Leges Fundamentalis Ecclesia," currently is being considered by a special papal commission.

The constitution, including a "bill of rights" for Catholics, would be the first such charter for the Church in its 2,000-year history.

Differences Noted

Sharp differences already have been voiced over it.

Word of the document, setting forth a recommended new fundamental legal code of the Church, first was made known here this week at a meeting sponsored by the Canon Law Society of America.

Its spokesmen were sharply critical of the document, saying it specifically shores up papal authority, but provides no specific means for others to exercise stated rights, and that it would perpetuate an "absolutist structure" blocking Church progress and damaging ecumenical efforts.

Working Draft

However, other churchmen subsequently pointed out that the document is a working draft, subject to further changes, and that it seeks to lay down broad principles of Church government and rights, without spelling out detailed ways of applying them.

This presumably could be done in additional legislation implementing the stated ideals.

In Philadelphia, Archbishop John Cardinal Krol, a member of the pontifical commission for revision of canon law, said the draft "represents three years of diligent work by various subcommittees of eminent scholars."

Cardinals Get Draft

Cardinal Krol said the draft of the new "fundamental or constitutional law of the Church" was mailed last Oct. 24 to cardinals making up the commission. They were asked to submit any proposed emendations to the text.

"These are being studied and will be considered at the plenary meeting of the commission later this year," he said. That has been set for next October, after being postponed from this spring.

Specialists at the New York meeting speculated that the delay may have been caused by repercussions to the draft document. They also issued a statement calling for "maximum participation of the Universal Church" in the revision of canon law, saying this is "an indispensable precondition of its effective acceptance by the community."

Ask Immediate Setup

Work of the pontifical commission should "be made public" and "structures set up immediately throughout the world for the widest possible consultation and evaluation of its proposals," said a statement of the meeting's consensus.

Circulation of the draft document was confined to the commission's members, and after the meeting here disclosed its existence, the Vatican press spokesman, Msgr. Fausto Vallainc, initially said he knew nothing about it.

The commission, set up after Vatican II to revise Church canons in line with new Vatican II principles, consists of 63 cardinals in various parts of the world named by the Pope. They are assisted by 127 consultors — 40 bishops, 79 priests and eight laymen.

The large-scale revision of canon law, intended to implement Vatican II concepts on ecumenism, the principle of shared authority of bishops with Pope, the role of the laity and other matters, is the first revision since 1918.

The 1918 code still is in force.

Missionary Conference At Grace Church

The Grace Baptist Church, 603 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, will sponsor a Missionary Conference April 15-19. Four speakers will share their experiences in the missionary field during the Conference.

The Rev. Edward Viren, missionary to the Indians on the Grand Portage Reservation in northern Minnesota, will speak Wednesday, April 15, at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Viren's ministry to the Chippewa nation in this former fur trading post extends into the surrounding bush and small Canadian villages. Traveling about by foot, snowshoes, skis, or boat he reaches the Indian people with the gospel message.

Special music for this meeting will be provided by Darryl Lindquist and Mrs. Glen Manning. Refreshments will be served in the church basement following the meeting, with Mrs. Anna Darrow, hostess.

Friday, April 17, at 7:30 p.m., the Rev. David Swanson of Cornell, Wis., will speak on behalf of small conference-supported churches.

Gertrude Nelson, a school teacher, who served in Mussoorie, Uttar Pradesh, India, will be the guest speaker on Saturday, April 18, at 7:30 p.m. and also on Sunday, April 19, at 11 a.m.

Miss Nelson was on the staff of the Woodstock School, where missionary children make up the majority of the student body. The school also includes Indian children and children of foreign aid and embassy people.

The final session, Sunday night, will feature the Rev. Robert Boyd, now on furlough from Argentina. While in Argentina the Boyds have held Bible studies and Sunday schools, visited homes and conducted youth meetings. They also had a regular program of house-to-house literature distribution and a weekly radio broadcast over a local station. They have seen the establishment of two churches with buildings erected and occupied Rev. Boyd will speak at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Gaylord Wright, pastor, extends an invitation to the public to attend this Missionary Conference.

Mrs. Wilson B. Davis, Jr. (Paul Blewett photo)

Judith H. Ryan Bride Of Wilson Davis, Jr.

Judith H. Ryan and Wilson B. Davis, Jr., both of Milwaukee exchanged wedding vows during a double ring ceremony performed Saturday, April 4 at St. George Church in Bark River.

Officiating at the nuptials at 4 p.m. was the Rev. Thomas P. Dunleavy. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ryan of Harris and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Wilson B. Davis of Steel, Mo.

Honor attendants for the couple were Linda Ryan of Harris, sister of the bride and Kelly Ryan of Bark River, the bride's brother. Seating the guests were Joe Marsicek and Westly Chernick, uncle of the bride.

Organza, Lace

For her wedding, the bride, selected a floor length gown of silk organza and Viennese lace fashioned with a modified scoop neckline, long tapered sleeves and a silk organza watteau chapel train accented with appliques of Viennese lace.

A forward design headpiece of petals, lace and pearls secured her elbow length veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of white mums and pink sweetheart roses.

Aqua Gown

The honor maid was attired in an aqua floor length gown styled with long sleeves and she carried a pink and white carnation bouquet.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ryan wore a light green lace ensemble with matching accessories. She was presented a corsage to compliment her attire.

The wedding reception was held following the ceremony at Potvin's Fireside Room in Schaffer.

Home In Milwaukee

The newlyweds are now at home at 4820 W. Forest Home, Milwaukee. The bride is a graduate of Bark River-Harris High School and the Accredited School of Cosmetology in Milwaukee. She is presently employed as a secretary at Morley-Murphy in Milwaukee.

Mr. Davis is a graduate of Steel High School, Steel, Mo. and also served four years with the U.S. Army. He is employed by Hilift, Milwaukee.

Pearl Bailey Gets Assist From President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wearing a black sequined pants suit, Pearl Bailey slinked up to the grand piano in the White House East Room and said a singer really should sit atop the piano while rendering a ballad.

So, President Nixon rushed up with his own chair and helped Miss Bailey climb up.

"Oh, Mr. President," she drawled, "is the country going to talk about us."

After singing her ballad for guests at a state dinner for West German Chancellor Willy Brandt, Miss Bailey mumbled huskily, "Wait till I say I had my feet on the President's chair."

4-H or similar farm youth programs are now carried on in 74 countries around the world.

Mrs. A. T. Pope To Speak At Woman's Club

The Escanaba Woman's Club will meet at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Project Pride Room of the Chamber of Commerce Building, and members may invite guests.

Mrs. Arthur T. Pope of Gladstone will present the program entitled: "How to Make This Season's Flowers Next Season's Bouquets."

Mrs. Pope, whose husband is chairman of the Technology Division of Bay de Noc Community College, has been a resident of Gladstone for five years.

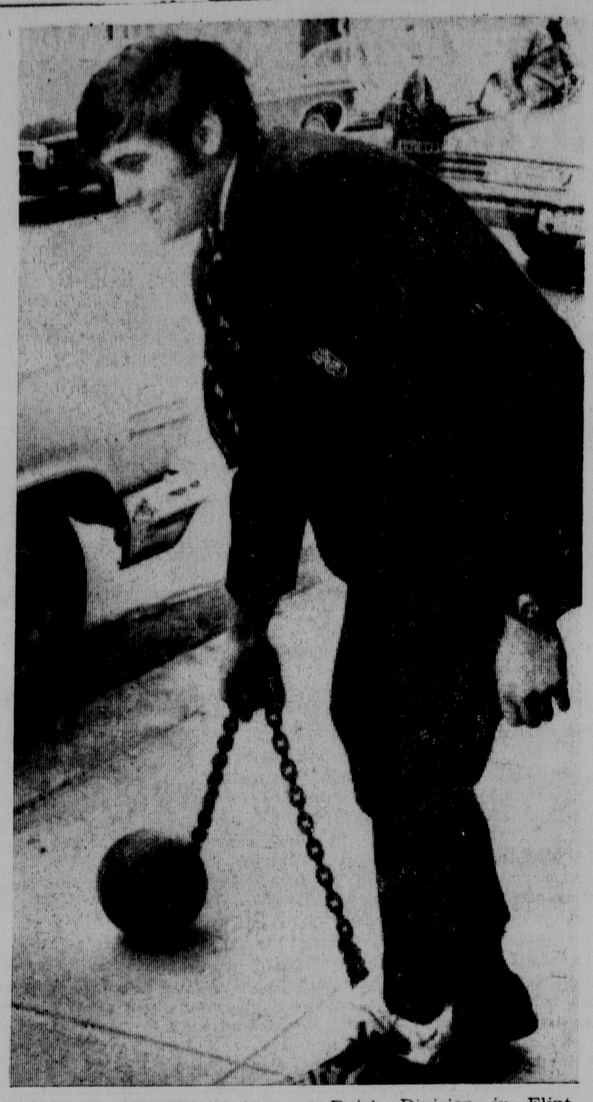

The Popes have two children, Lt. J. G. David Pope, a Navy pilot and Anne who works for MIT in Cambridge, Mass.

This last semester, Mrs. Pope taught a night class in water color painting as part of Gladstone's enrichment program. Mrs. Pope is also presently attending Bay de Noc Community College.

The speaker for the day has been experimenting with flower drying for the past three years and occasionally has combined a water color painting with dried flowers for a different effect. Material will be brought to the meeting and flowers will be prepared for drying.

Mrs. Jon Thorin is program chairman for the day and hostesses are Mrs. Norman Arntzen and Mrs. Edward Kuivinen. They will be assisted by their committee.

Long Siege Of Fear Finally Ends For North Carolina Prison Escapee

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) —For nearly 10 years, Steve Collins lived in fear.

The 40-year-old factory foreman and father of five says he never told anyone—not even his wife—that he was a fugitive from a North Carolina prison.

Collins, whose real name is Calvin Collins, was recaptured here last week when a routine check of his fingerprints after his arrest on a disorderly conduct charge—disclosed he was a prison escapee.

Surprised At Arrest

"I was surprised when they arrested me, but I've been expecting it," Collins said in an interview. He told of his 1960 escape from a road gang near Raleigh. He spoke quietly and with no visible show of emotion.

"I just walked away, hiked to Virginia and got on a bus and came to Michigan," he said in describing his escape. The escape occurred while he was considered an honor-grade prisoner.

Four years, earlier, Collins tried to escape but was recaptured three days later.

15-Year Sentence

Collins had been in prison since the spring of 1950 after being convicted of assault with intent to commit rape. He was sentenced to serve 15 years. He steadfastly denies any part in the attack upon a 48-year-old Fayetteville woman which led to the charge.

The fugitive, an Indian who was born in Dowagiac, Mich., and reared in Mount Pleasant, Mich., said he was serving with the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C., when he and another soldier were accused of assaulting the woman.

Collins reported with some signs of bitterness that the other soldier was paroled in 1955 while he never had the chance to appear before the parole board.

In Grand Rapids, Collins lived an apparently normal life. He married, began raising a family, held a series of steady jobs and bought a home.

Wife Didn't Know

Mrs. Collins said she never knew about her husband's secret although she sensed an "uneasiness" about him. Now, she plans to fight against her husband's return to North Carolina.

"It's a feeling you have when you live with someone and you know him. Steve couldn't have committed that crime," she said.

The couple reported that their friends "have been wonderful" since Collins' past caught up with him. Collins is free on his own recognition pending a May 4 hearing in his case.

He is working regularly as a foreman at Williams Form Engineering Corp. here and said his fellow workers "are the greatest bunch of guys in the world. Nothing has changed with my friends."

In fact, fellow workers have signed a petition urging that Collins be allowed to remain in Michigan and have offered to serve as witnesses to his good character.

A few things have changed since Collins' secret was discovered. Now, he will obtain a driver's license and other items that a man without any real identification for 10 years could not manage.

As for the future, Collins said he is optimistic he can stay in Michigan. Then he added, "If I had to go back, I'd do the best I can. But I've already served 10 years for something I didn't do."

Cure Apparently Found For Chronic Headache

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Some 600 million people throughout the world suffer from chronic headaches, often of mysterious origin. A new medical theory holds that a majority of such cases may result from overlooked neck injuries and often can be cured by putting the patient in traction.

Do you bite your fingernails? That may cause them to grow up to 20 per cent faster than normal, thus giving you still more to chew on.

No wonder smart businessmen are courting brides and teen-agers. The average bride spends three times as much for her initial purchases of home furnishings as a typical U.S. family does in a year. As for teen-agers, 17 per cent now own their own television sets, 75 per cent own radios, and 18 per cent own a tape recorder. Teen-agers also account for 25 per cent of the $4 billion a year cosmetics industry.

Speaking of brides again, few of them will start married life in a romantic cottage small by a waterfall. Some will move in with Mom and Dad, and 80 per cent will rent a housekeeping apartment.

Quotable notables: "A woman will almost never tell you the truth, while most men defendants will. Women have a furtive, concealing nature, and to some extent they're pathological liars who can conceive of situations that never existed."—Veteran defense lawyer James D. C. Murray.

The weather affects us all. Here's what happens, for example, as the barometer falls during a period of low air pressure: Most people are more forgetful, worker efficiency drops, lost-and-found departments are busier, banks clerks make more errors, and absenteeism climbs.

Despite the billions America spends on health, it is far from being the healthiest nation on earth. Thirteen countries have a lower infant mortality rate, and in 17 countries men live longer. Fewest newborn babies die in Sweden, and it is there also that life expectancy at birth is highest—71.6 years.

To our shame, however, the United States does lead in a dismal field—environmental destruction. Nearly 50 per cent of the world's industrial pollution is caused by our factories, refineries and motor cars.

Overcoming handicaps: Blind Ray Charles, the popular Negro entertainer, can do more than sing and play the piano. According to a profile in the New Yorker magazine, he can type 70 words a minute, is a good cook, and can play winning chess.

Safety statistic: A recent study revealed that teen-age drivers who had drunk two bottles of beer or less were almost three times as likely to be involved in car accidents as those who stuck to soft drinks.

It was Meister Eckhart who observed: "The very best and utmost of attainment in life is to remain still and let God act and speak in thee."

Student Beating At U-M Reported Rarity By School

ANN ARBOR (AP) — An official of the University of Michigan says a beating suffered by an 18-year-old freshman in his dormitory from black students was a rarity, and that the dormitories are safe.

John C. Feldkamp, director of housing, said Saturday that the university was slow in reacting to the beating of a Lapeer physician's son.

Dr. Harry F. Zemmer said that a university official told him that such beatings are common in the dormitory. But Feldkamp said that was "simply not true."

Zemmer complained to the university's regents in a letter which told of the beating his son received April 1. The doctor charged the university didn't report the beating to police and was slow in taking disciplinary action against the alleged assailants, three of whom have been charged with felonious assault. A fourth has not been identified.

Zemmer said his son suffered a concussion, facial lacerations and a loosened tooth. The physician, a 1953 graduate of Michigan Medical School said he has no wish to damage the schools reputation or image and said that he had been contacted by university officials since the letter to the regents.

Zemmer said he was merely concerned about the safety of his son, and other students in the school's dormitories.

Howes' Sports

by Don Howes

Zeke Bratkowski, assistant coach of the Green Bay Packers, gave the news media a brief interview on the upcoming football season last Friday night at the Escanaba Coaches Football Clinic, which was held at the Terrace Supper Club. Bratkowski, who was one of the main speakers at the clinic, discussed the off season program for athletes which he calls the conditioning program.

On the question concerning Herb Adderly, who has made his feelings well known about not playing football next season for the Packers, Zeke only gave his feelings on this issue. He said, "The Packer coaching staff can only recommend players for the Pro-Bowl and Herb was recommended by his coaches, but it's not up to the Packer coaches to choose for the Pro-Bowl. Adderly, who takes pride in his work, was naturally hurt for not being chosen to play in the Pro-Bowl game."

Bratkowski commented on the Packer's quarterback situation by stating that Bart Starr is in real good shape. He went on to say that Bart's shoulder injury is all right now and that he is working out daily. Don Horn is a fine young quarterback and it's nice to have a young man like Horn to back up Starr. Billy Stevens, a third year veteran for the Packers, has a strong arm and we'll have to wait to see him him play more before I can make any further comments.

In regard to the off season trades and retirements, Bratkowski stated, "You have to trade something to get something to fill the vacancies left by veterans. A specific example of this is when John Rowser, a 3-year veteran back for the Packers, was traded for a tight end, John Hilton, who is one of the finest tight ends in football."

Bratkowski pointed out how the off season conditioning program would benefit the high school athlete. He explained, "The conditioning program is not earth shaking and everyone has his own opinion about the program. The Packers take a scientific approach to it and call it their 'aerobic' program, which means building oxygen in your body. The Packers set a standard requirement for the program so that players won't get hurt or tired out when they come to training camp." When asked if this program would help to prevent injuries, Zeke stated, "Last year was an educational year for the Packers and you can't evaluate this program in one year. On the high school level this is more beneficial to the athlete because they are with the coaches all season long and work out regularly, which creates a sense of competition among athletes."

★ ★ ★

The Packer Organization thought that they might be in a different division due to the merger of the two leagues. In the reshuffle of the divisions the Packers remained in the same division and they feel that this is one of the toughest divisions in the league and are glad to be in it. Zeke said, "Norm VanBrocklin summed up our division quite well when he called it the "Black and Blue" division."

Bratkowski indicated that Jim Grabowski would be ready for full time duty next fall, that he had minor surgery on his knee and is responding well to treatment.

Will Kansas City's wide-open offense be the trend in pro football? Zeke felt that the Minnesota Vikings were not ready for the Chiefs. It will take a few weeks for the NFL teams to adapt their defenses to the AFL offense. The various formations that the AFL teams use, such as the I-formation that the Chiefs use, causes uneasiness among the NFL teams.

Bratkowski feels that the Packer kicking game will improve this year with the addition of Skip Butler. He was a recent Packer draft choice and has yet to prove himself in pro ball. This past year in college he booted 13 of 16 attempts including a 60 yard field goal.

Niekro Claims Second Win As Tigers Defeat Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles came closer to obtaining Joe Niekro in a trade last winter than they were to beating the pitching savior of the Detroit Tigers Sunday.

The 25-year-old right-hander allowed only a bunt single through the first seven innings, and registered a 7-2 victory with last-out relief help from Tom Timmerman after yielding five more hits including a Brooks Robinson homer.

It was the second straight American League victory for Niekro, who was hot trading bait despite an 8-18 record with Chicago and San Diego in the National League last season.

"I knew there was a good chance I'd go somewhere," Niekro said. "I heard about the possibility of going to Atlanta, Cincinnati and Cleveland, but I was surprised when I came to Detroit."

The Tigers, idle today, open their home season Tuesday at Tiger Stadium, with Mickey Lolich, 1-1, scheduled to take on the Cleveland Indians.

After contributing a two-run triple to a 13-hit attack which dealt the Orioles their first loss in six games, Niekro learned that Baltimore also had sought him in a deal with the Padres.

"We were close, and had a chance," said Harry Dalton, the director of player personnel for the Orioles.

But Dalton thought San Diego's request for outfielder Dave May and minor league shortstop Enzo Hernandez "was a little too much to give when we didn't know where Niekro would fit into our staff."

"I know one thing," said Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver. "If we had him, Niekro wouldn't have started a game yet — not ahead of Dave McNally, Mike Cuellar, Jim Palmer and Tom Phoebus."

With Detroit ace Denny McLain under a half-season suspension, however, Niiekro fits right into the Tigers' rotation and has won two of the team's three victories.

He was given Detroit's third starting assignment of the season, and shut out the Washington Senators on six hits in his AL debut.

"I guess the first time around the league might be to my advantage," Niekro said. "In Baltimore, for instance, I sat on the bench two days watching the hitters but they didn't see me until I pitched."

"Niekro looked good," Weaver said, "but he didn't last. He threw harder than we thought he would. Let's see how he does against us next time."

Cuellar, who won 23 for the Orioles last season and his first start of 1970, gave up eight hits before being replaced with none out in the fourth inning. Detroit scored five in the inning, three off reliever Dave Leonhard, for a 7-0 lead.

Willie Horton had three hits and two runs batted in before leaving with an apparent minor muscle pull in his back. Dick McAuliffe, Bill Freehan and Cesar Gutierrez had two hits apiece.

In addition to being in another league, Niekro must feel he's also in another world. San Diego was the worst scoring team in the majors last year, averaging less than three runs a game. The Tigers have gotten him 10 runs in two starts.

While Niekro was bringing his record to 2-0, older brother Phil —a 23-game winner with Atlanta last year—dropped to 0-2 with a loss to Houston.

"I saw that on the scoreboard," Joe said. "Think I'll have to telephone Phil when I get home."

Brewers Snare Third Straight

By The Associated Press

The California Angels know this can't keep up. The Milwaukee Brewers aren't so sure.

The topic of discussion was hitting, something both teams did a lot of Sunday.

"I thought we'd have more hitting, but you can't honestly expect anything like that," said Lefty Phillips after his unbeaten Angels exploded for five quick runs in the sixth inning and shelled Kansas City 7-5, raising their team batting average to .355.

"I feel great. Now I just have to keep it up," said rookie outfielder Danny Walton, who belted a two-run homer in the opener—his third in two days—and drove in two more runs in the nightcap as the Brewers blasted the Chicago White Sox 5-2, 16-2 and evened their record at 3-3.

It was a stunning display by the two teams that brought up the rear in American League club batting a year ago—the Brewers, then the Seattle Pilots, at .234 and the Angels at .230.

Elsewhere Washington held off Boston 6-5 and Cleveland edged the New York Yankees 2-1 before losing the nightcap 5-4. Oakland and Minnesota were rained out.

California's four-game winning skein seemed in jeopardy until Roger Repoz walloped a two-run homer and Jim Fregosi slammed a three-run shot to wipe out a 5-2 deficit. Jim Campains homered for the Royals.

The Brewers also had an enjoyable weekend after dropping their first three starts in Milwaukee uniforms. But Walton gave them the spark Saturday with a pair of two-run homers that wiped out a 4-0 deficit and the Brewers went on to record their first AL triumph.

"I've just let them run out there and show me what they can do," said skipper Dave Bristol. "You didn't think we'd roll over and play dead, did you?

"Walton started looking good the last 10 or 12 days of spring training and won himself a job. He had a good series. I just hope he can keep it up. "The addition of (Max) Alvis and (Russ) Snyder has helped us both on offense and defense. Alvis is thrilled to death he can play every day and I think he'll repay us."

The hitting bug even got to pitcher George Lauzerique, who drove in four runs, three with a homer, and went the route in the nightcap. Outfielder Steve Hovley helped him with a double and two singles for five RBI Walton connected in the opener.

Washington made the most of six hits—Boston had 15—mainly because Mike Epstein belted a two-run homer and Frank Howard hit two long doubles and drove in two runs. Gerry Moses had a single, double and homer for the Red Sox.

Sam McDowell struck out 10 Yankees and moved past Carl Hubbell into 34th place on the all-time list as Cleveland won its opener. Russ Nagelson provided the winning run with a homer off loser Mel Stottlemyre.

After the Indians tied the second game with two out in the ninth on Danny Cater's bases-loaded, two-run throwing error, the Yankees came back to win it on John Ellis' single and three walks. Mike Paul walked pinch hitter Ron Hansen to force in the winning run. It marked the third time in the game the Yankees scored on a hit and three walks.

Red Holzman Is Coach-Of-Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Red Holzman, who led the New York Knicks to their first Eastern Division title in 16 years, was named Monday the National Basketball Association's coach of the Year.

Holzman, 49, jeceived 17 of the 40 votes from a 40-man committee. Joe Mullaney, first year pro coach of the Los Angeles Lakers, picked up nine votes and Richie Guerin of Atlanta and Larry Costello of Milwaukee got five each. Dick Motta of Chicago had three and Player-Coach Lennie Wilkens of Seattle one.

The Knicks finished four games in front of Milwaukee during the regular season as they had a 60-22 record, their winningest season ever. They also caught the eye of the country by winning 18 straight games, an NBA record.

Holzman, who played basketball at CCNY and then in the pros, coached previusly in the pros with the Milwaukee Hawks from 1953-55 and then the St. Louis Hawks from 1955-57.

He scouted for the Knicks before taking over the coaching job from Dick McGuire early in the 1967-68 season. They turned in a 28-17 record under him that season, then rose to 54-28 before this year's success.

Washington Balks At Merger Rumor

NEW YORK (AP) — There is no agreement on moving the Washington club of the American Basketball Association to the National Basketball Association as part of a merger deal, says Earl Foreman, owner of the Washington franchises.

Foremen told The Associated Press by telephone from Washington Sunday:

"I'm not aware of any agreement reached between the two merger committees and I was there every minute."

Sam Shulman of the NBA's Seattle franchise had announced Saturday that the three-man merger committees, which met in Palm Springs, Calif., had agreed in principle on the following:

The ABA would pay the NBA an $11 million indemnity over 10 years, the Washington franchise would move to another city, and Rick Barry would return to San Francisco of the NBA from Washington.

The agreements will not be proposed to the leagues," Shulman said.

Foreman also said no agreement had been made on Barry returning to San Francisco.

"It was unfortunate that he (Schulman) issued the statement he did," Foreman said. "I don't know why he did."

ABA Commissioner Jack Rolph also said from his Connecticut home that "Foreman has not agreed to leave Washington.

"There seems to be some basic understanding between the committees, but there are some unresolved items that the committees still must iron out," Rolph said.

The Gladstone Fan Club meeting for Tuesday night has been canceled, until further notice.

Lakers Triumph In West Playoff

ATLANTA (AP) — "It seems like all we did in the second half was shoot free throws."

Guard Jerry West had that explanation Sunday as the Los Angeles Lakers, hitting 47 of 60 charity tosses, came from behind to down the Atlanta Hawks 119-115 in the opening game of their best-of-seven series for the National Basketball Association's Western Division championship.

The two teams clash again here Tuesday.

West, who combined with forward Elgin Baylor to lead the Laker assault from the line, pointed to the obvious. Los Angeles canned 35 of 40 charity shots in the second half and, in the process, overcame a 16-point Atlanta lead.

Baylor said the rash of Atlanta fouls was prompted by big Wilt Chamberlain, who only recently returned to the Laker lineup after knee surgery.

"When we pass to Wilt," he said, "everybody starts breaking. There's an inclination for the opposing team to look back momentarily and, when we take off, they've been caught in that split second. The natural move of the man guarding you is to try to slow you down without getting caught by the officials."

Atlanta Coach Richie Guerin disagreed, however, and said the Lakers "didn't get that many fouls off the cutoff situations."

He also was somewhat brusque when asked why his team was nabbed for so many fouls in the second half.

"You're asking that question in the wrong room," he declared. "Go in there where game officials (Mindy) Rudolph and (Manny) Sokol are."

Atlanta, primarily behind the brilliant play of Walt Bellamy, took a 28-25 lead in the first quarter, stretched it to 67-52 at intermission, then ran into trouble after building a 16-point edge midway of the third period.

Los Angeles cut the margin to 93-88 at the end of the third and finally went ahead to stay on two foul shots by Baylor with 2:03 remaining.

West, with 38 points including 18 of 21 free throws, led the Laker attack although Baylor, with 14 of 18 charity tosses, finished with 30. Walt Hazzard was high for Atlanta with 29 points.

Bellamy, who hit 12 points and snagged eight rebounds in his big first quarter, finished with 24 points and 21 rebound. At the same time, he limited Chamebrlain to 16 points and 17 rebounds.

The eventual winner of the Western Division will meet the Eastern Division champ—either Milwaukee or New York—for the NBA title. That series, with New York holding a 1-0 lead, resumes tonight in New York.

Astros Use Long Ball To Whip Atlanta 8-3

By The Associated Press

Houston's Tony Cannon is behaving like a long range missile again and the rest of the Astro arsenal is following suit.

Jim Wynn, the mini-slugger who smacked 33 home runs for Houston last season, hit a pair of tape-measure shots Sunday as the Astros unloaded five homers—A club record—and whipped Atlanta 8-3.

The muscular, 5-foot-9 outfielder sent Phil Niekro pitches rocketing into the Astrodome's fourth and fifth levels, respectively, before Joe Pepitone, Tommy Davis and Doug Rader completed the long ball binge.

Elswhere in the National League, Cincinnati swept a double-header from San Francisco 6-5 and 5-2; Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia 3-1 in 10 innings; Montreal blanked the Chicago Cubs 2-0; Los Angeles zipped San Diego 6-0 and the New York Mets beat St. Louis 6-4.

Wynn unloaded into the domed stadium's purple seats in the first inning and hit his second bases-empty homer even farther in the third, reaching the third row of yellow seats.

"I got a little glimpse of both of them," he said. "When you hit a ball that hard, you've got to look."

"I can't believe that Jim hit two homers off Niekro," said Rader, only other Astro ever to homer into the fifth deck—in an exhibition game this spring. "The only way you can hit home runs off Niekro is if he gets behind and throws you a fast ball.

"I guess one he hit was a fast ball, but I know he also hit one off the knuckleball."

The loss was the second in as many decisions this season for Niekro, the Braves' kuckleball ace who won 23 a year ago.

"That was quite a show today," said Pepitone, who followed Wynn's second homer with his second in two games. Davis homered in the fourth and Rader poled a two-run homer in the eighth.

Johnn Bench delivered the deciding run in each game for the Reds, who prevailed at San Francisco despite a seven-hit spree by Giants' rookie Alan Gallagher.

Tony Perez belted four hits, including a pair of homers, for four RBIs in the opener before Bench's run-scoring single in the ninth gave Cincinnati a 6-3 lead. The run stood up despite a two-run San Francisco Rally—helped by Bench's error—in the bottom ot the ninth.

In the nightcap, Bench's two-run triple in the sixth broke a 1-1 deadlock and the Reds held on behind the pitching of Gary Nolan and Wayne Granger.

Bill Mazeroski, whose eighth inning single drove in Pittsburgh's first run, rapped a tie-breaking two-run homer off Jim Bunning in the 10th. Steve Blass went the distance on the mound for the Pirates.

Montreal won its first game after four setbacks as Bill Stoneman checked the Cubs on three hits and Ron Fairly hit a two-run homer.

The Dodgers, winless in all five previous starts, erupted for four first inning runs, added a pair in the seventh on Bill Grabarkewitz' homer and stymied San Diego on Bill Singer's four-hitter.

New York ace Tom Seaver gave up nine hits, including a Richie Allen homer, and needed late relief help but drove in three Met runs himself with a single and double on the way to his first victory of the new season.

Littler, Casper Tied For Masters Lead; Meet Today

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Gene Littler, a quiet man who already drives three Rolls Royces, faced a jittery 18-hole playoff today against crosstown buddy Billy Casper for a mere coat of green.

For that coat of green, South African Gary Player would have swapped the world.

Casper's 10-foot putt to win it all Sunday whipped out of the 18th hole and the muscular Player—trying to make it a party of three today—three-missed from seven feet and left coatless.

"I'll tee it high and let it fly Monday," promised Casper, who converted quickly from the grim putt-misser of the 18th to a smiling playoff man preparing for another day.

Asked about his tactics for the 2:15 p.m., EST, shootout, Littler mulled so long that Casper answered for him, "He'll tee it low and let it go."

Casper and Littler live 25 miles apart in the San Diego, Calif., area and have played golf together since the last shot of the Korean War. Both are devoted family men who skip many $150,000 tournament to fish with their kids.

Littler's off-course hobby is antique cars. His garage is cluttered with three sparkling, old Rolls Royces and a model T ford. "They're all like me," he said iin the Herb Shriner-type draw. "They can't drive too far."

Both Californians have won the U.S. Open in their glittering golf careers, but neither has captured the Masters and its famed green jacket. Littler won the 1961 Open and Casper was best in 1959 and 1966.

There were many heroes on the chilly, bleak Sunday at Augusta's National Club. But when the spotlight settled on the humbling 18th green, there were only three. Two made it and Player missed by two inches on a 10-foot putt.

Casper's rounds of 72-68-68-71 gave him a nine-under-par 279 total for the week. Littler made it with an incredibly consistent 69-70-70-70. Player's closing 70 left him a strike shy at 280 after a weak Thursday opening of 74 on the rolling 6,980-yard course.

"My father always told me to be humble in victory and smile in defeat," said a dejected Player, who won the Masters in 1961. "Well, fellows, here are my teeth. I'm smiling at you."

Player was obviously emotionally drained when his hope of tying trickled awry of the cup. He had been bugged by whirring news cameras to the point where he asked them to "hold it," but said later, "I have absolutely no excuses."

St. Louis Blues See Red As North Stars Tie Series

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota North Stars expect things to be different this time around when they resume their Stanley Cup playoffs in the National Hockey League at St. Louis Tuesday night.

First, they figure to put on a better showing than when they lost 6-2 and 2-1 to the Blues last week in the start of the best-of-seven series.

Second, the North Stars are braced for the worst from the Blues' fans, who no doubt have heard by now what happened in Minnesota Saturday night and Sunday.

The North Stars, on goaltending by Gump Worsley and Cesare Maniago and scoring from Bill Goldsworthy, evened the playoffs with 4-2 and 4-0 victories.

Capacity crowds of almost 15,000 taunted, jeered and rattled the Blues. They also showered the Blues with beer, eggs and other debris. The North Stars could do no wrong, while the Blues did little right and even tried to climb the boards after their hecklers.

"We had so much pressure on us the last two weeks of the season to get into the playoffs," said Maniago, architct of Sunday's shutout, "the boys relaxed in the first two games. We weren't thinking playofff hockey.

"We'll go down there thinking different this time," said Maniago, who stopped 34 St. Louis shots for his first shutout in 18 career playoff games.

The sixth game will be played Thursday night in Minnesota, and the sevneth game in St. Louis if necessary.

About the crowd, Maniago said: "It's great to have the fans behind you. I guess the fans were giving the blues some of their own treatment."

St. Louis Coach Scotty Bowman, calm about the losses, said the crowd didn't have that much effect on the outcome.

"That first goal by Goldsworthy meant a lot," Bowman said. "It has in every game. We also have to cut down on penalties. We were short 10 minutes during the game and that takes a toll on any team.

"I don't think either team can afford penalties from now one."

Goldsworthy, now with four playoff goals and two assists, tipped in Ray Cullen's centering pass in the second period for the necessary goal. He scored the tie-breaking goal and added an insurance marker Saturday night.

Claude Larose, unassisted 10 seconds after his penalty; Tommy Williams, and Bob Barlow rounded out Minnesota's scoring Sunday.

Beaty Is Against ABA Cage Merger

LOS ANGELES (AP) —Zelmo Beaty, who jumped from the Atlanta Hawks of the National Basketball Association to the rival American Basketball Association, says the younger ABA should refuse to merge with the NBA.

The 6-foot-9 center, who has signed a contract to play next season with the Los Angeles Stars, says the ABA is in perfect position right now and should refuse to merge "because it would be on the NBA's terms."

"I don't think the ABA is concerned with a merger right now," he said. "It's not really necessary. This league has potential. In two or three years it's come a long way. If there is no merger, the leagues will be quite equal in a couple of more years—what with the balance of the college draft."

"In a few years, if there is a merger, it will have to be on the ABA's terms. This league already has one thing the NBA doesn't: there are some ABA teams in cities that are supporting basketball. Those are cities which the NBA took lightly."

Rumors recently said the Stars would be moved to Alburquerque for the 1970-71 season. Beaty says he'll play with the Stars "wherever they are."

"But I think the franchise would do well here next year and better the following year. This is going to be a good team," he said, putting heavy emphasis on the "good."

"If we turn out a good product, the people will come out to see us. Fans like winners and lately we've been winning. We simply have to keep it up next season and the fans are here, waiting to come out."

The Stars have won 17 of their last 21 games even though Beaty is under court-imposed exile. He must sit out this season in order to jump leagues.

Black Hawks Sweep Series From Wings

DETROIT (AP) — Any team that expects to knock Chicago out of the Stanley Cup playoffs had better: 1. kidnap Bobby Hull; 2. kidnap Stan Mikita; 3. kidnap Tony Esposito; or 4. maybe kidnap all the Black Hawks.

The Black Hawks haven't shown any signs of letting up after capturing the East Division title of the National Hockey League last week.

They burst Detroit's Stanley Cup hopes Sunday by skating to their fourth consecutive 4-2 quarterfinal playoff victory. It was the Red Wings first appearance in the playoffs since 1966 but they couldn't continue the pace that brought them there.

Detroit had lost only three of their last 19 regular season games.

"This is the most satisfying moment I've ever had in my life," said Chicago coach Billy Reay after Sunday's triumph. "Nobody rated this team at all at the start of the season but everybody just kept working."

"Mikita and Hull had their best games here," he added. "Bobby had 38 goals this season after missing 14 games as far as I'm concerned this was his best overall season."

"I think it was Mikita's best too."

Chicago will meet the winner of the Boston Bruins - New York Rangers series still underway.

Hull tallied three goals in the four games and had six assists to lead all scorers with nine points.

Mikita, who had a goal and two assists in Sunday's clincher, was next with seven points on three goals and four assists.

Esposito, the sensational rookie goalie who played college hockey at Michigan Tech, played all four games and stymied many Wing shots with tough saves.

But Reay had considerable praise for the less publicized Hawks.

"Guys like (Chico) Maki and (Eric) Nesterenko you never read about," he said in the calm but happy Chicago dressing room. "They do all the dirty work. Of course, you have to have the triggermen too—the guys who get 40 goals."

He added that Esposito should be awarded the Hart Trophy as the league's most valuable player over Boston's superstar defenseman Bobby Orr.

"Why?" Reay asked. "Because we finished first. What does a guy have to do to win it. Too many guys are measured by statistics sheets by the press, radio and TV."

Reay said his prime strategy for stopping Detroit in the series was to put Pit Martin and Nesterenko against the Wings' Garry Unger and Frank Mahovlich.

"I thought certain we'd win it if we stopped them," Reay said.

Unger, who scored 42 goals this season, was held to one assist in the playoffs. Mahovlich, who has been bothered by a sore knee, failed to get a point.

"We weren't chased out of any building in all four games," said Wings general manager-coach Sid Abel. "They just put the puck in the net more times."

"I don't want to take anything away from Chicago," he added. "But we did have some injuries."

Veteran superstar Gordie Howe, who scored two playoff goals, was bothered by a bad cold as was Bruce MacGregor. Besides Mahovlich's knee ailment, other Wings hampered were Dale Rolfe (elbow) nad Gary Gergman (foot).

Jim Pappin put Chicago ahead 1-0 Sunday with a goal at 4:32 of the first period on the Hawks first shot of the game. Howe tied it up five minutes later on a power play, then Mikita fired a goal past Detroit goalie Roger Croxier at 12:14 to make the score 2-1.

Dennis Hull's goal at 4:23 of the second period was countered by a Wing goal by Nick Libett at 14:16 on another power play. Maki completed the scoring and iced the victory with a tally at 11:26 of the final period that got past Roy Edwards who replaced Crozier late in the second period.

Whoever Chicago meets in the semifinal "we'll be ready for them," said Bobby Hull.

Reay said that baring injuries the Black Hawks had an excellent chance to win it all. But he smiled as he refered to the Boston-New York game Saturday which resulted in a playoff record for penalty minutes: "After looking at that game last night on TV I'd like to stay home."

MANISTIQUE

A BUILDING SURVEY of the downtown business district, the first step in Manistique's proposed urban renewal project, got underway last week. Two industrial engineers visited all buildings to evaluate their condition — both interiors and exteriors. Al Posner, left, and James H. Jones of Ellis Naeyaert Associates compare notes after checking a structure. (Daily Press Photo)

Ceremonies Set For Councilmen

Councilmen-elect Thor Reque and Douglas Rose will be formally seated on the Manistique City Council in ceremonies preceding tonight's regular meeting. They will take the oath of office immediately following an official report certifying election results by the County Board of Canvassers.

Rose and Reque won election to four-year terms on the Council in the Apr. 6 city election. Reque will begin his second term while Rose is starting his first term.

A Mayor and Mayor Pro-tem will be elected following the official seating of the two councilmen. Leo DeMars is currently completing a two-year term as Mayor of the city.

Council's work agenda includes bid tabulation for the new Dept. of Public Works storage building and a chip spreader, action on requests from the Yacht Club for lease renewal and the U.S. Forest Service for dumping privileges at the city dump.

Reports and communications will also be heard from City Manager Robert Noe.

Council meets at 7:30 in council chambers of the new City Hall.

Head Start Kids Visit Fire Unit

Hiawatha Head Start children recently visited the Public Safety Fire Department and were treated to a tour by Officer Joseph Davis. High point of the visit came when the children were allowed to slide down the fire pole and sit in a fire truck.

The 15 visitors were accompanied by their teachers, Mrs. Otmer Schuster and Mrs. Francis Hyland.

The Hiawatha and Lutheran Schools Head Start Parents Organization are planning a joint potluck supper Apr. 22 at the Zion Lutheran Church. All Head Start parents, children and other interested persons are invited to attend the 6 o'clock supper.

Rev. and Mrs. David Barkley and Mrs. Marg Chandanais recently attended a Policy Advisory Committee meeting in Escanaba. Mrs. Chandanais reported on a Harrison meeting of the newly-organized Federation of Head Start Parents. The Federation meets May 2 in Detroit to elect officers.

Mrs. Chandanais, Hiawatha Parents chairman, asks that anyone wishing to donate articles for a rummage sale, sponsored by her group, call 341-6059 or drop off donations at 220 N. Third St.

Obituary

MICHAEL J. MAGNUSSON

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. from the Beaulieu Funeral Home in Newberry for Michael James Magnusson, 17, Newberry, who was killed in an automobile accident early Saturday morning on old M-117 in Mackinac County, about 15 miles south of Newberry.

The youth, who was driving the car when it went out of control, is a former Germfask resident. His brother Gary was injured in the mishap as well as two other Newberry youths.

Michael was born Feb. 28, 1953 in Manistique, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Magnusson. The family lived in Germfask until three months ago when they moved to Newberry. Michael attended the Germfask School and the Manistique High School. He was enrolled as a junior in the Newberry High School.

Survivors include his parents; six brothers, Gary and Paul, Germfask; Bruce, Larry, Tim and Patrick, Newberry; one sister, Bonnie; and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harris, Germfask.

Friends may call at the Beaulieu Funeral Home in Newberry this afternoon and evening to pay their respects.

Births

ZELLER — Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zeller, Germfask, are the parents of a son, weighing eleven pounds and eight and one-half ounces, born Friday, April 10, at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The mother is the former Rose Trombly.

Inland Reports Two Promotions

Promotions of two long-time Inland employes are being announced by John W. Moffat, vice president and general manager of the Gulliver plant.

William J. Hubble, Rte. 1, will advance to Mill Shift Foreman on Apr. 16. Hubble has worked for Inland since May 20, 1952 in various hourly mill jobs and as hourly relief foreman in recent years.

Clarence W. Irie, 502 Alger Ave., will become dispatcher on May 1. Irie began working at Inland on July 22, 1941 and has been locomotive engineer for the past 19 years.

Activity is increasing at the Gulliver plant with operations scheduled to begin today at the dolomite quarry. All but 28 men laid-off have been recalled to work and they are expected to return to work this week.

The first blast of the 1970 season was set off Apr. 1 in the high-calcium quarry. The mill began operating Apr. 6 when the first load of stone was dumped into the primary crusher and the shipping season got underway Apr. 7 with the arrival of the first boat of the season: the Nicolet.

The forecast for the 1970 season is that tonnages will be up somewhat from 1969.

Church Events

National Catholic Society Of Foresters

Susan Rodman will be installed as president of Manistique Court 992 during the regular meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Parish Center. A social hour and refreshments will follow the installation of officers and the meeting.

The annual Forester dinner party for husbands and guests will be held Saturday, Apr. 18 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. A social hour at 6:30 will be followed by a potluck supper.

Town Meeting Of Air TV Schedule Listed

Manistique residents may watch the third T.V. "Town Meeting of the Air" on Tuesday and Wednesday, Apr. 21-22, over Educational Television Channel 3, Marquette. The program may be viewed at 8 p.m. on the 21st and at 11:30 a.m. 3 and 8:30 p.m. on the 22ud.

"Pure water and clean air from the viewpoint of the individual citizen" is the topic to be discussed during the television program.

The additional broadcasts are being planned so that the largest possible number of citizens and young people will be able to watch the program.

Television camera crews are now at work photographing examples of problems which exist in the U.P. in regard to air and water purity. Featured on the program will be David Dennis, assistant director, Enforcement Division of Michigan Water Resources Commission, and Dr. Howard Tanner, director of Division of Natural Resources at Michigan State University.

Interviews with various U.P. authorities on environment and students at both Northern Michigan University and Michigan Technological University will be seen.

Viewers will be able to telephone their questions, ideas and concerns on the subject during the program.

Locally, a citizen-panel will meet at 8 p.m. Apr. 22 in the high school auditorium and, after viewing the 8 p.m. rebroadcast program, will answer questions from the audience.

The panel will include Boyd Briggs, County Sanitarian; Robert Noe, City Manager; Ed Doyle, Disposal Plant Superintendent; Frank Hoholik, President, Manistique Pulp and Paper Company; Glenn Bignall, MHS biology teacher; Don Hoholik, co-owner, Hoholik Plumbing Company; Erwin Simi, District Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service; and David Rood, Editor, Manistique Pioneer-Tribune.

Town Meeting local co-chairmen Dick Bonifas and Howard Handorf said they hoped all citizens who are interested in combating pollution will attend the panel discussion so that some of their questions may be answered. Sportsmen are particularly urged to attend so they might be informed on changes currently in the planning stages.

"We cannot effectively point our fingers at industry, city disposal plants, etc., if we do not clean up our own back yard first," Bonifas and Handorf said.

Briefly Told

Tuesday's hot lunch menu at the Manistique Area Schools will feature chili, homemade pan rolls, cheese slices and fruit.

Mrs. Donald Messier is a patient at St. Mary's Hospital, Lake St., Milwaukee, and may be addressed care of room 331-2.

The Community School Advisory Board meets tomorrow for a 12 o'clock luncheon-meeting in room 103 of the high school.

Michigan State Police ticketed Wayne Spaulding, 842 Garden Ave., and David Robertson, Wurtsmith AFB, Osceoda, speeding; Richard Sobieski, Cooks, expired chauffeur's license, on Friday. Donald Moore, Virginia, Minn., reported to troopers Friday that on Apr. 8 his automobile struck and killed a deer on U.S. 2, Garfield Township, Mackinac County.

Hospital

Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Friday were Rose Zellar, Sheila Burton and Judith Osterhout.

Discharged were Demaris Jewett, Janice Engelhart, Muriel Cookson, Jacqueline Casey and Ernest Popour.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norberg Jr. of St. Joseph have returned after visiting with his mother, Mrs. Hazel Johnson, 119 Arbutus Ave.

The earliest written record of cheese dates back to 4,000 B. C. The first cheese factory in this country was built over a century ago.

Ohio Governor Cuts Off Fishing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes ordered a halt Sunday to all commercial fishing in Lake Erie and called on Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel for a complete investigation of mercury pollution in the lake.

Friday, Michigan Gov. William Milliken took action to ban sport fishing in Lake St. Clair and the St. Clair River because of mercury pollution. The province of Ontario has banned sports and commercial fishing in St. Clair waters and the Detroit River and has embargoed sale or export of Lake Erie catches.

Rhodes said he would permit sport fishing to continue in Lake Erie, but cautioned against eating any of the catch until the pollution investigation is completed.

In a telegram to Hickel, Rhodes said Lake Erie is an international body of water and "federal help will be needed to make a thorough check of mercury pollution and the sources thereof."

Rhodes said Ohio's departments of natural resources and agriculture would launch an immediate investigation to determine if any of the mercury compounds in Lake Erie are coming from Ohio sources.

"If we discover that any of the mercury is coming into the lake from Ohio, we will shut down the source immediately," Rhodes said.

Rhodes said tests have indicated the presence of mercury in various amounts in fish caught in Ohio Waters. The amount in some fish from Lake Erie was bove the .5 parts per million maximum allowed by the federal Food and Drug Administration

Rhodes ordered any fish in intrastate commerce seized of they contain more than .5 parts per million.

Robbery Victim

CHICAGO (AP) — A Detroit man was shot and killed Saturday night during a robbery of a lounge on Chicago's South Side. Police identified the dead man as Hobart Scott, 50, who was registered in a nearby hotel.

Two gunmen lined eight customers in the lounge against the wall, police said, and robbed them of $3,000. During the incident one of the men shot Scott in the chest.

Levels Of Mercury Reportedly High In Lake Fish Test

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A consumer specialist for the U.S Food and Drug Administration says unacceptable levels of mercury have been found during tests of fish taken from Lake St. Clair.

Diane Place said the latest tests by FDA showed a northern pike from Lake St. Clair contained .8 parts per million of mercury while the maximum permitted by FDA in interstate commerce is .5 parts per million.

A white bass from a Canadian shipment contained .55 parts per million of mercury. She said the FDA will stop that shipment at the U.S.-Canadian border and make further tests.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture is testing fish samples from the St. Clair River and Lake Huron.

Sarnia Promises Pollution Action

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — The chairman of the newly - formed Sarnia, pollution probe, James Higgins, promises action on pollution problems in the area.

At the Sarnia and District Labor Council pollution conference Saturday, Higgins said it is time for something more definite to be done about the problem, rather than just monitoring pollutants.

Higgins said the Lambton Industrial Society has been monitoring pollution in the area for a number of years, but nothing has been accomplished.

Duncan Longwell, a former process worker at Polymer Corp. in Sarnia, told the pollution conference that dumping of caustics into the St. Clair River has been a common practice of industry in the area.

He said that on a number of occasions when the Ontario Water Resources Commission was conducting pollution surveys of the river, Polymer would hold off dumping caustics until late at night.

H. Mason Jones of the Industrial Society denied Longwell's statement. He said industry does not know when the commission's surveys are being taken.

THIS SALE MUST END SAT., APRIL 18TH

Add up to $400.00-A-MONTH to your health protection for only 25¢

(TO ENROLL ENTIRE FAMILY FIRST MONTH)

ACT NOW — YOU MUST MAIL APPLICATION FORM BELOW BY MIDNIGHT, THURS., APRIL 23, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

Here are the questions you'd normally ask your insurance man. But we answered them instead . . . so you would be able to insure yourself, right from this page. (You'll be amazed how much it saves you.)

1 When can I collect up to $400.00 A MONTH?

Every time you are confined to the hospital you collect $400.00 a month even for life, if necessary. Not just once, but for every new confinement! And you collect cash not just for yourself but for every Covered Member of your family — including spouse and children!

2 How can I collect extra cash—if I'm 65 or over?

If you are 65 or over, we pay you $200.00-a-month extra cash for the first 3 months and $400.00 monthly while continuously hospitalized afterwards, in addition to Medicare benefits. This is extra. You collect for each illness or injury—each time you go to the hospital.

3 When do I collect up to $2,000.00 extra cash for accidents?

We pay you $1,000.00 extra cash for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye, and $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes—even if it happens as long as 90 days after the accident. This is all extra money. You collect it on top of any other benefits we pay you. Not just for yourself but for every Covered Member of your family!

4 What if I am hospitalized by the same illness—again?

Don't worry. You still collect $400.00 a month and if you've already resumed full normal activities for just 90 days — we call it a "new confinement". Which means you can collect all over again, even for life, if necessary.

5 If I already have some health insurance—will you pay me anyway?

Of course! Never mind what you collect from Blue Cross, Blue Shield, or Workmen's Compensation, or any insurance you may have with other companies. (Even for the same illness!) We still pay you $400.00-a-month extra cash income. So if other insurance has taken care of some—or even all—of your medical bills . . . you still have that extra cash income from National Home.

6 Why do I need this Plan in addition to other hospital and health insurance?

While hospital costs have more than doubled in recent years, few people have doubled their insurance. If your other hospitalization policies are more than two years old, you have already lost ⅓ of the benefits DUE TO SKYROCKETING MEDICAL COSTS!

7 Do you pay me cash when my children go to the hospital?

Yes! And not just once but every time they are hospitalized, too! When you have Coverage for Children you receive $240.00-a-month extra cash for each dependent child between the ages of 1 month through 18 years.

8 Will future children be protected, too?

They surely will! And at no extra cost. When you have Coverage for Children (with or without Maternity Benefits), newborn children are automatically covered as soon as they are one month old.

9 Will you pay me $400.00-a-month cash—even for maternity care?

Yes, even when pregnancy requires hospitalization. Many health plans DON'T cover maternity expense. But under this Plan with Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits, you collect $400.00-a-month for each pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents must be enrolled in this Plan for the entire pregnancy.)

10 Does this Plan pay for a Registered Nurse at home?

Yes, in addition to the $400.00-a-month cash we send you for your hospital stay, we pay you an extra $400.00 a month if the doctor has you employ a full-time Registered Nurse to take care of you at home.

How comforting it is to know that —after your stay in the hospital, if you've been there five days or more— you can return home to recuperate and yet not be a burden to your loved ones. Yes, if your doctor has you employ a full-time Registered Nurse within 5 days after you come home, we'll pay you $400.00 a month. And your benefits continue for the same number of days you were hospitalized —up to 12 full months.

11 Are there times I might collect as much as $1,600.00 A MONTH?

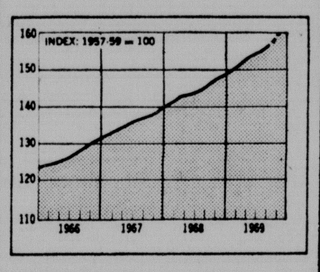

Yes, there are! Remember, we pay cash not just for you but for every Covered Member of your family. So if you or your spouse are hospitalized more than once . . . or even both of you more than once . . . or if a child gets sick or has an accident — you could end up collecting $10,000.00 or more! And that's not the whole story. This National Health Plan gives policyowners an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT. If you and your covered spouse are in an accident and both of you have to go to the hospital at the same time, National Home pays double cash amounts. You collect not $400.00 but $800.00 a month. Your spouse collects not $400.00 but $800.00 a month. That's $1,600.00 a month (when under age 65). Yes, $1,600.00 you can count on month after month—for as long as both of you remain in the hospital . . . even for life, if necessary.

12 Can I spend my cash benefits any way I please?

Certainly! You can even put them in the bank to replace savings spent while you were laid up in the hospital without income. It's your money — and all the cash comes direct to you, not to the doctor or hospital. (Unless, of course, you ask us to.)

Medical Costs Skyrocketing!

MEDICAL CARE COSTS rose in September, 1969, to 157.6% of the 1957-59 average from 156.8% a month earlier. These costs are components of the Government consumer price index.

13 What do others have to say about National Home?

"Received your check for $880.00. I appreciate having the money sent directly to me so I could decide how to use it."

NICHOLAS CRISTL, Green Bay, Wisc.

"It was wonderful to receive your check for $555.00. I'm very pleased. It paid real well."

MRS. BESSIE GEISINGER, Kansas City, Mo.

"Everyone should have your coverage. I know I wouldn't be without it."

WALTER TUCKER, Fayetteville, N.C.

14 Can I stop paying premiums during an extra long hospitalization—yet still remain fully covered?

Should you—the person to whom the basic Policy is issued—be hospitalized for 8 consecutive weeks or more, this National Health Plan will pay all premiums that come due for you and all Covered Members of your family while you are confined to the hospital beyond the initial 8-week period. And your protection continues just the same as if you were paying the premiums yourself.

15 How can you give me so much—for so little?

Because you deal direct with the company—direct with National Home itself! No middleman needed! Costly "processing charges" are eliminated. So is "red tape". You handle each simple step yourself — in your own home . . . in your own good time . . . by making up your own mind. And of course, dealing by mail is confidential. No one need know your personal affairs — except you!

16 Doesn't enrolling by mail take away the "personal" touch?

Certainly not! We give you more personal service, not less. But instead of getting it when you sign up—YOU GET IT WHEN YOU HAVE A CLAIM! That's where it really means something. And that's where National Home gives you plenty of service.

17 All right, now that you mention it—how do I go about submitting a claim?

As a National Home policyowner, you're entitled to contact FAST CLAIM HEADQUARTERS direct. No frantic attempts to locate your broker. No anxious waiting. If you have a claim for illness or injury, don't hesitate—CONTACT US DIRECT! Even if you only have a question! Don't worry about "inconveniencing" or "annoying" anyone. WE ARE ALWAYS READY AND HAPPY GIVE YOU THE PROMPT, COURTEOUS AND DIRECT ATTENTION YOU ARE ENTITLED TO AS OUR POLICYOWNER!

18 How else do you save me money by cutting "red tape"?

No lengthy, complicated applications or embarrassing personal "investigations"! The short Application Form on this page tells us all we need to know. Notice it doesn't ask for a medical examination. Or set an age limit. (As long as you have not been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance for reasons of health, we don't care if you're over 100!) Most important, we enroll many persons at the same time. Not one Policy at a time, the old-fashioned way, but thousands at once — using all the economies of mass printing and latest computer techniques. That's how we can give you so much for only 25¢.

19 Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my Policy cover?

Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your Policy pays during hospital confinement for EVERYTHING except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your Policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for two years. Everything else is definitely covered. The last item, by the way, is a real help if you already have a health problem. It means that even if you were sick before you took out this Policy—you will be covered for any recurrences of that condition after the Policy has been in effect for only two years.

20 If I'm hospitalized less than a month—do you still pay cash benefits?

Of course we do! Regardless of whether you are in the hospital for as little as one day—or as long as a week, month, year or more — even for life, if necessary.

21 Does this Plan pay in any hospital?

You are covered for care in the hospital of your choice except, of course, a U.S. Government hospital or a nursing or convalescent facility.

22 When do I start collecting $400.00-a-month tax-free cash?

You start collecting $400.00 a month TAX-FREE CASH as soon as you enter the hospital. There is no "waiting period."

23 Will my protection be cancelled for any reason?

No—positively not! Only you can cancel! This National Health Plan is GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE! That means regardless of how much or how often you collect . . . or how old you become . . . we can never cancel your valuable protection.

24 Why do I need this $400.00-a-month cash protection?

Because U.S. Government figures show that in the past few years alone . . . medical costs have DOUBLED! Yet few people have anywhere near enough protection to meet these soaring doctor and hospital bills. How much would a long hospital stay cost you? Or a loved one? How would you ever pay for costly X-rays, doctor bills, medicines and drugs not covered by your present insurance? Would you be able to afford the quiet and dignity of a private room and a private nurse? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones. Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? And who would pay for rent, food, clothing and household expenses—all the non-medical bills that keep coming in at home even though you are in the hospital without an income? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet runaway hospital and medical costs. And no one knows whose turn it will be next—yours or mine. But we both know that once the doctor says you have to enter the hospital, it is too late to buy coverage at any price. That's why this protection was designed to give you the "extra help" you need — when you need it.

25 When may I enroll in this National Health Plan?

The question is not "when may" but "when must?" YOU ABSOLUTELY MUST ENROLL BY THE DATE SHOWN ON THE APPLICATION FORM ON THIS PAGE. YOUR 25¢ AND COMPLETED FORM MUST BE POSTMARKED NO LATER THAN THAT DATE OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED.

26 When will my Policy arrive?

Right away! We mail your Policy as soon as we accept your Application Form and 25¢. Examine it in the privacy of your own home. It's a very short document and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover — THERE IS NO "FINE PRINT"! If you wish, show it to someone you trust — perhaps your lawyer, accountant or banker. Better still, show it to your own insurance man—even though he may be working for another insurance company. If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests in mind. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere — at any price.

27 What if I change my mind—can I get my money back?

You certainly can! Even after you mail your Application Form . . . even after you examine your Policy in your own home and talk it over with anyone you wish . . . even after all this, you are still free to change your mind. Simply return the Policy within 15 days after you receive it, and your quarter will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever. Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind, you will be protected by $400.00-a-month extra cash benefits from the Effective Date on the Policy —even if you finally decide to return the Policy and get your quarter back.

But we don't think you'll want your quarter back. We think, instead, you'll want to continue your valuable protection at National Home's amazing low rates.

28 How much does this protection cost after the first month?

The following rate chart shows you how little it costs, after the first month, to protect yourself, your spouse and any adult dependent. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue you only one policy of this type. Each adult, 16 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium per Adult
16-44	only $3.45
45-49	only $3.95
50-54	only $4.45
55-74	only $4.95
75-79	only $5.95
80 and over	only $6.95

Only $1.90 more per month covers all your dependent, unmarried children . . . from the age of 1 month through 18 years. And then, if you wish, just add 95¢ monthly to that, and you're completely covered for Maternity Benefits, too! Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost!

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state.

29 How do I enroll?

If what you have read on this page makes good honest sense to you . . . if you find yourself agreeing with thousands of other Americans who welcome this sensible way to save money by "insuring themselves"—then by all means act on your own good instincts and mail the Application Form with 25¢ now! Please act without delay. NO SALESMAN WILL CALL. Please mail it NOW — because once accident or illness strikes—it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any price. Remember, the sooner you mail your Form, the sooner your protection will start. So act today—before anything unexpected happens.
